GAME BASICS

Tales of Symphonia is a Role-Playing Game (RPG) in which you control a party of characters on a quest to save the world from utter annihilation. During the game you must explore towns, dungeons, and field areas to locate useful items and equipment to improve the combat abilities of the characters. Speak to key characters as well as average citizens to learn clues concerning the state of the world and the objectives that must be accomplished. Winning battles against enemies and monsters awards Experience Points to every party member, enabling growth and improvement. The more battles won, the easier combat becomes. As events unfold, the characters become drawn into a plot that develops and intensifies. Eventually, the party must battle a final enemy to save the world and win the game. This is only a brief summary to give you some notion of the long journey that awaits you.

This chapter is designed to introduce you to the basic functions and gameplay elements in Tales of Symphonia. For details on topics such as Techs, EX Skills, Compound Unison Attacks or Cooking, refer to the appropriate chapters for more detailed explanations.

Menu Controls

L Button/R Button

Switch to next party character in Tech, EX Skill, Status or Equip screen.
Switch to the next item type in Item screen.

START/PAUSE

Switch between HP/TP display and Status display for all characters.
Toggle between Item Stats and Item Description when viewing items.

Control Stick/ +Control Pad

Move the cursor to highlight the desired menu function.

C Stick

Scroll the cursor down an entire page of entries or commands.
View the Status 2 screen in the Status Menu.

Y Button

Context-sensitive functions such as change party order when character is highlighted, toggle Auto Tech usage, sort equipment by parameter or alphabet, etc. Check each menu screen for specifics.

X Button

Context-sensitive functions such as remove Tech from shortcut control, remove equipped armor or accessory, etc. Check each menu screen for specifics.

A Button

Confirm choice or action where the cursor appears.

B Button

Cancel action or return to the previous menu screen. Exit menu.

Changing Onscreen Character

While viewing the Main Menu, scroll the cursor down until it points to one of the characters in the lower section of the menu. Select the character desired to appear onscreen as the representative of the party's position, and press the A Button to confirm your choice. The onscreen character flag appears beside the character.

ONSCREEN CHARACTER IS IMPORTANT

SOMETIMES NPCs REACT DIFFERENTLY WHEN APPROACHED BY AN ONSCREEN CHARACTER OTHER THAN LLOYD. FOR INSTANCE, CHANGE THE ONSCREEN TO COLETTE AND INTERACT WITH THE DOGS IN ANY TOWN OR POPULATED AREA. COLETTE GIVES EVERY DOG A NAME, AND EVENTUALLY GAINS A BONUS TITLE. WHEN ZELOS IS THE ONSCREEN CHARACTER, SOMETIMES HE CAN CONVINCE WOMEN INTO GIVING HIM MONEY OR ITEMS WHEN HIS "PERSONAL" EX SKILL IS EQUIPPED. THE ONSCREEN CHARACTER DOES NOT ALWAYS HAVE TO BE LLOYD!

Changing Party Order

While viewing the Main Menu, scroll down until any one of the party members is selected. Press the Y Button to select the character to move. The selected character's face appears in the top bar. Then select another character in the lineup to change places with.

Changing Combat Characters

The character at the top of the party order in the Main Menu can be controlled during battles using the controller plugged into controller socket 1 on the console. Additional players can control the second, third, and fourth characters in the party by plugging controllers into the corresponding sockets. Between battles, try not to fight over who controls the onscreen character or when to open the menu. Agree as a team, since that is the only way to win!

Using Items

Items can be used during combat to recover HP and TP, and to cure Status Effects. Items can also be used at any time between battles by opening the Items screen of the Main Menu. Items are divided into nine categories: New, Tools, Weapons, Armor (Body, then Head, then Arm), Accessories, Food and Key Items. Press the L or R Buttons to change categories, or move the cursor to the icons in the upper right corner of the menu and select a category.

Most items in the Tools category can be used at any time. Although characters regain small amounts of TP and have the opportunity to Cook after every battle, it may not be enough to raise the character out of danger status. Use items between battles so as to face each new crew of enemies with healthy characters.

New Items

Whenever a new item is obtained, the best way to determine its use is to open the Items screen and scroll to the "New" category. The most recent acquisitions are listed on this screen. All items in the "New" category appear in green lettering until they are used, equipped or until they drop out of the "New" category as time elapses.

New items can be used or equipped immediately. For instance, after acquiring a piece of armor, select it in the "New" screen and press the A Button. Choose a character from the subsequent pop-up screen to equip the armor piece. After finding a gel or bottle item, select it in the New screen and choose a character from the subsequent popup menu to experience the benefits of the item. The New screen is an extremely handy way to equip new gear quickly and use recently acquired tools as needed.

Key Items

The Key Items category contains items that unlock doors or allow the heroes to enter previously restricted areas. Highlight keys and objects with the cursor to view descriptive information that sometimes indicates usage.

Books acquired by the characters are also kept in this category. To view the contents of a book, select it with the cursor and press the A Button. The Collector's Book contains lists of every item obtained, and shows what percentage of the total items per category have been found. When you reach 100% in all categories, the whole game has been experienced!

RAINE'S MAGIC LENS

THE FULL ENTRY FOR A MONSTER CAN ONLY BE OBTAINED IF RAINE USES THE MAGIC LENS. ALL OTHER CHARACTERS CAN ONLY LEARN THE STATS FOR THE MONSTER (HP, TP, EXP, GALD, ETC.). ONLY RAINE CAN ADD THE LOCATION, AA, WEAKNESS AND STRENGTH INFO TO THE MONSTER LIST ENTRY.

Another example is the Monster List, which displays all the monsters encountered. Statistics for monsters are listed if a Magic Lens item is used on the enemy during combat. Fill your Monster List by fighting monsters in all areas of the field map and on all terrain types, including grass, desert, beaches, forests, roads and wastelands.

Maps of Sylvarant and Tethe'alla are also collected in the Key Items category. Choose a map to view the world and a list of the locations visited within each town, and a list of the goods on sale there.

Equipping Characters

There are two ways to equip characters with new and better equipment through the Main Menu. The best method is to open the Equip screen to view all the possible equipment for a character. Choose an equipment category, such as Weapon, Armor or Accessory, and then highlight each piece in the right column. Changes to the character's status are indicated by red or green highlighting of the statistic. Red numbers indicate a decrease in status, and green numbers indicate a rise in status. A brief description of the highlighted item is displayed in the bottom bar of the screen. Press START/PAUSE to show the equipment's statistics. Icons next to an affected statistic indicate elemental properties of equipment.

The Items screen can also be used to equip characters. Scroll to the appropriate category and choose the piece of equipment. Press START/PAUSE to view the base statistics of the gear. Press the A Button to bring up the menu of the characters in your party. Then select a character from the menu and press the A Button to change their equipment. Equipment for characters can also be changed during battle by opening the Battle Menu, as detailed below.

Changing Titles

As characters progress through the story events of the game, certain dialog situations arise in which a person is granted a new title. Titles can be equipped on characters to influence how the character develops every time a new level is reached. To change titles, open the Status screen and highlight the title below the character's name with the cursor. Press the A Button to view a list of available titles. Highlight each title with the cursor, and check the parameters in the lower bar to see which statistics are affected. Green statistics rise even higher the next time the character levels up, and red statistics indicate a smaller growth. Complete lists of titles for all the characters are contained in the Characters & Titles chapter.

Synopsis

Open the Synopsis screen to read transcripts of events that occurred previously in your game. If you have not played the game for several days, use the Synopsis to remember what has transpired and what must be accomplished next.

Strategy

When playing the game alone or with any characters that are controlled by the CPU, strategy settings are of tantamount importance. By the default strategy settings, all CPU characters attack whichever enemy they want whenever they want, and they perform Techs whether the situation warrants them or not. Unless strategies are changed, the CPU characters tend to exhaust themselves in every battle. By the time a boss fight occurs, the characters have nothing left to fight with.

There are three types of strategies: Action, Skill/Magic, and Position. These strategies are used to decide how CPU controlled characters behave during battle. Each character employs an AI attack pattern that is based on their in-game personality, as revealed through the dialog. That pattern is modified based on the strategies that are set.

Change the Action strategy of a CPU controlled character to affect how he or she targets enemies. For instance, if you keep finding yourself fighting the enemies all alone on the frontlines, consequently taking all the hits, then be sure to set at least one other character to "Attack Same." Another great strategy is to set "Protect Friend" on at least one character. This way, the hero with the lowest HP gets some much-needed assistance against whichever enemy(s) he or she is fighting.

The Skill/Magic strategies control how often characters set on Aiko to expend Tech Points. During a common battle against frequently encountered field monsters, the CPU controlled party members do not need to use Techs as often. Set all characters to "Keep Reserve" or "Retain" to prevent them from using up all their TP. In tough battles against boss monsters and other unique enemies, all characters should be using Techs as much as possible. Set the CPU controlled characters to "Use Skills Freely" or "At Once", and they will unleash chaos in the battle. It's also a good idea to set characters with healing spells to "Heal" for added protection.

Position strategies determine each character's starting place on the field and also mandate how far the person will travel on the battlefield to pursue a foe. As you change the Position strategy of the character, press the B Button to cancel out of the setting menu and check the row diagram in the lower box. The frontline is the line on the right, and the rear is the line on the left. Try to position the four combat party members with somewhat equal distribution. If all the characters are on the frontline at the start of combat, all will most likely take damage. If all characters are in the rear guard, the enemies will seem out of reach when battle begins.

Strategies can be set for characters prior to combat, but they can even be changed in the heat of battle. While fighting, press the Y Button to open the Combat Menu and select the "Strat" option to open the Strategy screen.

Creating Orders

Enter the Strategy screen and immediately press the X Button to enter the Orders setting screen. Orders can be issued during combat by pressing the +Control Pad of the controller up, down, left or right. When an Order is issued, the strategies of all characters change instantly.

This is a very useful feature during tough boss fights, for instance. When confronting powerful enemies, there are times when you want the CPU controlled characters to attack with everything they have. Press the +Control Pad right to issue the "All Out" order. However, as characters start running low on TP, the party should withdraw slightly. Press the +Control Pad up to issue the "Guard" order, so that Orange Gels can be administered more easily. To cancel orders, press the +Control Pad down.

Orders can be customized to change the way each individual party member behaves, to suit a variety of situations. In the Orders setting screen, choose one of the three orders, rename it if you wish, and set the strategies of each character. The default orders actually work pretty well in most situations. However, consider creating a custom order that commands spell casters to heal the party only. Set Raine or Kratos to Protect Friend, Heal, and L-Range Magic to force them to heal the party any time HP drops below max. This order proved invaluable against the most powerful boss enemies of the game.

RECORDING PROGRESS

Insert a Memory Card into either slot on the console to record your progress. The game can be saved any time while navigating the field map. Simply press the Y Button to open the Main Menu, choose the System option, and select "Save".

While exploring towns and dungeons, the game can only be saved at a Memory Circle. Look for glowing blue mystic symbols drawn on the ground. While standing in a circle, press the A Button to open the save menu, or enter the Main Menu and use the System option.

Some Memory Circles are inactive, or "sealed". A tool called a Memory Gem is required to unseal the Memory Circle before it can be used. Certain enemies in each dungeon drop a Memory Gem when defeated. Either defeat all the enemies in the dungeon once, or refer to the Walkthrough chapter to learn the locations of enemies bearing Memory Gems.

AREA EXPLORATION

When exploring towns, temples, caves and enclosed wilderness areas, a party is exploring an "area" or a "map". The control scheme is slightly different than when exploring the field map.

Test For the Chosen

Town & Dungeon Controls

Y Button

Open the Main Menu.

Control Stick

Moves the character onscreen in the direction relative to the direction the stick is held. Move the Control Stick slightly to walk, or move it all the way to the edge to run.

+Control Pad

While standing still, press the +Control Pad left or right to rotate the character 45°. This function is very useful for aiming shots with the Sorcerer's Ring.

B Button

Advance or cancel dialog, without accidentally making a choice.

Z Button

When a dialog skit title appears onscreen, press the Z Button to watch the skit. (Press START/PAUSE to end the skit time before it's over.)

X Button

Once the Sorcerer's Ring is obtained, press this button to use it. The default function is to fire a small blast with a range of three tiles in front of the character. The function changes depending upon the context of the area.

A Button

Perform a context-sensitive action. The function appears in the lower part of the screen. In general, the A Button is used to interact with NPCs and characters, examine miscellaneous furniture and equipment, open doors and chests, advance or cancel dialog choices, and jump over obstacles across ledges.

Treasure Chests

The main objects to watch for while exploring towns, dungeons and enclosed wilderness areas are the yellow treasure chests. Chests contain tools, key items and equipment for the characters. Chests are sometimes visibly placed out in the open. For this reason, the Walkthrough in this book was not written to lead you by the hand to a chest you can plainly see. However, sometimes chests are hidden behind furniture, walls, objects or debris with the intention of partially obscuring them from sight. The only way to find every treasure chest in every area is to refer to the Items lists included in the Walkthrough. Try not to leave an area until you have found all the items in the list.

Enemies

Another major feature of dungeons and wilderness areas are enemies. The locations of enemies are marked onscreen with generic monster characters. The monster character depicts the type and size of the enemy party. If the onscreen character and the enemy come in physical contact, battle begins. If the party wins the battle, the enemy character is removed from the screen. A short period of invulnerability occurs directly after a battle, during which time contact with another enemy has no effect. However, if the party escapes from battle before all the enemies are defeated, the monster marker remains onscreen when the party returns to the map.

onscreen character draws close enough, enemies may change course and speed to pursue. However, if the onscreen character moves far enough away from the enemy marker, it might return to its normal speed and patrol pattern.

Onscreen enemies can be temporarily frozen and rendered harmless by shooting them with the Sorcerer's Ring. However, if the function of the Sorcerer's Ring is changed, the new function may not have any effect upon enemy characters.

NPCs

When exploring towns and populated areas, there are plenty of anonymous citizens, clergy, statesmen and various other types of people to converse with. Such characters are referred to as Non-Player Characters (NPCs). Approach any NPC and press the A Button to strike up a conversation. NPCs may make keen observations, humorous remarks, or silly banter. Some NPCs may actually divulge clues regarding puzzle solutions and side quests. Therefore, speak to every anonymous city dweller in sight.

As the game progresses and the social and political climate of the game changes, speak to NPCs again and they may have something new to say. Sometimes NPCs may even hand over items to aid in the quest!

Shop Clerks and Merchants

Another type of helpful NPC is a shop clerk. Merchants may be positioned behind counters in stores and outdoor bazaars. All shop clerks are willing to help the party, for a price. If you have the required amount of Gald, which is the accepted currency, then you may purchase powerful new weapons and armor for the party in almost every new town visited.

As a general rule of thumb, you should be fighting enough battles and making enough Gald that you should be able to purchase at least two weapons plus an armor or accessory every time you reach a new town. If you return to the same town several times while events play out, be sure to purchase items that you may have previously lacked the funds to buy. Shopping is the number one way to gain the equipment needed to win the game, especially in the beginning of the journey.

Shops are not always indicated by the presence of a friendly clerk or merchant. In some of the more futuristic settings, shops appear as electronic vending machines. Stick some Gald in the slot and pull the handle to procure the items or equipment desired.

The Sorcerer's Ring

The Sorcerer's Ring is found in Martel Temple, during the very early stages of the game. The Sorcerer's Ring serves as a kind of action key, used to open doors and solve puzzles.

Press the X Button to use the Sorcerer's Ring. Usually, the ring shoots a small fireball in a short range approximately three feet in front of the main character. The Sorcerer's Ring can also be used to shoot enemies and temporarily freeze them in their tracks. This renders them incapable of triggering a battle. If ever you want to leave an area without incident, the Sorcerer's Ring comes in handy.

Sorcerer's Ring Devices

The function of the Sorcerer's Ring might change when examining special power wells in caves or dungeons. The ring changes function to suit the environment. For instance, in the Temple of Ice the ring can freeze water into blocks of ice, which can then be used to create bridges to previously inaccessible areas. In the Sylvarant Base, the ring can be made to fire an electrostatic orb that travels a few feet and then hovers in space. Anything touching the orb becomes electrified.

Any time you encounter a device that changes the function of the Sorcerer's Ring, proceed to use it immediately. Most temples, bases and dungeons contain intricate security devices, and the special function of the ring is required to create an exit or obtain a special item. Upon leaving the dungeon or area where the ring was changed, the Sorcerer's Ring automatically reverts to its default function.

Skits

While exploring towns and dungeons, and also while navigating the global field map, skit titles might appear in the lower left corner of the screen. Whenever a skit title appears, press the Z Button to watch a skit. Skits are additional dialog between the characters in the party. The characters discuss recent events, objectives that must be completed, and their relationships and the nature of the game. Skits can be useful in determining how to solve certain puzzles or accomplish short-term goals. Sometimes character titles, items or Training Manual topics are unlocked by viewing skits. You can skip the dialog in most skits by pressing START/PAUSE.

FIELD MAP EXPLORATION

When the player character leaves a town, dungeon or forest and appears as a giant in a tiny world, the party has entered the "field map". The field map is a representative map that allows the player to travel vast distances quickly. Towns, forests, temples and other locations appear as small models (relative to the giant character), representing the locations of other areas within the world.

Field Map Controls

Geography

While traveling the field map, the party can only move through grasslands, forests, wastelands, flat desert regions and beaches. Black enemy models appear onscreen as the character crosses the field. Contact with an enemy triggers a battle. The size of the enemy party is indicated by the size of the enemy model. However, the types of enemies and the location of the battle is determined by the terrain upon which the player character stands when the battle starts. Use caution when traveling through chin-high forests, because small enemies may be traveling through the woods unseen.

Long-Range Mode

Traveling the field map on foot can be a time-consuming endeavor. To quicken the trip, find the Guide Post Monument for the region. Once long-range mode is enabled in a region of the field map, press the X Button to mount Lloyd's pet Noishe. The camera angle widens to a better view of the landscape, and the character can travel much faster.

Additionally, in long-range mode enemy characters on the field map stop moving when the player character does. While in long-range mode, field treasure chests and skit markers are not visible on the field map.

Vehicles

To sail across the ocean or fly through the sky, the party must acquire the proper vehicle. This eventually occurs during the course of game events. While traveling in a vehicle, field treasure chests and skit markers are not visible on the field map.

Once the Elemental Cargo (EC) is acquired, the player character can cross the ocean in a boat. Find a dock on the coastline of a continent, and press the B Button to set sail. Find another dock near your destination and press the B Button again to return to dry land.

Eventually the party obtains the Rheairds, or flying jets. The Rheairds can be launched from any field map location. Simply press the B Button to take off.

To land, position the shadow of the forward character over any terrain which can be traveled on foot, such as grass, forest, desert, wasteland, beach, etc., and press the B Button to land.

Controls for all vehicles are similar. Use the C Stick to move forward, backward, turn side to side (EC), or strafe sideways (Rheairds). Use the L and R Buttons to turn left or right, and press the A Button to accelerate.

Field Treasure Chests

While crossing the field map on foot, treasure chests may suddenly appear. Approach and touch the treasure chest to open it. Field treasure chests disappear if the character is traveling in long-range mode or by vehicle.

Skit Points

Bluish glowing circles on the field map indicate locations where an additional skit can be triggered. Touch a skit point to engage in an additional conversation between Lloyd and another character. Any dialog choices made during the skit have a positive or negative effect on the relationship level between Lloyd and the person he speaks with, so choose wisely. An abrupt, awkward end to a conversation probably means you've lowered the relationship level. Some choices you make might embarrass or anger the character Lloyd is speaking with, but this does not necessarily mean that relationship points are lost.

Skit point locations are marked on the world maps included in this guidebook. However, skit points are only available if the required character is currently a member of the party.

COMBAT BASICS

Whenever the onscreen character comes in contact with an enemy character roaming the map of a dungeon, cave or tower, combat ensues. Know the basics in order to survive, and refer to the other topical chapters before the Walkthrough to learn more about mastering combat.

Battle Controls

Y Button
Open Combat Menu. Pauses battle.

Control Stick

START/PAUSE
Pause battle.

+Control Pad
Issue pre-determined combat Orders, to change the Strategies of the CPU-controlled characters.

C Stick
Tech shortcut.

B Button
Cast spell or perform Tech. Requires TP. Press in conjunction with moving the Control Stick left, right, up or down to specify the Tech performed.

L Button
Delay spell casting or Tech preparation to evade attacks.

R Button
Hold to view target name and status (after Magic Lens is used). While holding, change targeting using the Control Stick.

Z Button
Execute Unison Attack when the Unison Attack gauge is full. Perform EX Skill action Taunt when gauge is not full.

X Button
Defend against attack. Cancel spell casting. Press Up + the X Button to jump. After certain events at Triet Ruins, press Down + the X Button to perform a Defensive Tech and reduce damage.

A Button

Battle Control Type

While viewing the Tech screen, move the cursor to the upper right corner of the menu to change the Battle Control Type setting. The CPU controls characters set to "Auto", and their combat actions are influenced by the settings in the Strategy screen. A player controls characters set to "Manual" or "Semi-Auto".

In Semi-Auto, certain actions occur automatically. Unless the character is performing an attack or Tech, they defend against attacks automatically. When the Attack or Tech buttons are pressed, the character automatically moves toward the targeted foe and executes the action.

In Manual mode, the player must move the character toward the targeted foe. Enemy attacks can only be blocked when the X Button is pressed.

Also, jumping can be done in Manual mode by pressing Up on the Control Stick, as opposed to Up + the X Button in Semi-Auto mode.

Targeting

At the start of the battle, the targeted enemy may not be the most desirable foe to attack. For instance, many boss enemies bring weaker sidekicks into the fray. These sidekicks have fewer HP and are easier to eliminate, and usually this weakens the strategy of the boss. Hold the R Button to display the target cursor. Continue holding the R Button and move the cursor to another enemy. Release the R Button and the battle continues. Only now your character attacks a different foe.

Combos

Strike an opponent successfully, and the Combo counter appears onscreen. Each successive strike increases the Combo counter. Other party members can pitch in and strike the same target to raise the Combo count even higher. Increasing the Combo count may win special titles for characters involved in the Combo. Also, the amount of Bonus EXP awarded after battle rises. The Combo counter stops rising when the character runs out of attack moves, or when the enemy gets a chance to defend. If the enemy is defending, the Combo counter will not appear.

The way to reach an amazing Combo count of 50 or higher is to time your attacks in coordination with the other party members. If everyone is attacking at the same time, then all characters may run out of attack moves at the same time. However, if one character starts attacking the moment another stops, then the Combo count may rise to unbelievable levels.

Tetra Slash

Press the A Button repeatedly and your character performs a Combo of up to three or four hits. Just as the last hit executes, quickly press the B Button to execute a Tech. The Combo continues. Press the B Button again with the right timing and the character can launch yet another Tech of a higher level. This method of tacking Techs onto the end of Combos is known as Tetra Slash. It is a method of maximizing the amount of damage inflicted to an enemy by a character before the foe has a chance to react. Performing a Tetra Slash combination with certain party members earns them a title.

Combat Menu

Press the Y Button to pause a battle and bring up the Combat Menu. This menu allows you to do almost everything the Main Menu does, during battle. If CPU controlled characters are not casting the spells or using the Techs you would prefer, open the Tech screen and command them to act differently. If a character is using too much TP, open the Strategy screen and reduce their Tech usage. When fighting stronger enemies such as bosses, open the Combat Menu often and command all of the characters for better results. The Combat Menu is also the only method of distributing items when characters are in trouble.

Escape

If the party runs into trouble and characters are getting KO'd left and right, it may be time to retreat. Open the Combat Menu and use the escape option to flee the battlefield. Once the escape order is issued, a timer appears onscreen. Less time is required to escape if the party is at the same or higher level as the monsters. However, if the monsters are much stronger than the party, the escape timer fills very slowly. Escape is sometimes not an option when fighting certain enemy parties, and it is never available during boss fights.

Stun

Sometimes an attack or a series of blows inflicts so much damage that the character is stunned momentarily. Little yellow chicks begin circling the character's head, and he or she becomes unable to act. If the character is struck again, the stun effect wears off instantly. Otherwise, rotate the Control Stick rapidly to reduce the length of time stun lasts.

Enemies become stunned, too. Whenever this occurs, avoid continuing to attack. Take the opportunity to recover TP or HP by using an item, so that your character has an advantage when the monster comes out of it.

Stagger

Player characters and enemies are capable of attacking only when standing in a ready combat stance. When struck by an attack, the character is knocked off balance and cannot escape or defend until there is a break in the opponent's chain of attacks. When an enemy attacks and knocks your character into a stagger, press the X Button repeatedly to try and regain your stance and defend against further attacks.

As the game progresses, enemies begin casting magic spells instantaneously. To prevent this, it becomes important to knock enemies into a stagger and attempt to keep them staggered for as long as possible, so that the party can have time to cast spells or heal.

Over Limit

After a character or an enemy takes a certain amount of damage, they may enter a brief period of Over Limit mode. During Over Limit, the character is shrouded in a black cloud. Physical attacks sustained do not reduce as much HP. Also, the character in Over Limit cannot be stunned or made to stagger. When your character enters Over Limit, it is like a license to go crazy and attack as much as possible while the effect lasts. Sheena can only summon Spirits while in Over Limit mode. (This does not apply to Corrine, who is an artificial Summon Spirit.)

Air Escape

Many enemies are capable of powerful attacks that send a character flying. When the character lands on the ground, additional falling damage is sustained. The character also needs a moment to recover before getting back up. All of this extra nonsense can be avoided by pressing the X Button while the character is flying through the air. The character regains their combat ready stance mid-air, and is ready to run back into action the second they touch down. No additional falling damage is received. Practice air escapes, and never let your character hit the ground!

Status Effects

Monsters are capable of inflicting characters with Status Effects that reduce combat effectiveness. Status Effects fall into two categories: Physical Ailments and Magical Ailments. Using a Panacea Bottle can cure Physical Ailments, and Magical Ailments can be removed by using an Anti-Magic Bottle. Cooking certain recipes can also remove Status Effects. Some Effects remain effective even after the battle, so be sure to cure them before proceeding.

Physical Ailments:

Poison

The character's HP drops over time.

Deadly Poison

HP drops more rapidly than with normal Poison.

Paralysis

Unable to perform attacks.

Petrify

The character is turned to stone and cannot act. If all party members are petrified, the game ends.

Curse

KO

Character has 0 HP. Cannot act in combat until revived with a Life Bottle, Resurrection Tech, etc.

Magical Ailments:

Attack Up/Attack Down

Affects the damaging power of physical attacks.

Defense Up/Defense Down

Affects the protection of the character. May receive more or less damage per hit depending on the status.

Accuracy Up/Accuracy Down

Magic Attack Up/Magic Attack Down

Weak

Heavy

Character's movement in battle greatly reduced.

Beneficial Status:

Holy Song

Cast by Colette, this effect increases Attack and Defense for the party. Dissipates when the battle ends.

Physical Immunity

Magical Immunity

Battle Results

When all enemies are defeated, surviving characters are awarded Experience Points and the party receives a predefined amount of Gald from the monsters fought. An additional amount of Bonus EXP is added to the total. This amount is based on the highest number of Combo hits scored during fight. Press the X Button to cook a meal for the party to recover from Status Effects or restore lost HP and TP, and then press the A Button to exit the battle screen.

Grade

The party also receives a small amount of Grade. Grade is a measure of combat prowess determined by the amount of damage inflicted, the amount of damage received and the total amount of time required to win. Grade can be used to purchase trade items from various merchants, for use in customizing stronger equipment for the party. When the game is completed, Grade is used to purchase bonuses that should make your next game easier.

CHARACTERS & TITLES

Only playable characters that become active members of the party at some point are described in this chapter. By participating in the story and completing the game, each character should acquire ten or more titles. However, there are multitudes of titles that can be gained by completing side quests and by viewing sub-events outside of the main story line.

There are many different ways to obtain a title (seven in fact). Within each character section, there's a table detailing exactly this. Use this legend to decipher the origin of each title.

Default title
Acquire by reaching a certain level
Complete a certain part of the game
Participate in an event
Changes the character's clothing
Acquire during battle
Acquire during a minigame

The AutoBat column refers to whether you can acquire the title when the character's Battle Control Type is set to "Auto."

LLOYD IRVING

Lloyd is the courageous young man who is the main protagonist of this story. Found abandoned in the woods as an infant, Lloyd was raised by his dwarven stepfather, Dirk. He travels through Iselia Forest every day to attend the school in Iselia Village. Though his heart is extremely large and there are few places he fears to tread, Lloyd is not academically gifted. Sometimes his lack of common sense confuses and bewilders his best friend, Genis. Lloyd's fondness for Colette drives him to accompany the Chosen on her perilous journey to regenerate Sylvarant and replenish the world with mana, the essence of life and magic. Little does Lloyd realize that this journey is deeply tied to his unknown past, and that the truth about his birth lies ahead.

Descended from angels, Colette spent her childhood years preparing for the Journey of World Regeneration. She became a good friend to classmates Lloyd and Genis. SHEENA FUJIBAYASHI

Some antagonistic elements in Sylvarant oppose the Chosen's journey of regeneration. Seemingly acting on her own, Sheena is also attempting to stop Cid from completing her journey. However, at each attempt to kill the Chosen, she plays uncharacteristic clumsiness and fails. In spite of her "orders", Sheena is a kind-hearted young woman who merely wants to save her world, an alternate planet called Tethe'alla that is somehow connected to Sylvarant. As she travels the dying world, her feelings regarding her mission begin to change, and Sheena begins to search for a better way to save her world. The answer may lie in her untapped summoning abilities, but a tragedy in her past prevents her from wanting to make pacts with the elemental spirits of the temples.

PRESEA COMBAT

Though Presea appears to be a young girl, she has the combined strength of fully-grown men. Her starry-eyed stare and blank demeanor indicate that something terrible happened to Presea in the past. Genis' instant fondness for her causes him to plead with the others to bring Presea along on their journey, so that her dilemma may be resolved. However, the party may be unwise to trust that Presea has not been programmed to cause greater harm.

TECHS, EX SKILLS & UNISON ATTACKS

As long as a character has Tech Points (TP) remaining, he or she can cast magic or perform extra powerful attacks for the purpose of causing greater damage to an enemy, or to provide healing for allies or to boost status to make combat easier against tough enemies. Magic and skills are all called "Techs". Learning Techs is dependent upon EX Skills. Techs are also important to synchronized party assaults called Unison Attacks. This chapter deals with these intricate systems.

TECHS

Techs include magical spells and extra powerful attacks that the character becomes capable of using in battle. As characters level up and use their Techs, they become able to learn more Techs of increasing power.

Using Techs

Techs can be executed inside (marked with a red "B") or outside (indicated with a green circle) of battle by opening the Tech screen. In the field or in a town or dungeon, open the Main Menu and go to the Tech screen. Select healing Techs such as First Aid or Recover, and press the A Button to execute the Tech immediately.

In combat, Techs can be executed by opening the Combat Menu. Press the Y Button to open the menu, then select the Tech option. Choose the character that possesses the ability, and press the A Button to open their Tech screen. If the Tech is a healing art, select the needy ally from the lower status bar as the target. If the Tech is an attack type, the character casts the spell against the foe they are targeted to attack. Change targeting (while using the Combat Menu to perform Techs) by selecting the target with the Control Stick and pressing the A Button.

Casting Time

Techs involving magic spells require casting time. Find an isolated section of the battle map away from enemies, so that the character can cast the spell without interruption. If attacked while attempting to cast the spell, the casting is interrupted. The caster must then find a new casting location and start all over. If you are attempting to cast a spell and enemies approach, press the X Button to cancel casting and escape if possible.

Summoning

Through the formation of pacts with Summon Spirits, Sheena becomes able to summon them during combat. All summon Techs are incredibly powerful attacks. However, Sheena can only summon when she is in Over Limit mode.

Tech Shortcuts

Players control characters set to Semi-Auto or Manual modes. As Techs are learned, they are automatically assigned to four controller shortcuts. To use the Techs of the character you control, move the Control Stick in the direction specified by the Tech's location on the shortcut menu and press the B Button to execute. Tech shortcut assignment can be changed anytime during or outside of battle.

Learning Techs

Whether or not a character learns a Tech is dependent upon the level of the character, the Techs they have already learned, as well as whether the character is more disposed toward S-Type or T-Type.

Most new Techs are discovered after the character has used some Tech a certain number of times. Tech usage is displayed in the bottom right corner of the Tech screen. Highlight any Tech to view the number of times it has been used in battle.

Learning Techs also requires that the character reach a certain level. Once the character acquires the prerequisite experience level and uses Techs a certain number of times, new Techs are learned.

The Techs learned by the character are determined by the EX Skills set for the character. More on setting EX Gems and EX Skills is detailed in a section below. EX Skills fall into two categories, Strike Type (S-Type) and Technical Type (T-Type). When the character has more of one type equipped and fights consecutive battles, the character begins to lean toward one type or the other. The type gauge next to the character's name in the Main Menu shows how they are developing. Characters that are developing toward S-Type learn S-Type Techs, and characters leaning toward T-Type learn T-Type skills. Note: many Techs are not type specific.

Techs in blue font indicate that the character has reached the required level for that Tech and will acquire it upon meeting the Usage and/or Requirement.

Forgetting Techs

If a character is developing as an S-Type, and is only learning S-Type Techs, there may come a time when you want the character to learn T-Type Skills. Change the character's type by equipping T-Type EX Skills and prepare the character to learn T-Type Techs by forgetting S-Type Techs. Wearing the Strike Ring or Technical Ring accessories accelerate type changeover.

Notice that when you forget a Tech, you can relearn the same Tech once the requirements are met a second time. Since the character has already have the requisite level, you need only perform the required Tech a certain number of times to relearn the old skill.

Disabled Techs

With CPU controlled characters that are set to Auto mode, sometimes it is important to disable some of their Techs so that they do not accidentally use the wrong magic against an enemy. Some enemies such as Summon Spirits are capable of absorbing damage from magic of their elemental type. For instance, Efreit may be able to absorb magic with a Fire element. Prior to or while fighting Efreit, enter the Tech menu and disable Genis' Fire-based magic Techs. To turn a Tech off, select with the cursor and press the Y Button. Techs that appear in a gray font are disabled.

Explanation of Tech Data

Name
Name of Tech or spell.

Tech Type
Strength of the Tech, as well as whether the Tech causes damage to foes or benefits allies in some manner.

Attack Type
In Lloyd's case, the Tech is executed with a Slashing or Thrusting motion. In all other cases, refers to the number of targets or an "area" of effect.

Element
Elemental properties of the Tech, if any. Elements affect creatures that are weak to it. Use the Magic Lens to determine the elemental strengths and weaknesses of an enemy.

T/S
Whether the Technique is Technical Type or Strike Type. Character is able to learn the Tech when their type meter is more disposed to one type or the other.

M H (Max Hits)
Number of times the foe is struck. Multiplies the amount of damage inflicted.

TP
Tech Points required to use the Tech or cast the spell. Insufficient Tech Points causes "TPxx" to appear over the character's head.

Effects
Additional benefits to allies or Status Effects inflicted on enemies.

Forget
Knowing a Tech may prevent learning of certain other Techs. Forgetting the Tech may cause you to forget another Tech. Numbers refer to the Tech within the character's own list, such as the 14th Tech, the 24th Tech, etc.

Conditions
To learn the Tech, the character must be at or above the required level and may have to perform another Tech a certain number of times.

SECRET TECH!!!
A Tech termed "secret", indicating a bonus Tech. These Techs are separated from the main tables and given special treatment. How to meet the requirements is listed for these Secret Techs, so work hard for them and you'll be rewarded.

EX SKILLS

EX Skills become available when an EX Gem is set on a character. Most EX Skills are battle abilities with different effects, such as increased Max HP, increased Max TP, etc. Some EX Skills are non-battle abilities.

EX Gems

EX Gems vary in level, 1 through 4. When an EX Gem is set to a character, four EX Skills become available. However, only one EX Skill can be set for every EX Gem in use. Four EX Gems can be set for each character in the party.

After EX Gems are obtained, open the EX Skill screen in the Main Menu and highlight an open "Lv" slot. Press the A Button to set an EX Gem, and choose one of the gems available.

Setting an EX Gem is a deep commitment. If you decide to equip a different EX Gem in one of a character's slots, the previous gem is destroyed and can never be used again.

EX Skills

After equipping an EX Gem, move the cursor to the column on the right. Four possible EX Skills can be set in an EX Skill slot for every gem equipped. The skills available depend upon the level of the gem and the character.

EX Skills are either T-Type (Technical Type) or S-Type (Strike) and have a number of different effects, such as changing character attributes or increasing the number of attacks a character can do during battle. EX Skills may also enable additional benefits out of battle. For instance, Lloyd's Personal EX Skill enables the party to move at twice the normal speed in towns or dungeons. Zelos' Personal EX Skill allows you to hustle women for money and items whenever the flamboyant red-haired warrior is the onscreen character.

Compound EX Skills

Combinations of different EX Skills unlock more advanced Compound EX Skills. When the proper combinations of EX Skills are equipped on a character, he or she might learn a Compound EX Skill during the next battle. Compound EX Skills appear in a short list in a column to the right of the main EX Skills list, and they are only effective as long as the required component EX Skills remain equipped.

Compound EX Skills have varied effects much like the normal EX Skills. The main benefit of Compound EX Skills is that the character becomes able to have more than four innate abilities at one time.

EX Skill Types

EX Skills can be either T-Type or S-Type. The more battles are fought, the further the character's type gauge moves in the direction of the set EX Skill type. When a character is more disposed toward one type, they learn the Techs of that type. Therefore, determine how you want the character to develop and which Techs you want them to learn. Set the proper EX Skills to influence the development of the character.

Type Gauge Influence

If multiple EX Skills of both types are set, then the majority determines the technique type towards which the character develops. For instance, if a character has two T-Type EX Skills and one S-Type EX Skill set then the character's type gauge moves toward T-Type.

If a character has an equal number of each type set, then growth is determined by the amount of Techs and normal attacks used in battle. When Techs are used more often than normal attacks, the character's type gauge begins to move toward T-Type.

Explanation of EX Skills Data

EX Level:

Determines the level of EX Gem required to use a given skill. EX Gems are acquired in the adventure, and more can be purchased from Kame in certain towns by spending Grade Points earned in battle.

Type:

S(trike) or T(echnical), determines a character's personal S or T rating. Equipping multiple high-level S or T skills shifts a character more toward one type or the other.

Name:

The name of the EX Skill.

Effects:

Most EX Skill abilities are passive, combat-enhancing effects. Some have other effects, such as the handy Personal ability of Lloyd to increase movement speed in towns and dungeons. Equipping multiple EX Skills can lead to the character's discovery of Compound EX Skills during combat.

Explanation of Compound EX Skills

Name:

The name of the Compound EX Skill. Appears in a shorter list to the right of your character's list of EX Skills after a Compound EX Skill is discovered in battle.

Combination:

To discover Compound EX Skills, multiple EX Gems and EX skills must be set simultaneously. The most powerful Compound EX Skills require up to three or four EX skills to be set at the same time.

Effects:

Compound EX Skills affect characters in similar ways to their lesser Skill brethren, but magnified. Many Compound EX Skills are character-specific (e.g., Colette's extremely useful Item Getter Compound EX Skill allows you to ALWAYS steal items successfully).

UNISON ATTACKS

Unison Attacks become available after a skit involving Kratos that occurs when the Ossa Trail stage is cleared. The Unison Attack Gauge appears above the character portraits in the battle screen display. The gauge increases as characters attack enemies or take other actions in battle. A Unison Attack becomes available when the gauge fills completely.

Executing Unison Attacks

Unleash a Unison Attack when the gauge is full and red by pressing the Z Button to strike an enemy. If the strike connects with the target, the Unison Attack begins. Move the Control Stick and press the A, B, X and Y Buttons to command the four members of the party to perform Techs as listed in each character's Tech shortcut list. The four Techs are performed simultaneously without consuming any TP. Most enemies, including boss monsters, are knocked to the ground by a Unison Attack due to the overwhelming HP loss.

Setting Unison Attacks

Open the Unison Attack screen during or outside of battle to view the shortcuts for each character. During a Unison Attack, quickly move the Control Stick and press the button representing the character as shown in the lower right corner of the screen. Only attack type Techs can be used during a Unison Attack. The characters cannot use Techs that heal, increase stats, or summon Spirits.

Compound Unison Attacks

Specific combinations of magic and techniques result in a Compound Unison Attack, which is typically more powerful than a normal Unison Attack, and they are extremely cool to watch. To discover Compound Unison Attacks, command two certain characters to perform two specific Techs, listed in the tables below. Until you master the ability to specify Techs with the Control Stick, set the required Techs in the top shortcut slot for each character. This way, you need only push the characters' buttons during the Unison Attack to discover the Compound Unison Attack.

TO TRIGGER A COMPOUND UNISON ATTACK, THE REQUIRED TECHS MUST OCCUR WHILE PERFORMING A UNISON ATTACK. TIMING IS NOT IMPORTANT, AS LONG AS THE REQUIRED TECHS ARE INPUTTED.

ITEMS & SHOP LISTS

Item gathering and management is a large aspect of playing Tales of Symphonia. Tools are required to regain health and Tech Points, and to cure status effects or view an enemy's statistics. Valuables enable access to previously closed areas, or open locked doors. Meanwhile, the characters in the party benefit greatly by equipping new armor, weapons and magical accessories that enhance their combat abilities, making each battle easier than the last.

Table Data Explanations

Name

Name of item.

Description

The in-game description of the item. Usually describes the piece perfectly. In some cases the description is purposely vague to add mystery regarding an item's use. Consult the Other Status column for better descriptions, in such cases.

Slash

Lloyd only. Additional amount of points added to Lloyd's Slash statistic. Determines amount of damage inflicted when Lloyd attacks an enemy with a slashing attack, or a Tech that employs a slashing motion.

Thrust

Lloyd only. Additional amount of points added to Lloyd's Thrust statistic. Determines amount of damage inflicted when Lloyd performs a thrusting attack or Tech.

Atk

Displayed in weapons tables, for all characters except Lloyd. Number of extra Attack points added to the character's "Atk".

Def

For armor and accessory tables. Number of additional Defense points added to character's Def rating as a result of wearing the equipment.

Other Status

Additional benefits outside the norm, including effects on statistics other than Atk or Def. Also includes notes, such as elemental attack added to a weapon, or elemental defense added to piece of armor. May also give a better summary of the item's abilities if the in-game description is purposely vague.

Type

The category of item.

Cost (Gald)

If the item can be purchased in a shop, the base price is listed below EX Skill discounts.

Acquisition

Lists one or more ways to obtain an item during the game.

Purchase: The item can be purchased in a particular shop. Lists where the applicable shops are located. Consult the Shop Lists section for further details.

Treasure: The item can be found in a treasure chest in a cave or wilderness area, or on the field map. Consult the Walkthrough for more details.

Customize

The item is available at a Customization shop. Customizing requires ownership of certain weapons, equipment or accessories, plus additional materials such as White Silver or Black Silver. Customization allows for forging of better weapons and equipment without the need for a Customization shop.

Cooking and Food Items

Cooking is another way to recover lost HP and TP, and to cure Status Effects that inhibit combat prowess. Since meals affect all the characters in the party, cooking is a better method of recovery than using most items!

Several requirements must be fulfilled to cook. The party must possess food items to use as ingredients, and the recipe to cook a meal must be understood. The choice of cook is also important, since some characters are better at cooking than others.

Obtaining Food

Defeated enemies often drop food items after a battle. Food can also be purchased in shops at various locations in the world. Check the Items & Shop Lists chapter to find the nearest grocer. Another way to grab some good food is to use Presea's Personal EX Skill. This allows you to automatically find food in dungeons—a great skill to have.

Learning New Recipes

At the start of the game, the party knows how to make a Sandwich. Additional recipes are learned by speaking to characters at certain times in certain places in the game. Most recipes are learned by seeking out the Wonder Chef, who disguises himself as various items and hides in plain sight within towns and villages. The Wonder Chef also gives the party the required ingredients. To change recipes, open the Cooking screen of the Main Menu and press the A Button. Scroll down to the new recipe, and press the A Button again to change recipes. The next time the proper ingredients for the recipe are available at the end of a battle, the opportunity to cook becomes available.

Late in the game, make Regal the onscreen character and speak to the cook at the Houses of Guidance in Tethe'alla, as well as the cook near the windmill in Asgard. This is the way to learn the last few recipes on the list. Finally, head to Meltokio after entering Heimdall once Pronyma and Yggdrasill are defeated. Approach the two chefs standing outside the castle doors to obtain the final recipe, as well as the "God of The Kitchen" title for Regal. The tables below list the locations where each recipe can be learned.

Cooking Skill

Each character possesses a natural ability to cook, but some are better at it. To view a character's cooking skill, open the Cooking screen of the Main Menu. Lloyd is the default cook at the beginning of the game, and the default recipe is Sandwich. The stars next to Lloyd's name indicate his potential Sandwich cooking skill. Each time Lloyd successfully prepares a Sandwich, his cooking skill rises. When Lloyd's Sandwich-making skill rises high enough, he gets another gold star. The higher Lloyd's Sandwich skill rises, the less likely that an attempt to cook a Sandwich might fail, and the more additional ingredients are incorporated into the character's cooking. When all Lloyd's Sandwich stars are full, he has mastered making a Sandwich. The same goes for all characters, regarding all recipes.

Choosing a Cook

All characters are capable of cooking. To change cooks, open the Cooking screen and move the cursor up to the character name at the top of the screen. Then press the A Button, and select another character.

Choice of cook is important, because everyone has a different level of inherent skill. For instance, open the menu and change the cook to Genis. Genis has a seven star potential at cooking a Sandwich. This means that he is less likely to fail at making a Sandwich than Lloyd, and will use more additional ingredients. When Genis masters Sandwich making, his Sandwiches restore more HP to the party than Lloyd's do. This is because Genis is inherently better at making Sandwiches than Lloyd or any other character for that matter.

Cooking After Battles

If the proper ingredients for a recipe are on hand, a meal can be cooked at the end of a battle, while the Battle Results screen is displayed. Cooking readiness is indicated when the designated cook's face appears in the lower right corner of the screen. Press the X Button to attempt to cook a meal. If the meal is prepared successfully, the party enjoys the full benefits of the recipe, such as HP recovery, TP recovery or Status Effect cure. If the meal is a failure, the party receives something close to 25% of the usual benefit. As the cook's skill level rises, the effect of the meal increases in potency, and the chance of failure decreases.

Cooking Between Battles

Supper is not just for battles anymore. Meals can be prepared any time the party is "hungry"—if the party did not cook at the end of the most recent battle. Open the cooking menu, select a cook and the appropriate recipe, and press the X Button to cook immediately. Cooking outside of battle has the same chances of failure or success.

Additional Ingredients

Additional ingredients are listed under the main ingredients for each recipe in the side bar. When used to enhance a dish, the effects are greatly enhanced. When purchasing food or preparing to cook, make sure you have everything you need to make the desired recipe.

Additional ingredients listed for a recipe depend on the cook selected and their skill level for that recipe.

HOW TO USE THE WALKTHROUGH

Section Opener

More than just a note on the progression of the story and the area that you'll be visiting, this opener has valuable information on the Items and Monsters that can be found in the area. Give this a glance to find out what's in store!

Tip

Tips on gameplay, combat, how to handle monsters, etc., are crucial to a successful romp in Tales of Symphonia. Make sure to read over the contents of these boxes and you'll have a more enjoyable gaming experience!

Note

More technical than the tips, notes give you information on how to interact with the game's elements. Want to figure out how to control the map function or the menu function? The notes are the best way to do it.

Lighting the Dark Forest

The party encounters a trio of Cardinal Knights. Defeat them to continue. Follow the path north. Use the device to change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring. When the X Button is held, the ring emits a ray of light. The light burns vines that cover treasure chests and block pathways. The ring carries only a small charge and can be refilled by standing in certain lighted areas. Head northeast from the Sorcerer's Ring device to exit the forest. Cross the field map north to find the long-range marker for the forest and Sybak region. Continue east into the next area. Stand in the brightly lit zone where flowers grow until the light meter in the upper left corner of the screen is "fully charged."

A Drain Charm is located in an obscured chest behind some trees.

From the Drain Churn, follow the north path and burn away the vines covering a chest containing a Phoenix Rod.

Wandering the Woods

Explore each area of the forest fully and locate all items before moving on to the next. If you take one of the paths too far north or south, the party enters a looping area. The only escape is to go back the direction you came. Defeat a death-type enemy in the fifth area to obtain a Memory Gem. The black skull in the fifth area is the Second Dancer, waiting to challenge the party again. The monster remains in this location for a long time, so avoid fighting it until your characters are higher levels.

An unknown force seals the covered door in the fifth area. The door contains one of the Devil's Arms, and a special key is required to open it. Check the Appendices for more details. In the fifth area, head south. Unseal and use the Memory Circle in the sixth area and record your game. Proceed south to the final area to encounter the blue-haired convict from Melchior's powers. After defeating the blue-haired convict, leave the forest via the south exit.

Burn away the vines covering paths to continue.

WRAP-UP SIDE QUESTS!

SEVERAL SIDE QUESTS ARE ABOUT TO BECOME UNAVAILABLE FOR THE REST OF THE GAME, AND A WHOLE NEW BATCH BECOMES AVAILABLE AFTER THE UPCOMING EVENTS. BE SURE TO CHECK IN THE "SIDE QUESTS AND SUB EVENTS" SECTION OF THE APPENDICES AT THE BACK OF THIS BOOK TO LEARN WHAT YOU MIGHT MISS. ALSO, THIS IS YOUR LAST CHANCE TO PREPARE THE SHINY DRESSER IN GARDENIA FOREST.

Working In the Cargo Room

Exit to the corridor and head north. Use a Memory Gem to unseal the Memory Circle on the ground. The shot-by-shot puzzle solution below details how to reach all the items in this room and reach the hangar where the Riseards are waiting to end your game before proceeding to the highest level.

5 Solutions: Telling a Bow Room

1. Ascend the stairs across from the entrance and open the chest to obtain a Silver Mallet.
2. Push the two blue boxes west and into the niches to form a bridge to the chest containing Lavender. Shoot the Sorcerer's Ring from an angle to charge the column and power the lift.
3. Move one of the blue boxes on to the right side of the lift. While standing on the lift, examine the panel to raise the box to the mid-level.

4. Ride the lift back down and cross the upper level in the east side of the room. Push the blue west and drop it into the niche. Stand on the box and fire a charge of the column to power the southeast lift platform.
5. Use the central lift to return to the lowest level. Drop the remaining box onto the lift and ride to the platforms high above.
6. Drag the blue box off the lift and push it north. Drop the box into the niche to create a connecting path to the chest that contains a Touchdown Lance.

7. Head west and north to a chest containing a Beam Shield. Then return and use the Sorcerer's Ring to power the westward lift.
8. Descend to the lower level and push the blue block off the platform to bridge the gap to a suspended chest containing an EX Gem Lv2.
9. Exit the room and reenter to reset the boxes. Push one of the boxes onto the east lift and rise to the high platform.

10. Move the box north and drop it in the niche to create a path to the north end of the platform.
11. Ride the lift to the uppermost level, enter the three pass codes obtained from the three enemies in the base, and enter the door to fight the Remegade leaders.

GNOME

HP: 28000 S: Earth
TP: 682 EXP: 5890
We: None GALT: 4280
Items Found: Holy Symbol

During the battle, command Shiena to use S. Seal. Wind on the weapons of notes fighter like Lloyd, Raga, Pansa and Zehn. Also try to summon the Spirit in last once during the battle. Command Gena to use Wind magic. Achieve a Critical Attack early in the battle, and then use Tame EX Skills to pull the enemy more quickly. Gena's shield attack are frequent, so not extremely damaging. Wait until you have the second to victory, then try to make him stagger with a combo followed by one or two Techs if you can manage. Gnome is an extremely tough opponent, so you'll be surprised.

Warning

Watch out! Warnings focus on things that you absolutely need to know! Sure, they warn you about the tough monsters and stuff, but Warnings also mention when you could potentially miss or lose something. Ignore them at your peril!

Puzzle

The Puzzles in the game become increasingly more difficult as you progress and the solutions are all marked in this format. A simple step-by-step format offers you the most efficient and successful path to finishing each puzzle.

Boss

Bosses are brutal! They're the toughest enemies in the game and require the most tactical play. Get an idea about which strategies work best and which to avoid. Crushing a Boss is one of the most satisfying experiences in an RPG—don't miss out!

Sneaking Out of School

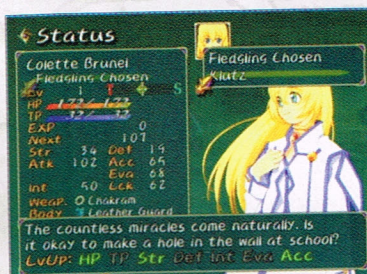

When Professor Sage leaves the class to check things out, head for the exit. Colette and Genis both join the party. After they join the party, speak with the blue-haired kid standing in the front row to obtain a Magic Lens. With three party members, examine the Colette-shaped hole in the wall to obtain the "Klutz" title for Colette.

Moving toward the door triggers a scene with Genis and Colette.

Examine the Colette-shaped hole in the classroom wall to obtain the "Klutz" title.

Equipping titles affects how your characters improve when each new level is gained. For a complete list of titles and how to acquire them, please turn to the Titles chapter.

Skit Occurrences

Approximately thirty seconds after Colette and Genis join the party, the skit title, "It'll Be Fine," should appear in the lower left corner of the screen. Press the Z Button to trigger a skit.

When a skit title appears in the lower left corner of the screen, press the Z Button to view bonus dialog between the characters.

Skits provide additional information about character relationships and may also provide clues regarding objectives and tasks.

Exploring the Village

Colette's father approaches the party as they leave school. Frank then returns to his house in the northeastern corner of Iselia. Speak to Frank at the house to receive complete healing. Genis' and Raine's house lies on the west side of the village. In a book on the rear shelf describes the Desians. The building across from the south exit from town is the Halo general store. Purchase a few extra Magic Lenses for analyzing any enemies encountered. Be sure to buy food to make Sandwiches, for easy recovery after battles.

Frank and Colette live in this cute house in the northeast corner of Iselia. Speak to Frank to receive complete healing for all party members.

Although Genis protests, you may enter his house and read a volume on the bookshelf regarding Desians.

Purchase a few extra Magic Lenses and additional Food items at the Halo general store.

Monsters in the Village!

Near the north exit of Iselia, use the Memory Circle to record your progress. Move through the gate next to the school building. A monster blocks the path! The lone monster, a Zombie, is easy to defeat. In the second battle, switch targeting by holding the R Button, and then move the Control Stick left or right to change targets.

Defeat the monsters that appear at the north exit of Iselia.

COMMANDING CPU CONTROLLED CHARACTERS

WHILE BATTLING AS LLOYD, PRESS THE Y BUTTON TO RAISE THE COMBAT MENU. OPEN THE TECH SCREEN AND COMMAND GENIS TO USE HIS FIREBALL TECH AGAINST THE GHOST. MAGIC IS MORE POWERFUL AGAINST SPIRITUAL ENEMIES. LIKEWISE, IF YOU ARE CONTROLLING GENIS, OPEN THE COMBAT MENU AND COMMAND LLOYD AND COLETTE TO USE THEIR PHYSICAL TECHS AGAINST THE ZOMBIE.

HEAL UP BEFORE HEADING OUT

ALTHOUGH YOU'VE ONLY BRAVED TWO BATTLES, LOW-LEVEL CHARACTERS COULD ALREADY BENEFIT FROM SOME OF FRANK'S HEALING POWERS. RETURN TO COLETTE'S HOUSE AND SPEAK TO FRANK FOR FULL RESTORATION BEFORE LEAVING ISELIA.

Short Field Trip

On the field map, proceed up the coast to Martel Temple, and press the A Button to enter the site. During the trip, another skit should become available.

Follow the short path across the field map to Martel Temple.

SURVIVING IN THE FIELD

ROTATE THE CAMERA VIEW BY MOVING THE C STICK. PRESS START/PAUSE TO DISPLAY THE WORLD MAP IN THE LOWER RIGHT CORNER OF THE SCREEN WHILE EXPLORING THE FIELD MAP. PRESS START/PAUSE AGAIN TO SWITCH FROM MINI WORLD MAP TO FULL WORLD MAP. PRESS START/PAUSE AGAIN TO TURN THE WORLD MAP OFF. CONTACT WITH BLACK MONSTERS ROAMING THE FIELD TRIGGERS A BATTLE WITH COMMON ANIMALS SUCH AS WOLVES, HAWKS AND RABBITS. BEFORE DEALING WITH ENEMIES ON THE GROUND, FOCUS ON TARGETING AND ELIMINATING AERIAL OR FLYING ENEMIES LIKE HAWKS. SAVE YOUR PROGRESS AT ANY TIME IN THE FIELD BY ENTERING THE SYSTEM SCREEN OF THE MAIN MENU.

Battle on Sacred Grounds

Proceed up the stairs to defeat the soldiers attacking the temple. When the first wave runs off, a much stronger "boss" enemy attacks.

Lloyd and friends are just in time to save Colette's grandmother from some merciless scoundrels.

VIDARR

HP: 4000 S: None
TP: 30 EXP: 115
W: None GALT: 25
Item(s) Found: Life Bottle

Vidarr is incredibly strong, so avoid direct confrontation. Stand back and use long-range Techs such as Lloyd's Demon Fang. After one or two minutes into the battle a strange warrior joins the party. This man knows the First Aid ability and heals the other characters through the rest of the battle.

With the mysterious new warrior healing everyone, rush Vidarr and attack at close range—if playing as Lloyd or Colette. Keep an eye on your HP, and back away for healing if your character drops into the red. If Genis runs out of TP, command him to take an Orange Gel. Otherwise, he attempts to rush at Vidarr and might get KO'd.

While fighting Vidarr at close range, he prepares attacks even while being struck. When Vidarr raises his weapon to full height, break off attacking and defend. If struck hard enough, your character may be sent flying. Press the X Button while in midair to land to regain control and avoid additional falling damage. These tips should help you survive many boss fights.

GREETING THE MERCENARY KRATOS

AFTER THE BATTLE, KRATOS INTRODUCES HIMSELF TO THE PARTY. AT ONE POINT DURING THE CONVERSATION, HE TELLS LLOYD TO STAY PUT. CHOOSE THE FIRST OPTION TO TRIGGER SOME REALLY INTENSE DIALOG BETWEEN THE TWO WARRIORS, OR CHOOSE THE SECOND FOR A SLIGHTLY MORE JOVIAL TONE.

HEAD BACK TO ISELIA FOR HEALING

AFTER THAT ROUGH BATTLE WITH THE DESIANS, HEADING HOME WOULD BE A GOOD IDEA. SPEAK TO FRANK AT COLETTE'S HOUSE FOR COMPLETE HEALING.

Presents and Advice from Kratos

Inside the temple, Kratos gives Lloyd the Training Manual. Move up the central stairs to trigger another scene. Kratos suggests finding the Sorcerer's Ring, hidden somewhere in this temple, to open the pulsating seal. Follow the eastern corridor north. Descend the northeast stairs to the level below.

The Sorcerer's Ring is required to break the seal barring access to the chamber of the Chosen.

SET STRATEGIES FOR ALL CHARACTERS

DO NOT FORGET TO CHANGE THE STRATEGIES FOR THE CPU-CONTROLLED CHARACTERS. OTHERWISE THEY'LL USE UP ALL OF THEIR TP, AND HAVE NONE WHEN IT REALLY COUNTS! CHANGE STRATEGIES BY OPENING THE MAIN MENU OR THE COMBAT MENU, AND SELECT THE "STRATEGY" OPTION. FOR EACH CHARACTER, THERE ARE THREE STRATEGIES TO SET: ATTACK SKILL/MAGIC, AND POSITION. WITH THE EXCEPTION OF BOSS FIGHTS, SET ALL CHARACTERS TO "KEEP RESERVE" OR "RETAIN" IN THE SKILL/MAGIC CATEGORY. THAT WAY, THE CHARACTERS SHOULD HAVE SOME TP REMAINING AT ALL TIMES. STRATEGY CAN BE CHANGED DURING COMBAT, OR BY ISSUING PREDETERMINED ORDERS USING THE +CONTROL PAD.

Strategy
Lloyd	Attack Freely Use Skills Freely Move Freely	Use Skills At Close Keep Moving Retain
Colette	Attack Freely Keep Reserve Move Freely	Stop Do Not Move Moderately Hold
Genis	Attack Freely Keep Reserve Move Freely	Stop Do Not Move Moderately Hold
Kratos	Attack Freely Keep Reserve Move Freely	Stop Do Not Move Moderately Hold
Keep Reserve
Stop using skills or magic once the TP is below 25%.

KRATOS STRATEGY

IT'S A GOOD IDEA TO SET KRATOS' SKILL/MAGIC STRATEGY TO "HEAL." THIS GIVES YOU A CHANCE TO ATTACK WITH ANOTHER CHARACTER WITHOUT WORRYING TOO MUCH ABOUT YOUR HEALTH. OF COURSE, LATER LEVELS AND FIGHTS REQUIRE A MORE "HANDS ON" APPROACH.

Dropping Golems

Defeat the Golems appearing on the platform. A stone block appears after the battle. Grab the stone block and move it to one of the openings in the platform. If you drop the block through the correct hole, it should fall into a niche in the path below. Drop the block through the wrong hole, and it disappears into the water. Ascend the northwest stairs. Move south in the first floor corridor to find three chests, containing an Apple Gel, a Life Bottle and 250 Gald.

Although Golems are strong and have high HP, their attacks are slow, infrequent and easy to defend against.

Three chests lie behind the fallen section of corridor on 1F.

Puzzle Solution: Martel Temple

1. Drop a block through the center hole in the right column of holes.

2. Drop a block through the center hole in the left column of holes.

3. Move down to the lower level and push the block west into the niche. Ascend the stairs and open the chest to obtain a Life Bottle.

4. Drop another block through the center hole in the right column of holes.

5. Below, push the block east into the niche. Ascend the stairs and open the chest to obtain a Panacea Bottle.

6. Drop two blocks through the top hole in the center column of holes on the platform.

7. Descend to the level below, push the last block upward into the niche and ascend the stairs to obtain the Sorcerer's Ring.

Ritual of the Chosen

Return to the glowing barrier near the temple entrance. Press the X Button to remove the barrier with the Sorcerer's Ring. Step onto the warp ring and press the A Button to reach the chamber of the Chosen. After the subsequent scenes, speak to the three characters in the chamber. Use the warp gate to return to the entrance. Exit the temple and return to Iselia.

Remove the barrier using the Sorcerer's Ring. Then use the warp point to reach the chamber high up in the temple.

Lloyd's Trip Home

Genis leaves the party. Continue north and then east through the forest, following the path.

With only one character in the party, Lloyd must defend against enemy attacks more often to reduce item consumption.

Genis' Endangered Friend

Proceed along the path, collecting the items from treasure chests. In the second area, Genis leads Lloyd to the Iselia Human Ranch. Move around the south side of the Ranch to speak to Genis' friend Marble. Move to the cliffs at the north end of the Ranch. Press the A Button to jump up to the higher ledges. Jump to the ledge where a treasure chest sits. Collect the Orange Gel from the chest, then jump to the rear ledge to trigger the next scene. Defeat the Desians to continue.

Case the outside of the Human Ranch to find Marble.

Jump up the cliff ledges to the item chest, and then jump across to the wide ledge to continue the scenes.

The trees obscure a chest containing a Leather Glove at the creek's edge.

HOW OFTEN SHOULD I FIGHT?

TO IMPROVE ENOUGH TO COMPLETE THE GAME, YOUR CHARACTERS MUST WIN BATTLES. IN GENERAL, CLEAR EACH AREA OF ROAMING MONSTERS WHILE PASSING THROUGH. THIS SHOULD BE JUST ENOUGH FIGHTING TO HELP YOUR CHARACTERS LEVEL UP WITHOUT EXHAUSTING SUPPLIES.

When finished speaking to them all, talk to Colette and choose the first option to proceed. In the morning, speak to Dirk at the gravesite behind the house. He gives Lloyd items and money for the journey, and the Sylvarant Map. The scene shifts back to Iselia.

DO YOUR SHOPPING NOW!

BEFORE DOING ANYTHING ELSE IN ISELIA, STOP BY THE HALO GENERAL STORE AND PURCHASE ANY NEEDED SUPPLIES, ESPECIALLY FOOD. IF YOU FAIL TO STOCK UP NOW, YOU WILL LOSE THE OPPORTUNITY AFTER IMPENDING EVENTS.

Save the militiaman outside the schoolhouse to obtain some rewards.

Genis' house is on fire! Genis becomes saddened as you pass by his residence on the west side of the village.

After the battle, speak to Phaidra and Frank. Leaving through the south exit of town, Lloyd gains the title, "Drifting Swordsman".

Desian Retribution

Speak to Frank at Colette's house in the northeast corner of the village. The village is attacked by the Desians! Outside the schoolhouse, soldiers corner the local militiaman. Save him from the Desians to obtain an Apple Gel and Orange Gel as thanks. Head toward the south gate to face the wrath of Forcystus, a Desian Grand Cardinal. To punish Lloyd for his trespassing, the Cardinal has brought a rather tough monster to slay the heroes!

EXBELUA

The best character to play during this battle is Lloyd. Charge forward and take on Exbelua at short range, while Genis prepares magic attacks from the backfield. Try to prevent the monster from getting close to Genis, so that his casting is not interrupted. Anticipate and defend against arm swing attacks, and save yourself from falling damage by pressing the X Button midair.

Exbelua's defense is fairly weak, so occasionally run to the backfield and attack with Demon Fang Techs thrown from a distance. When TP runs low, charge forward and replenish Tech Points by attacking the monster. The monster performs the Insane Cell attack, which damages any character standing in close range. Back out of the glowing circle visible on the ground.

Equipping characters with S-Type or T-Type EX Skills or a balance of both determines which Techs each character learns as they increase in experience levels.

Find this treasure chest hidden among the trees along the route to the House of Salvation.

Free Upon the World

Head south from Iselia across the field map. Nova's Caravan is parked in a forest southeast of Iselia. The owner allows you to rest and fully recover as many times as you like for free. Proceeding south from Nova's Caravan, Lloyd and Genis discover a letter from Dirk. The letter explains EX Gems and EX Skills, and how to set them to discover Compound EX Skills. Following the EX Skills event, move westward into the trees lining the base of the hills. A field treasure chest is hidden in the trees. Inside is an EX Gem Lv1.

Nova's Caravan provides a free rest point, but Nova will soon change locations.

House of Salvation

A House of Salvation is located on the road toward Triet. Genis asks a traveler about the Chosen's group. The traveler uses the Sylvarant Map to make long-range mode available in the region. While crossing the field map, you can now press the X Button to hop on Noishe's back and ride. Long-range mode enables a wider camera angle and greater traveling speed. On the second floor of the House of Salvation, examine the bed to rest for only 100 Gald.

The man who explains long-range mode enables it for this region.

Long-range mode enables a wider camera angle on the world map.

The Desert Region

In the sandy terrain, the monsters encountered change. Monsters such as Sidewinders can inflict Poison status on characters. Cure Poison status immediately by using a Panacea Bottle. The oasis town of Triet is located just a little south of a large mountain near the Iselia region border.

The enemies in the desert region are more defensive, and may cause Poison status.

There is a bed. It might not be a bad time to take a rest.

Trouble at the Oasis Town

Lloyd and Genis are forced to hide from a Desian search party that is looking for them! Examine the bulletin board and the poor drawing of Lloyd. At the various shops, purchase new weapons and armor for Lloyd and Genis. However, save some Gald to buy Food from the Desert Rose shop near the fortuneteller's hut. The inn is 100 Gald per night.

Lloyd and Genis are wanted by the Desians.

EQUIPMENT CUSTOMIZATION

MOVE THROUGH THE MARKET UNTIL THE OWNER OF VERMILION BLADES CALLS OUT TO LLOYD AND GENIS. UNLIKE OTHER SHOPS, THIS MAN PROVIDES CUSTOMIZATION SERVICES. IF YOU HAPPEN TO POSSESS A BEAST HIDE AT THE MOMENT, THE MAN GIVES YOU A FREE SOFT LEATHER ARMOR. IF YOU DON'T HAVE A BEAST HIDE, RETURN TO THE ISELIA REGION AND FIGHT RABBIT ENEMIES UNTIL ONE DROPS A BEAST HIDE IN BATTLE, THEN SPEAK TO THE CUSTOMIZER AGAIN. AT A CUSTOMIZATION SHOP, YOU CAN CONVERT WEAKER WEAPONS AND EQUIPMENT INTO STRONGER ITEMS, AS LONG AS YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TRADE ITEMS IN HAND.

KATZ EXPLORATION TEAM

SPEAK TO THE CAT-EARED RECEPTIONIST BEHIND THE COUNTER AND CHOOSE THE SECOND OPTION TO LEARN ALL ABOUT THE KATZ EXPLORATION TEAM AND THEIR FUNCTIONS. AT A LATER STAGE OF THE GAME, WHEN YOU WISH TO OBTAIN ITEMS OVERLOOKED IN AREAS THAT ARE NO LONGER AVAILABLE, THE KATZ EXPLORATION TEAM CAN HELP YOU FIND THEM. ALSO, THE KATZ CAN ADD RARELY ENCOUNTERED MONSTERS TO YOUR MONSTER LIST. UPON REQUESTING AN EXPEDITION, THE RECEPTIONIST ASKS HOW MUCH YOU WISH TO SPEND. A SUGGESTED AMOUNT OF GALD IS ALREADY OFFERED. HOWEVER, AGREEING TO THIS AMOUNT DOES NOT GUARANTEE A SUCCESSFUL EXPEDITION.

TRADING GRADE

POSITIONED NEAR THE KATZ EXPLORATION TEAM BOOTH IS A CHARACTER THAT SELLS EX GEMS. THE CURRENCY IS GRADE POINTS GAINED THROUGH EXCELLENCE IN BATTLES. AS YOU CAN SEE FROM THE LIST, EX GEMS ARE QUITE EXPENSIVE IN TERMS OF GRADE. ENOUGH EX GEMS CAN BE FOUND FOR FREE IN VARIOUS FIELD AREAS, TOWNS AND DUNGEONS. HOWEVER, IF YOU ARE EVER ONE EX GEM SHORT OF BEING ABLE TO SET THE EX SKILLS A CHARACTER NEEDS, THEN CONSIDER BUYING AN EX GEM FROM A MERCHANT.

THE AMAZING WONDER CHEF!

ENTER THE INN AND CLIMB TO THE UPPER BALCONY. MOVE ALL THE WAY TO THE RIGHT AND EXAMINE THE OBJECT IN THE CORNER TO REVEAL THE SECRET HIDING SPOT OF THE WONDER CHEF! THE WONDER CHEF TEACHES THE NEW RECIPE, CABBAGE ROLLS, WHICH REQUIRES CABBAGE AND PORK. HE PROVIDES ONE OF EACH FOOD ITEM AS WELL. CABBAGE ROLLS RESTORE A SMALL AMOUNT OF TP WHEN COOKED. BE SURE TO SEARCH ALL TOWNS VERY WELL TO FIND THE WONDER CHEF AND LEARN ALL HIS RECIPES. YOU NEVER KNOW WHERE THE WONDER CHEF IS HIDING!

Fortune Teller or Con Artist?

Enter the tent at the end of the path through Triet. Speak to the fortuneteller and pay her 100 Gald to learn the current location of the Chosen and the others. Speak to her a second time and choose one of the three party members listed to determine the current state of Lloyd's relationship to the character. The fortuneteller's answer depends upon the choices you've been making during conversations with the characters listed.

The fortuneteller divines that the Chosen is headed for Triet Ruins.

Move close to the bars of the cell and press the X Button with the right timing to hit the guard with a blast from the Sorcerer's Ring. The guard runs off and Lloyd's cell door opens. Press the switch outside the cell next door to obtain a Beast Hide. Open the third cell to use a Memory Circle. Head down the corridor to the detention center and open the chest to recover Lloyd's equipment. At the exit from the cellblock, defeat two guards to proceed.

Shoot the Sorcerer's Ring at the guard as he passes by the cell to get out.

Be sure to get your equipment back before trying to leave, or back in the cell you go!

ESCAPING REQUIRES REST

IF LLOYD RUNS LOW ON HP AND TP DURING HIS ATTEMPT TO BREAK FREE OF THE BASE, RETURN TO HIS CELL AND EXAMINE THE COT TO RECOVER COMPLETELY.

Opening the Security Door

Lloyd hides from some guards. Examine the cauldron-like object near the entrance to change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring. Pressing the X Button now fires an electrostatic charge. Shoot the Sorcerer's Ring drone when it is directly over a floor panel. Electrocute both drones on the floor panel simultaneously to unlock the west door.

Ring Around the GameCube

Examine the upright panel on the west side of the room for instructions regarding how to open the doors. Open the passage to the control room, and proceed into the corridor to encounter a challenging boss.

Shoot the pillars to rotate the central ring and create passages to various areas of the base.

Puzzle Solution: Sylvarant Base GameCube Room

Fire electric orbs from the Sorcerer's Ring at the columns against the west wall to rotate the central ring. When the large gems point to any of the doors, that door unlocks. However, the passage behind the door changes depending upon which gem is pointed at a given door.

1. Shoot the top column to rotate the ring 180 degrees. Then shoot the middle column to rotate the ring another quarter-turn.

2. With the red gem facing south and the blue gem facing north, the south door leads to the entrance. Lloyd finds the exit door locked, but the nearby chest contains a Magical Cloth.

3. Return to the room with the GameCube and shoot the bottom column, rotating the central ring just 45 degrees. Go through the east door.

4. The east passage now leads to a treasure chest containing 1500 Gald. Return to the GameCube room.

5. Shoot the top column, and then the middle column, so that the green gem rotates to the north side of the circle. The path to the control room opens.

DO NOT CHANGE THE SORCERER'S RING BACK TO ITS NORMAL POWER. The electric-orb power of the ring is needed throughout the base to proceed.

Bait the drones by standing opposite the panels, and shoot them with the right timing to electrify the panels.

Memory Gems and Shopping Services

Defeat the soldier enemy in the next corridor to obtain a Memory Gem. Go north in the corridor to the hangar. Examine the yellow Vending Machine to purchase standard tools, if needed.

Certain enemies drop Memory Gems after combat, which allow sealed Memory Circles to be used.

The machine in the hangar allows for purchase of additional tools.

Sealed Memory Circles

Continue through the corridor heading west. Use a Memory Gem to unseal the Memory Circle just a few feet inside the door.

Use the Memory Gem to unseal the Memory Circle in the large room, creating a new save point for convenience sake.

Switch the strategies of non-player characters so that they use all their skills freely, and make sure that Genis attacks from long range only with magic. Optionally, set everyone to Attack Same so that the party focuses on removing one foe at a time.

The Foot Soldiers do their best to prevent characters from casting magic, so take them out first. Fighting them is no different than regular foes, so they should drop quickly. Alone, Botta is much easier to defeat. Botta can still prepare and execute attacks even as he takes damage, so fight defensively at all times. Strike him with a combo followed by a Tech if possible, and then defend yourself against his next attack. Treat this battle as more of a duel between equals, and you'll suffer less damage.

Botta tends to go into Over Limit much easier and more frequently than other foes. Just like one of the heroes, he takes less damage and cannot be made to stagger in this state. Back off while Botta is covered in a black cloud and command Kratos to heal party members while commanding others to take Apple Gels and Orange Gels where necessary.

When casting magic, Botta cannot be interrupted. As magic circles spread under him, break off attacking and run away. His Stalagmite spell can inflict enough damage to KO characters. Use Life Bottles to revive the fallen, and quickly return to dueling with this master.

In the morning, Raine joins the party as a playable character and presents the Monster List to Lloyd.

Puzzle Solution: Lighting the Triet Ruins Wall Scones

1. Enter the lava room through the south doorway. Defeat the lone enemy set to obtain a Memory Gem.

2. Ascend the steps and move left. Lloyd and Raine find a wall sconce. Shoot the Sorcerer's Ring to ignite the wall sconce, raising a platform nearby.

3. Light the wall sconce at the other end of the platform to raise two other platform sections.

4. Return to the passage and reenter the lava room through the east doorway.

5. Obtain the Apple Gel from the chest at the bottom edge of the platform.

6. Head to the north edge and open the two chests containing a Life Bottle and a Bracelet.

7. Push the two blocks on this platform into the space in the floor so that the wall sconce can be reached.

8. Shoot the wall sconce to raise a platform on the other side of the room.

9. Ascend the stairs to obtain a Savory, the Mumei and 1000 Gald.

10. Return to the surrounding passage and head to the north doorway.

11. Follow the platform around a corner until you find a stone block. Push the stone block toward the wall sconce in the nearby wall and drop it into the floor niche. Make sure to check for the Stiletto in the treasure chest here.

12. Light the wall sconce with the Sorcerer's Ring to raise the final floor section in the room. Go through the area raised and head upstairs. Move upward to the chest containing a Circlet.

DO NOT OPEN THE TREASURE CHEST IN THE NORTH SECTION OF THE OUTER PASSAGE UNLESS YOUR CHARACTER ARE AROUND LEVEL 20. THE TREASURE CHEST IS ONLY A FAKE MONSTER, WHICH IS A TOUGH BATTLE FOR YOUR PARTY AT THIS STAGE.

HOWEVER, IF YOU'RE DEAD SET ON JUMPING INTO BATTLE, KNOW THAT THE FAKE CANNOT BE HIT BY MAGIC. HAVE GENIS AND KRATOS CHAIN-CAST MAGIC WHILE LLOYD STAYS CLOSE TO THE FAKE. KEEPING LLOYD CLOSE TO THE MONSTER PREVENTS THE FAKE FROM USING LONG-RANGE ATTACKS AGAINST THE OTHER PARTY MEMBERS. IN A PINCH, COLETTE'S ANGEL FEATHERS IS A GREAT SPELL TO CALL UPON AS WELL.

With this group, you can benefit from the capabilities of two healers. The Clumsy Assassin is the weaker opponent in terms of defensive capabilities and HP, so defeat her first. After successfully striking her, defend from her next attack. Take down the Assassin, and then go after her Guardian with aerial attacks.

Danger in the Ossa Trail Mine

The Assassin opens the mine-shaft. Enter the mine and navigate through the tunnels to collect the various items. In the cave where a Beast Fang and an EX Gem Lv1 lie, there is also a black skull. This monster is the Sword Dancer, detailed in the "Side Quests and Sub Events" section of the Appendices.

An Unfortunate Accident

Head south from the docks. Clumsy Colette gets the party into serious trouble by breaking the young woman's Palma Potion. The party cannot leave Palmacosta until they give the adventurers a Palma Potion. You can move past the bullies far enough to enter the Skipper's Haven Inn, where the fee is 200 Gald per night. After purchasing a Palma Potion, give it to the thugs standing in front of the inn. Exit town and explore the southeast continent of Sylvarant.

No one leaves Palmacosta until the ruined Palma Potion is replaced.

Desian Harassment

Cross the bridge and enter the second door, which is Marble's tool shop. The party witnesses Desians badgering Chocolat and her mother Cacao. Speak with Cacao and view the shop list for Marble's. Palma's unique potion sells for 1000 Gald per bottle. Purchase the potion and go settle your troubles with the angered adventurers. If you do not have 1000 Gald at the time of viewing the shop list, Cacao suggests taking up a waitress job at the Palmacosta Academy cafeteria.

Desians make trouble for Cacao and her daughter, Chocolat.

In the ladies' bedroom upstairs, check the rear bookshelf to read further literature regarding the Desians.

The Book of Regeneration... Stolen!

Continue heading east until the party catches sight of Governor-General Dorr. Follow Dorr into his building. An impostor took Dorr's Book of Regeneration, and is headed for Hakonesia Peak to the north. The Church of Martel is across from the Governor-General's office. Speak to the pastor inside the church to learn more about the Book of Regeneration. Speak to Chocolat inside the Martel Church for additional information on the situation between Palmacosta and the Desians.

Be sure Colette speaks to Pepe in the courtyard.

Speak to the guard standing outside the Governor-General's building to trigger an optional bonus scene between Lloyd and Kratos.

The Governor-General has lost the required Book of Regeneration.

Palmacosta Academy

The Academy is the building next to the church. Pompous students at the academy challenge Genis to prove his intelligence. If you decline the challenge at first and wish for another chance, speak to the blonde-haired student in the first floor library. The first door in the second floor corridor leads to a practice room where Raine asks some "practice" questions. Your answers to these questions determine how well Genis does on the test.

Examine the hoop-toss stand in the corner under the stairs to find the bizarre Wonder Chef once again. The recipe of the day is Omelets, which requires Rice and Egg to prepare.

Answer the questions correctly in the practice session to score perfect on the test. Regardless of the outcome, Genis is awarded the title, "Honor Roll".

Serve Up the Food!

The cafeteria is inside the Palmacosta Academy on the first floor of the building. Speak to the cook behind the counter, who asks Colette to become a waitress. If you triggered the event with Cacao in which she suggests the job, the cook gives a free Palma Potion for your effort. Play the Waitressing mini-game as much as you want to earn Gald.

If you didn't trigger Cacao's job suggestion, the cook will NOT give you a Palma Potion. You must buy it!

The trick to being a good waitress is to write down everyone's order! Quickly jot down each order on a scratch pad, as well as the color of the person's hair or some other physical attribute.

Between Palmacosta and Hakonesia Peak

Head north toward Hakonesia Peak. Stop by places such as Nova's Caravan and the House of Salvation during the trip. Nova's Caravan is parked in a small forest due east of Palmacosta. Speak to Nova's two children and his wife regarding a large glowing bird they saw. The daughter on the far left gives the party the Linkite Nut.

Aquatic enemies are only encountered on the beaches near Palmacosta.

Search for a treasure chest behind a lone mountain near the southern coastline to receive an EX Gem Lv2.

Nova's Caravan now provides important clues in the search for Aska.

Sheena is the assassin attempting to kill Colette. She waits at the House of Salvation in the Palmacosta region.

The Guide Post Monument for the northern half of the continent lies on a long stretch of land extending off the eastern coast.

Hakonesia Peak

The guards halt your advance when attempting to move through the gates at the end of the path. They direct you to purchase a Pass from the person inside the town below. The old man inside the building, Koton, is asking an unaffordable price for a Pass. He has the Book of Regeneration. To view the Book of Regeneration, you must bring Koton the Spiritua Statue from the House of Salvation. The priest at the House won't release the statue until the Head Priest returns. Exiting Koton's town, the party learns that Desians are headed for Palmacosta.

The guards let no one through the gates without a Pass.

Koton will not let you read the Book of Regeneration without the Spiritua Statue.

Head east from Hakonesia Peak along the line of mountains to find a field treasure chest containing a Magic Mist. This accessory allows for quicker escapes in battle.

The priest inside the House of Salvation won't hand over the Spiritua Statue. You must return later when the head priest is returned.

Public Execution

Return to Palmacosta and stay at the inn. Head to the central square at the east end of town. The party must fight Desians.

The person standing near the exit of town requires escort to Hakonesia Peak. Choose the first option to quick jump directly to the peak, or choose the "part of the way" option to go to the House of Salvation.

You must choose whether to return to Palmacosta to deal with the duplicitous Governor-General, or stay at the Ranch and free Chocolat and the other prisoners.

Choose whether to stay and fight or return to Palmacosta and, ...er, fight.

Storming the Gates

Head toward the front gates of the Human Ranch. Fight the soldiers outside the gates, then fight the soldiers in the courtyard.

Although charging through the front gates is not subtle, your party is bound to improve from the experience.

Radar Ring

Use the device just inside the facility to change the power of the Sorcerer's Ring. Using the ring causes the screen to tint green, revealing hidden items and machinery. Head through the door on the left. Defeat the enemy patrol in the first room to receive a Memory Gem. Use the Sorcerer's Ring while standing in the first area to reveal a glowing orb near the door. Examine this orb to obtain an Apple Gel. Find the rest of the hidden items in this corridor using the Sorcerer's Ring.

The first enemy in the first floor west corridor carries a Memory Gem.

WHEN ENTERING FROM THE SIDE ENTRANCE

THE STAIRS IN THIS CORRIDOR IS WHERE THE PARTY ENTERS THE RANCH IF YOU CHOSE TO RETURN TO PALMACOSTA FIRST. GO TO THE LOBBY TO CHANGE THE POWER OF THE SORCERER'S RING, THEN RETURN TO THIS CORRIDOR FOR THE ITEMS.

Electronic Bridges

Head east from the Sorcerer's Ring device. In the massive room, use the Sorcerer's Ring to reveal more items in the room. Use the Sorcerer's Ring and examine the pedestal near the corner ledge to raise a bridge to the next platform. The Refresher device in the southeast corner restores the party's HP/TP and also sells basic tools. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to see that the Evil Sorcerer enemy in the southeast corner is carrying the Purple Card. Defeat this enemy to gain the item. Raise the final bridge and obtain the Life Bottle hidden on the platform.

Examine the pedestals while the Sorcerer's Ring is creating a green tint to activate the bridges.

Certain enemies and characters throughout this area carry the three cardkeys required to progress farther.

TURN OFF THE BRIDGES!

AS YOU HEAD BACK TO THE EXIT, TURN OFF THE BRIDGES IN THIS ROOM. OTHERWISE, YOU WON'T BE ABLE TO ACCESS AN ITEM IN THE CENTER OF THE AREA.

Freeing the Palmacosta Prisoners

In the central room, use the Sorcerer's Ring to reveal the teleport point. Step onto the ring and press A Button to warp to the level above. Head west into the prison area. Lloyd assists the party in liberating the prisoners. One of the children gives Lloyd the Blue Card.

Liberate the prisoners to obtain the Blue Card.

The Red Card

Head east from the Memory Circle. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to reveal boxes that can only be moved while the screen is green. Push the boxes south into the floor niches to create access to the area below, to use the Refresher again if needed. Move east across the upper level and use the Sorcerer's Ring. Use the corner pedestal to create a bridge to the next platform. Cross over and descend the stairs. Colette procures the Red Card.

Use the Sorcerer's Ring to reveal hidden blocks. Push the blocks into place to reach the hidden EX Gem Lv2 and to access the refresher downstairs.

Use the Sorcerer's Ring to reach the area, so Colette can locate the final cardkey.

Warp Point Mayhem

Acquiring all three cardkeys, return to the 2F room with the Memory Circle and use the warp ring at the top of the room. All three cardkeys are required. The party warps to the first of several identical rooms with multiple warp points. The central warp ring of each room can be used to return to the area with the Memory Circle. Use of the Sorcerer's Ring reveals hidden items in each room. However, some of the hidden items actually trigger an extra battle. Use the puzzle solution below to navigate through the multiple warp rooms in the most beneficial manner.

The blue warp ring at the top of the room requires all three cardkeys to activate.

Puzzle Solution: Palmacosta Human Ranch Warp Labyrinth

1. In the first room, move left and use the Sorcerer's Ring. Take the Melange Gel near the warp ring, then step on the yellow warp ring.

2. In the second room, move north and use the yellow warp ring. Take the item near the entrance point, an Apple Gel. Then use the green warp point at the top of the screen.

3. The warp leads to a platform in the middle of the room of bridges. The spiral stairs exists as long as all three bridges in the room are inactive. Run up the spiral stairs and defeat the enemy at the top. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to find a Panacea Bottle.

4. Warp back to the room in the labyrinth. Use the bottom warp point.

5. Use the red warp point, then head south and use the yellow warp point. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to reveal a Life Bottle near the ring. Use the same warp ring to return to the previous room.

6. Go north and use the yellow warp. Head left in the next room and use the Sorcerer's Ring to reveal an item, an Orange Gel. Use the nearby yellow warp point.

7. Head north and use the yellow warp point. Use the western red warp point. The party sees Chocolat, and the north blue warp point leads to the boss fight.

PREPARING FOR MAGNIUS

BEFORE MEETING CHOCOLAT NEAR THE BLUE WARP POINT AT THE TOP END OF THE WARP LABYRINTH, HEAD DOWN THE RIGHT PLATFORM TO FIND A SEALED MEMORY CIRCLE. USE THE MEMORY GEM TO UNSEAL THE CIRCLE AND RECORD YOUR PROGRESS. USE ITEMS TO MAKE SURE EVERYONE IS CLOSE TO FULL HP AND TP, AND THEN USE THE SORCERER'S RING AND STEP ON THE BLUE WARP POINT.

MAGNIUS

Quickly defeat the underlings so you may concentrate better on the boss. Magnus frequently employs the familiar Beast Tech, as well as unique fire-based attacks. If playing as a fighter such as Lloyd or Kratos, launch one combo against him, followed by a quick Tech in Tetra Slash style. Then back away or use Guardian to defend against his imminent retaliation. Fighting Magnus is a lot like facing Botta, except for his higher HP. With Unison Attacks now at your disposal, make sure to use them to level the playing field or even to finish off the Grand Cardinal.

Stop by Marble's to give Cacao the bad news. Enter the Governor-General's office. Head downstairs.

Cacao is in for some bad news.

KILIA

Although this enemy sports a great deal of HP, she proves less of a threat than Magnius. Characters like Lloyd and Kratos should have a difficult time during the battle due to all of Kilia's physical strikes. After losing half of her HP, Kilia sprouts wings and a tail and begins to hover above the ground. Use Defense Techs frequently to greatly reduce damage inflicted. Try to prevent Kilia from floating into the backfield to interrupt magic casting. The Angel Feathers Tech causes the most damage to Kilia, so make sure that Colette has plenty of TP and that she casts this spell repeatedly.

Washtub Ride to the Geyser

Travel to the Thoda Island Sightseeing Boat Dock on the eastern coast, south of the Palmacosta Human Ranch. Allow Colette to speak to the pooch outside the building. The building doubles as a House of Salvation, so head upstairs and rest for 100 Gald if needed. Speak to Candy at the downstairs counter to obtain a ride to Thoda Island for 200 Gald.

The Thoda boat dock lies on the eastern coast of the continent.

Speak to Candy at the counter to ride a washtub.

Tourists at the Geyser

Another dog at the geyser area requires naming by Colette. Move south-east onto the raised platform. Genis freezes the geyser momentarily so that Lloyd can hop across the ice blocks to the other side. Move in the direction Genis says to obtain the Spiritua Statue.

Speak to the pilgrim near the entrance to purchase items.

Follow Genis' commands to get across the ice. This is easy!

Temple of Water

Examine the oracle stone on the raised area. Colette opens a tunnel and creates a bridge to the ledge. Proceed into the temple down the stone stairs. There is a device to change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring to shoot water, but do not use it yet. Follow the southwest tunnel into a two-level chamber. Go between the two columns on the right through a hidden doorway to reach a ledge with two treasure chests. Shoot fire from the Sorcerer's Ring to ignite the braziers, then shoot water from the ring to fill the buckets on the upper and lower levels of the room. Use the following puzzle solution to accomplish this.

Examination of the pedestal on the raised ledge reveals the entrance to yet another seal.

The device at the base of the stairs changes the function of the Sorcerer's Ring to shoot water.

Head through this hidden doorway to reach two chests containing items on a ledge in the next room.

HIDDEN TREASURE CHEST

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN FOR THE HIDDEN TREASURE CHEST JUST TO THE RIGHT OF THE ENTRANCE. INSIDE, YOU'LL BE PLEASED TO DISCOVER AN EX Gem Lv1.

Puzzle Solution: The Temple of Water Trial

In the room with the large scales at the top end, use the Sorcerer's Ring to ignite the two braziers on either side of the scale. The fire powers the device.

Use the device in the first room to change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring so that it shoots water. Enter the southeast tunnel, this time.

One of the enemies in this chamber drops a Memory Gem, which can be used to unseal the Memory Circle near the upper-level scale. Go to the bottom of the area and through the door into the room with the scales.

Push the tall block until it stands directly under the door.

Go back to the upper level and return to the room with the scales. Shoot the right bucket to fill it with water. The large platform on the left rises to the upper level. Return to the upper level and use the warp ring to reach the Seal of Water.

At the bottom scale, shoot the bucket to the right to fill it with water. The large platform on the left rises to the upper level. Return to the upper level and use the warp ring to reach the Seal of Water.

Target and eliminate the two Amphitras with Fire and Lightning Techs cast by Genis. Command the mage to use these Techs every turn, or he may cast useless spells. Meanwhile, prevent the monsters from reaching Genis or interrupting his casting time by attacking them with Lloyd's or Kratos' blade Techs. Since the creatures are floating, use Techs such as Tempest or Tiger Blade to strike them. Use Lloyd's Beast Tech to knock the bosses down, rendering them incapable of attacking for a few seconds while everyone heals up or recharges TP.

The sidekicks should be easy to eliminate, but the main boss can fire a horde of bubbles at a character, reducing their HP by as much as 200 HP per attack unless defended against. Keep everyone's HP high by commanding Kratos and Raine to cast First Aid or Nurse every few turns, and by using items in emergencies.

The grouchy clerk at Hurricane also trades Grade points for trade items. The Whirlwind shop is the small outdoor stand on the lower level.

Asgard is practically buried in the mountains southwest of Hakonesia Peak.

Head to the back of the first area of Asgard and proceed through the crumbling archway. Ascend the stairs until Raine begins lecturing everyone about the importance of the site. While Raine elaborates, slip around the outskirts of the massive altar to the rear. Two men are preparing to blow the entire ruin sky high. Head to Linar's house at the eastern edge of Asgard. After Harley angrily kicks out the party, return to the Asgard Ruins to speak with the Mayor.

Proceed through the archway and up the stairs to trigger events.

Create a First Aid shortcut for whichever healer is currently in the party—either Raine or Kratos. Assign the ability to the appropriate direction on the C Stick. This way, you can command the healers to replenish your health more quickly. The Windmaster's main attack is a spinning move. With the large scythe attached to his lower section, he can render almost 500 HP damage instantly. Try keeping your character above 500 HP at all times by calling often upon the healing arts of others.

While you try to keep the monster occupied by attacking it physically, command the Auto characters to use their most powerful spells and Techs against it. Replenish spell-casters TP immediately with Orange Gels, so that they will not resort to physical attacks when TP runs out. The Windmaster provides quite a fierce challenge, so use Life Bottles as necessary to stay ahead of the game.

Locating the Wind Shrine

Return to Linar's house to see how Raine's translation of the Map of Balacruf is coming along. Be sure to upgrade everyone's equipment before setting off to Balacruf Mausoleum.

Find the Wonder Chef in Asgard by examining the phonograph in the upstairs bedroom of Linar's house. The fabulous chef teaches you how to make the Meat Stew recipe, and turns over the ingredients Beef and Kelp.

Stay another night for 400 Gald at the Cool Breeze Inn. Kratos offers to train Lloyde further. Choose the second option to go with him for an additional scene of bonding.

The Unicorn in the lake is eventually freed, but more events must transpire first.

Asgard Region Markers and Skit Points

Unsealing the Tomb

Outside the temple, head to the straw awning on the far side of the area. Tucked behind the traveler is an obscured chest containing 1800 Gald. Ascend the central stairs, and Colette opens the temple door.

Open the chest tucked behind this traveler to obtain a hefty sum.

Blinded by the Wind

The sign to the east of the entrance cannot be read in the dark. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to ignite the nearby brazier. A strong wind whiffs out the flames immediately. The floor-spike trap near the entrance impales the character immediately, regardless of timing. Instead, ascend the stairs near the entrance and cross the floor-spike trap on the upper level. (Walk slowly across the floor to avoid triggering the trap.) Use the Sorcerer's Ring to ignite the braziers beside each plaque at the corner, then read them.

The wall plaque cannot be read because wind blowing through the tunnel extinguishes the brazier.

Cross the upstairs floor trap to avoid damage.

Read this plaque to learn how the clues relate to the colors of the wind mills in the next chamber.

Shutting Off the Wind Maching

Push the box off the ledge to the level below. Descend the stairs and defeat the enemy en route to obtain a Memory Gem. On the lower level, push the box onto the floor plate with similar markings to shut off the wind draft. Light the brazier east of the entrance and read the wall plaque. Use the Memory Gem to unseal the Memory Circle in this area.

Push the box off the ledge and onto the floor plate to shut off the wind.

Avoiding Death from Plaque to Plaque

Move carefully up the central passage, avoiding the slamming spikes. Ascend the stairs and head north to another wall plaque, this one already lit. Ignite the braziers standing to either side of the north door. Though the exit is open, you still need more clues to solve the puzzle in the room beyond. Head down the stairs. Read the wall plaque at the bottom. Head south to find another box. Push the box east onto another floor panel to stop the wind currents in this area. Go south to open a box containing a Beast Hide. Ignite the central brazier in order to read the wall plaque on the west wall. Return to the west side of the chamber. Light the brazier at the bottom of the stairs and read the wall plaque. This plaque describes a final solution to an upcoming puzzle.

Read all the plaques in the Mausoleum, to learn how to get through the dungeon.

Push another box onto a floor panel to stop two wind currents on the east side of the Mausoleum.

Ignite the brazier in the southeast part of the room to read the wall plaque to the left.

Chamber of the Windmills

Examine the device in the alcove under the north exit and change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring so that it emits a blast of wind. Go north into the next chamber full of windmills. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to start the windmills in the sequences described in the riddles of the previous chamber.

Change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring before proceeding to the next chamber.

Spin the windmills by blowing on them with the Sorcerer's Ring in the order described on the plaques in the previous chamber.

Puzzle Solution: Balacruf Mausoleum Windmills

To solve the puzzle, use the wind blast function of the Sorcerer's Ring to make the windmills spin in a certain order, according to the clues imparted in the wall plaque riddles scattered throughout the temple. Correctly starting the windmills spinning in a proper sequence causes two hidden items to be revealed and then unlocks the north door. After successfully entering a sequence, use the Sorcerer's Ring to stop all the windmills before starting them spinning again.

Use the Sorcerer's Ring to start the windmills in the following order:

- Start the red windmill on the left.
- Start the green windmill on the right.
- Start the yellow windmill on the right.
- Start the white windmill on the left.
- Start the blue center windmill.

A section of wall breaks open on the east side of the room, revealing an enemy and a box containing an EX Gem Lv2. Stop all the windmills using the Sorcerer's Ring on each, then start them again in the following order:

- Start the blue center windmill.
- Start the red windmill on the left.
- Start the yellow windmill on the right.
- Start the white windmill on the left.
- Start the green windmill on the right.

Another section of wall crumbles, this time revealing an enemy and box on the left wall containing a Blue Ribbon. Stop all the windmills and then start them again in the following order:

- Start the red windmill on the left.
- Start the yellow windmill on the right.
- Start the green windmill on the right.
- Start the white windmill on the left.
- Start the blue center windmill.

An unlocking sound emits from the north door. Examine the north door to open it and proceed to the seal of wind.

The close-range melee attacks of the monster cause intense amounts of damage. Plus, the monster warps around the area. There's no way to prevent it from attacking and interrupting magic casters. Characters that attack mainly by striking at close range should have extreme difficulty surviving the battle. The advisable way to confront Iapyx is with the magic attacks of Colette, Raine and Genis. Genis' Wind-based and Lightning-based Techs are useless against the monster, but any other Tech suffices. Unless you are playing as one of these characters, stand away from the boss and command the others to cast applicable magic. Meanwhile, play the healer and use items or Techs to restore HP and TP by opening the Combat Menu frequently. Keep tabs on your progress by using a Magic Lens on the boss. When its HP drops below 2000, charge the monster and strike it with powerful sword Techs to end the battle.

Secret Entrance

Return to the Asgard Human Ranch. Examine the boulder near the entrance to uncover a secret entrance with the help of the Desian Orb. Defeat the Desians in the control room. Raine determines that the party must split into two groups. Speak to the two characters you wish to accompany Lloyd and assign them to the "infiltration" group.

Examine the boulder near the entrance to find a secret way into the Ranch.

Choose two characters to accompany Lloyd, and then set off to infiltrate the facility.

UNCERTAIN WHOM TO CHOOSE?

THE GROUP THAT LLOYD CHOOSES MUST EVENTUALLY FIGHT KVAR, THE BOSS OF THIS STAGE. CHOOSE EITHER RAINE OR KRATOS FOR THEIR HEALING ABILITIES, AND THEN ANY OTHER CHARACTER.

The Infiltration Group

The central device in the lower portion of the control room allows the party to purchase basic tools or completely recover. First explore the Exsphere storage room northwest of the control center. Grab the items from the chests in both aisles. Examine the device in the lower west corner of the room and choose the "Shutdown" option to stop the machinery. Proceed through the southwest door in the control room to the familiar factory area. Examine the Sorcerer's Ring device to change the function of the ring. The firing range of the ring is extended. Run along the moving conveyor belts and fire the Sorcerer's Ring into the center. Hit all six cylinders to stop the conveyor belts. Proceed to the northwest corner of the factory. Take the EX Gem Lv2 from the chest and continue into the next room. Use a Memory Gem to unlock the Memory Circle near the warp point and save your game in preparation for the upcoming boss. Step on the warp point. The scene shifts back to the control room, and the deactivation group.

Stop the machinery in the chamber northwest of the control room, or you will not be able to shut down the entire factory.

Examine the control panel on the west side of the factory room to learn how to shut down the conveyors.

Move against the conveyor belts and fire at the six cylinders in the center of the factory.

The Deactivation Mission

Leave the control room through the southeast door and go through the lobby to the courtyard. In the courtyard, navigate into the area between the storage crates. Push the first crate inward, then move around it and push the crate into the passage. Drag the two boxes away from the door and push them aside. Head northeast in the corridors. Go through the open doorway and examine the blue floor plate. The door to the chamber on the right opens, and yet seals the room you are in. Grab the Card of Earth from the chest and enter the west door. Defeat the Desians to release the prisoners. Continue through the lower level door in the west wall. Take the Stun Charm from the treasure chest and examine the floor panel to slide the nearby door. You are sealed in the area, therefore...

Return to the prison area, and head through the south door. Access to both switches is now available. Defeat the Raybit enemies to deactivate both switches. The action switches back to the infiltration group. Save your progress at the Memory Circle, then step on the warp ring and proceed to Kvar's room.

Rearrange the crates to reach the door in the northeast corner in the courtyard.

Examine the floor panels at the east and west sides of the corridor to reposition the doors.

Free the slaves in the central chamber, then use the chamber to move between corridor sections.

The Party Splits Again

Travel to the Tower of Mana north of Luin. Use the key to unseal the front door and enter. To enter the tower, the party must split into two groups. Lloyd and Colette must go in the first group, plus one other member. Choose Raine or Kratos, and proceed through the northeast door.

Inside the tower lobby, three members must stay behind. Choose a third member to go with Lloyd and Colette.

Key to the Tower

Return to Hima. For a shorter trip, return to Luin. There is a traveler near the fountain who requires escort to Hima. Agree to guide him and the party quick jumps to Hima. In front of the inn at Hima, the party saves Clara from death. The monster flees, dropping the Tower Key.

This poor guy in Luin needs an escort to Hima. This serves as a temporary quick jump function between the two towns.

Stop the slaughter in front of the Hima inn to obtain the Tower Key.

Channeling the Light

Ascend the spiral ramp. The second enemy group on the ramp drops the Memory Gem when defeated. In the room at the top of the spiral ramp, use the Sorcerer's Ring to burn the red curtain at the top of the room. A ray of light appears in the chamber. Move the mirror object to the center point of the room to split the light in two directions. Head through the west door. On the balcony, use a Memory Gem to unseal the next Memory Circle and save if desired. Examine the machine at the bottom of the balcony to change parties.

The default function of the Sorcerer's Ring allows you to burn red curtains throughout the Tower.

Push the split mirror block to the center of the room to open the exit.

Done with Mirrors

The top door in the tower foyer is open. Proceed into the next chamber. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to burn the red curtain to the left. Move the mirror object to the center point of the room to bend the light toward the north door. Proceed north. In the large two-level chamber, move left from the entrance and use the Sorcerer's Ring to burn the red curtain. Rearrange the four mirror objects to reflect the beam of light to the three spherical objects in the room. Set the mirrors in the positions shown in the diagram below. Proper arrangement creates bridges of light between the balconies above.

Convergence

Proceed through the connecting chambers and follow the spiraling ramp to the top. Cross the bridge of light formed over the two-level room. Guide the second party over the two newly formed light bridges and join the rest of the party members near the warp point. Rearrange the party to include Colette, and make sure everyone is properly equipped before stepping on the warp ring.

The lower warp ring takes the party to the seal, and a tough boss fight!

Since most of the creature's attacks can penetrate defense fairly well, use Defensive Techs to reduce damage to frontline fighters.

After Sheena joins the party and after speaking to the man inside the House of Salvation in the Asgard region regarding the unicorn, visit Lake Umacy north of Asgard. Return to the Thoda Island Geyser and reenter the Temple of Water. In the room where Colette broke the seal, fight and defeat Undine.

At Lake Umacy, Sheena reveals how she can rescue the Unicorn from the bottom of the lake.

UNDINE

Sheena must be in the party to attack Undine. While two fighters such as Sheena and Lloyd attack the creature up close, two magic casters such as Raine and Genis should provide support from the rear. Command Genis to cast spells with other than Water or Ice elemental qualities. Also, command Sheena to summon Corrine. Meanwhile, if you are on the frontlines then attack Undine until she begins to cast magic. At the moment of her casting, use Defense Techs to lower damage received. Continue assaulting her until she relents. The best way to avoid Undine's Spread spell is to guard and backstep. Keep this in mind if you see her begin the spell.

The Rejuvenation of Pietro

Go back to Lake Umacy after defeating Undine. Sheena summons the water spirit to revive the Unicorn. The creature bestows upon Colette the Unicorn Horn. Raine gains the title, "Grand Healer" and the Resurrection Tech. At Hima, enter the second floor room of the Inn. Raine uses the Unicorn Horn and Boltzman's Book to heal Pietro. Leave Hima and return to Luin. Pietro stands near the town entrance. Speak to him if you wish to donate Gald to the reconstruction of Luin. Rebuilding the town is a side quest detailed in the Appendices chapter at the back of this book.

Rescue the Unicorn at Lake Umacy to receive the Unicorn Horn.

Visit Pietro at the inn in Hima.

Pietro leads the efforts to rebuild Luin. Donate 5000 Gald right away you can spare it.

Tying Up Loose Ends in Sylvarant

Complete several side quests now before returning to Hima and riding the dragons to the Tower of Salvation. Head south from Hima to the bridge connecting the north and southwest continents. Return to Ossa Trail and defeat the Sword Dancer monster in the mines before the scene with Lloyd and Colette on the Hima mountain top. Return to Dirk's House and speak to him. If you obtained the Figurine Book from Harley at Asgard, Dirk begins processing pellets into action figures of the characters. Regardless of whether you have the figurine book, Dirk gives Lloyd several items.

Dirk engages in pellet processing and figurine crafting, when Lloyd returns home with the Figurine Book.

The Sylphs

Visit Balacruf Mausoleum and navigate to the seal on top of the temple to battle the Sylphs. If you wait until later to defeat the Sylphs, they will have more than 10,000 HP each.

Set all characters to the Attack Same strategy to eliminate the Sylphs one by one. Though normal boss strategy is usually to defeat the weaker sidekicks first, the varied abilities of the Sylphs call for a change in pecking order. Sephie, armed with a sword, is capable of inflicting the most damage and attacks frequently. Take her down first. Yutis with the bow should be your next target, since her arrow shots interrupt magic casting and summoning. Fairess, equipped with a shield has the greatest defense and attacks less frequently, so defeat her last. For defeating the Sylphs, Sheena also acquires new summon abilities and the Opal.

God of Fire

Navigate to the center warp point of the Triet Ruins, and return to the room of the seal. Defeat Efreet now, because its HP rises to 30,000 if you wait until later in the game.

Return to Triet Ruins on the southwest continent of Sylvarant to take on yet another powerful Spirit.

STOMP THAT FAKE!

OPEN THE TREASURE CHEST AT THE NORTH END OF THE PASSAGE TO ENCOUNTER A FAKE MONSTER. BY USING MAGIC (FAKE'S IMMUNE TO PHYSICAL ATTACKS), THIS CREATURE SHOULD BE EASY TO DEFEAT. AN ALL-DIVIDE AND A SPIRIT BOTTLE ARE GAINED IN THE UNDERTAKING.

Efreet

Take on Efreet with Sheena, Lloyd, Raine and Genis or Colette. Raine must heal the party often, but if characters die, she casts Resurrection, which takes longer. Use Life Bottles to revive fallen allies rather than waiting for Raine to cast magic. Make sure that Raine, Genis or Colette retains plenty of TP by using Orange Gels as needed. If Efreet begins to cast magic, break off from attacking and defend to reduce damage from his Eruption spells. Constant use of items and healing Techs is crucial to survival. A skit involving Kratos and Lloyd soon becomes available. Kratos makes the "Mastering" section of the Training Manual available. At the peak of Hima, the characters mount the dragons and ride to the Tower of Salvation.

Ground-Shaking Events

Enter the Tower of Salvation and proceed to the warp ring at the back of the interior. Remiel must be defeated. If the player loses against the successive enemies, the game continues regardless. The third boss cannot be defeated during an initial game. Only in a replay game, by applying replay bonuses, can Yggdrasill be defeated.

The party is surprised in more than one way inside the Tower of Salvation.

The angel attacks with strong holy magic, so quickly that defense is nearly impossible through half the battle. Meet Remiel with physical strikes as well as magic Techs cast by Genis. The angel is strong versus Light, so make sure that Raine is not attempting to cast Photon against him. Revive fallen characters with Life Bottles rather than Raine's Resurrection spell, and if she is a CPU controlled character then set her Strategy to Support, to make sure that she casts spells like Barrier and Nurse. Meanwhile, hit Remiel with at least one Unison Attack during the battle and try to make him stagger as often as possible. After this battle, take the time to cook up your best recipe to prepare for what's coming next.

KRATOS

HP: 22,500	S: Light
TP: 1500	EXP: 3280

Defeating the traitor Kratos is extremely difficult, but possible. Raine should act the same as in the previous battle. Keep a constant eye on the HP and TP meters of all characters, and use every item you've got to sustain the party. Avoid trying to chain together too many attacks, or Kratos may inflict severe damage.

Instead, strike him with a regular three or four hit combo and then defend against his next attack. Kratos employs an extended thrust attack wherein he strikes the character several times and then finishes off with a lightning attack. The combo lasts longer than any character can defend, and causes Guard Break constantly. The key is to use the Defense Techs that Kratos himself taught to the party, to reduce the damage sufficiently. If you still lose to Kratos, the game continues anyway.

Yet another complex puzzle must be solved inside the Sylvarant Base.

Puzzle Solution: Sylvarant Base Multi-Room Puzzle

1. Push the two blocks onto the lift to form a bridge from the top of the stairs to the platform. Push the blue block off the platform.

2. Push all three blocks to the east side of the room. Form a bridge in the wide space between the two platforms, as well as the small space to the right. Then you may reach the chests containing the EX Gem Lv2 and the Straw Hat.

3. Push the blue block onto the blue floor panel to reveal a stairwell nearby.

4. Push the two remaining blocks back onto the floor lift in a vertical line. Descend the stairs to the room below.

5. Fire an electric orb at the column north of the control panel to power the lift. Examine the control panel and lower the lift with the boxes. Cross the boxes to the south side of the room.

6. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to charge the column at the base of the platform, then examine the console to drain the water from the aqueduct.

7. Cross back to the north part of the room and push the blue box into the empty aqueduct. Then use the stairs to descend into the trench and push the box left onto the blue floor panel. The lock is released and you may exit through the south door.

Getting Acquainted with the Imperial City

At the gates of Meltokio, Sheena leaves the party. She hands over Sheena's Letter to give to the king. To the right from the entrance is the inn. The price is 300 Gald per night. Head up the central stairs to the mid-level of the city. The party encounters the famous lady-killer, Zelos. Go west on the mid-level to the weapon and customization shop. Examine the cat toy at the back of the shop to encounter the Wonder Chef. He teaches the recipe for Steak and hands over the ingredients, Beef and Onion. On the highest level of Meltokio, head east and enter the gold two-story house. Examine the present with the chef's hat on the second level balcony to find the Wonder Chef again. This time he teaches the Fruit Cocktail recipe and gives you two foods from the fruit category.

As in Sylvarant, the Wonder Chef is encountered in several areas throughout Tethe'alla.

The Wonder Chef has a second hiding place on the second story of the Tethe'alla Chosen's mansion.

1. Push a garbage cube south to the first corner of the catwalk. Change size and cross the cobwebs. Change size again, move in front of the cube and drag the cube one space to the right. Shrink and then move behind the cube. Change to large size and push the cube towards the right to the next corner, and drop it off the catwalk to form a path below.

2. Head downstairs and follow the path created in the rail under a bridge. Ascend the stairs and shrink to fit between the bars of the cage. Change to normal size and open the door of the cage.

3. Return to the catwalks overhead. Create a new garbage block and move it along the catwalk, shrinking and growing as necessary. Drop the garbage cube off the right side of the fourth corner, so that it lands in front of the open cage door.

4. On the lower level, push the garbage cube into the open cage and drop it in the central floor niche. The bridge on the west side of the room slides open.

5. Ascend to the upper level and create another garbage cube. Move the cube to the far end of the catwalk, and drop it to the platform below.

6. Go downstairs to the lower level and push the garbage cube off the platform into the water below, forming a path through the sewage to the yellow valve.

Wandering the Woods

Explore each area of the forest fully and locate all items before moving on to the next. If you take one of the paths too far north or south, the party enters a looping area. The only escape is to go back the direction you came. Defeat a death-type enemy in the fifth area to obtain a Memory Gem. The black skull in the fifth area is the Sword Dancer, waiting to challenge the party again. The monster remains in this location for a long time, so avoid fighting it until your characters are higher levels.

An unknown force seals the covered chest in the fifth area. The chest contains one of the Devil's Arms, and a special key is required to open it. Check the Appendices for more details. In the fifth area, head south. Unseal and use the Memory Circle in the sixth area and record your game. Proceed south to the final area to encounter the blue-haired convict from Meltokio's sewers. After defeating the blue-haired convict, leave the forest via the south exit.

Burn away the vines covering paths to continue.

Avoid fighting the Sword Dancer again at this relatively early stage.

While meeting with the Vice-Chief, Lloyd obtains the title "Gentle Idealist". Reenter the chief's hut and examine the old fashioned washing machine at the back of the corridor to find the Wonder Chef. The party learns the Ramen recipe and receives the ingredients, Panyan, Black Satay and Seaweed. Speak to Tiga the Vice-Chief twice to rest and recover, for free. Mizuho is now the number one place to stay for the night! The convict, Regal, joins the party. Return to Gaoracchia Forest. Head east and exit immediately. Cross the field map toward the town of Ozette.

Examine the washer in the entryway of the Chief's Hut to uncover the Wonder Chef.

Speak with the Vice-Chief twice to rest at Mizuho, free of charge.

Finding Toize Mine

Several locations can be reached by piloting the EC around the world. Look for docks where you can disembark and investigate. Most locations are only partially open or are outright closed off until later in the game. The Toize Valley Mine is located in the south region of the southeastern continent. A dock is located on the coastline south of the mine.

Obtained Rune Cape.

Remember to search the region surrounding the mine to find field treasure chests and skit points.

A few steps into the mine, the party encounters heavy resistance from the advanced defense system.

After the battle find the treasure chest to the right of the security system to find Sage.

Destroy the Auto Repair Unit in the center of the area, and then target the Defense System. The Guard Arms (8000 HP) attempt to protect the Defense System while the Auto Repair Unit recharges, but ignore them and continue assaulting the Defense System. When the Auto Repair Unit is fully functional once more, destroy it again and then attack the Defense System until it is destroyed. The Guard Arms are destroyed along with the main piece, awarding four pieces of Mythrill as well.

Dark Places in the Earth

Check behind overturned mine carts to find items. For instance, return immediately to the entrance and check behind the derailed cart to find an EX Gem Lv1. In the second cave, activate the machinery. A transport runs from one side of the room to the other. While in motion, fire the Sorcerer's Ring north to hit a switch. The transport changes course, delivering the party to the north ledge. Step on the elevator and descend to the area below. Withdraw the items in the three chests on this level, then examine the device located at the lower right ledge to change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring.

Ride the lift back to the upper level. Move left and press the X Button to set a mana bomb near the giant boulder. Step away far enough to avoid damage from the blast. Get on the lift again and return to the lower level. Change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring back to normal. Ride the transport and shoot the switch to change the direction of the platform to reach the east cave. Change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring to set mana bombs, then jump the gap between the ledges and ride the lift to the eastern ledge. Proceed into the next cave.

While riding the carrier from one ledge to the other, fire the Sorcerer's Ring at the switch while moving.

Defeat the enemy near the locked door to obtain a Memory Gem.

Ride the elevator to the level below and change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring so that it lays bombs.

Gnomelette's Demand

Demolish boulders blocking the path by setting mana bombs on the ground beside them. Collect the five items located in treasure chests throughout the cave. Activate the Memory Circle near the north wall, and use it before proceeding. Speak to Gnomelette 1 who is roaming the central depression, near the location of the Silk Robe. Gnomelette 1 requests a potion. Give him a Palma Potion or a Mizuho Potion. He returns to the Temple of Earth, which the party explores at a later time.

Give Gnomelette 1 a potion item to send him back to the Temple of Earth, where the little smart-mouth belongs.

Concentrated Mana Monster

Follow the path east from the Memory Circle. Stepping on a floor plate springs a rolling boulder trap. Though Regal points out the location of the deactivation switch, do not turn off the trap just yet. Farther around the corner is a Bacura monster. Goad the monster toward the trap by moving a few feet ahead of the monster without going too far. Avoid touching the monster or a battle that cannot be won ensues. When the Bacura is close enough, run up the hill and step on the floor plate to spring the trap. Run for safety in the niche off to the side. With the right timing, the boulder rolls downhill and smashes the Bacura. Ride the lift down to the level below and examine the Bacura's smashed remains to find the Evil Eye. This is one of the Devil's Arms required to fulfill a side quest.

Lead the Bacura toward the boulder trap in order to crush it.

CAN'T RUN FAST ENOUGH?

IF YOU ARE HAVING TROUBLE STEPPING ON THE FLOOR PLATE BEFORE THE BACURA ESCAPES, EQUIP LLOYD WITH AN EX GEM LV2 AND SET HIS PERSONAL EX SKILL. WITH THIS, YOU SHOULD BE ABLE TO MOVE FAST ENOUGH TO SPRING THE TRAP BEFORE THE BACURA SLIPS AWAY FROM THE ROLLING BOULDER.

Locating the Inhibitor Ore

After destroying the Bacura, proceed down the stairs and past the waterfall. Destroy the boxes with bombs to reveal a chest containing the Inhibitor Ore.

Bomb the crates beyond the waterfall to find the Inhibitor Ore.

Directing Lightning

Head through Gaoracchia Forest toward Ozette, and then veer left on the field map and head north to the pier. Pilot the EC to the Temple of Lightning, which is the vine-covered tower on the northernmost island. There are three paths heading north. Move up the east path and examine the device to raise the lightning rod. Now, examine the middle rod to lower it, then return to the right rod to lower that one. Finally, head to the left rod and raise it.

Stepping on the floor seal directs lightning to the lowest rod, destroying the blue box blocking the path. Follow the path to the end and change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring so that it emits blue lightning. Head east and use the Sorcerer's Ring to destroy the blue boxes blocking the path north. Open the treasure chest to obtain a Silver Guard. Proceed up the central stairs to the next area.

Raise the lowest lightning rod, and lower the other two so that lightning only strikes this tower.

Use the blue lightning of the Sorcerer's Ring to destroy blue boxes blocking your path.

Ring of Blue Thunder

Ascend either staircase to the left or right to reach the seal of Volt at the top of the room. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to eliminate the blue box in the stack. Return to the lower level and destroy the blue box with the Sorcerer's Ring. In the next chamber, destroying the blue box to the left releases an additional foe. Avoid stepping in the water or the party suffers electrocution damage. Ascend the stairs on the west side of the room. Wait for lightning to strike and illuminate the dark rooms when navigating. Frequent movement encourages lightning to strike more often.

Acquire each lightning color to destroy the boxes stacked atop the seal to lower the lightning rod and summon Volt.

Ascend the stairs in the water filled chamber.

Be careful not to walk off the edge of the path in the darkness between lightning flashes!

Long Descent to Obtain Yellow Lightning

Emerging from the dark room, head south through the doorway to the balcony area. Head to the right along the balcony and use the Sorcerer's Ring to destroy the blue box floating just off the edge. A treasure chest drops to the level below. Activate the lightning rod to destroy the platform, dropping the party to the level below. Open the chest to receive an EX Gem Lv3. Head left, destroy the blue box to drop another chest, then use the lightning rod to drop the party down to the next level. The chest contains a Duel Helm.

Move left and destroy the blue box to drop another chest to the bottom level. Open it later to obtain an EX Gem Lv2. Head east across the balcony, drop another chest hovering off the right edge, then raise the lightning rod to destroy the platform and drop the party. The chest contains a Thunder Scepter. Raise the lightning rod on the lowest balcony. The pool of water on the level below is no longer electrified. Head east through the door into a darkened room. The fastest route to the bottom is to simply run off a ledge and drop. Return to the chamber filled with water and descend the stairs. Deactivate the central lightning rod and use the device to change the Sorcerer's Ring. The ring now emits yellow lightning.

Search the ends of the balconies to find lightning rods and chests suspended on blue boxes. Destroy the boxes to drop the objects they hold.

Raise lightning rods to obliterate sections of the balcony, dropping the party to the next level down.

After redirecting the lightning away from the water, change the power of the Sorcerer's Ring at the device.

Using the Yellow Lightning

Go all the way back to the entrance, and head west. Destroy the two yellow boxes to reach a chest containing a Shining Star. In the chamber with Volt's seal, eliminate the two yellow boxes in front of the western door and the yellow box on top of Volt's seal. Go to the other side of the room and head through the east doorway. Navigate carefully through the dark room, moving in the residual glow between lightning strikes. On the balcony, use the Sorcerer's Ring to destroy the yellow box hovering off the edge. A lightning rod drops to the room below. Return to the room filled with water, move to the right and raise the lightning rod atop the generator. Head west through the dark room. Reaching the level above, cross the bridge and carefully descend through the eastern dark room without falling. A chest obscured by an overpass contains a Spirit Bottle. On the bottom balcony, deactivate the lightning rod. Lightning now strikes the power generator in the water-filled chamber below.

Return to the entrance each time the function of the Sorcerer's Ring is changed and destroy the appropriate colored boxes to obtain more items.

Use the yellow lightning to destroy the box holding up a lightning rod just beyond the edge of the balcony.

Power Conduction

Return through the eastern dark path room to the level above. Activating the mechanism at the bottom of the tall chamber without properly creating a circuit to the boulder at the top causes lightning damage to the party. Ascend the stairs and defeat the enemy on the second level to obtain a Memory Gem. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to destroy the yellow boxes and disconnect all the power conduits shown in the diagram below. Activate the mechanism below to supply an electric charge to the conduits. If the electricity flows properly, the boulder falls from the top and smashes the bridge below. To get the Battle Cloak, send an electric charge to the conduit that's second from the left. This drops a treasure chest to the level below.

The Red Lightning Tasks

Descend the fallen bridge and exit through the south door. Change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring. The device now emits red lightning. Return to the tower's entrance and head east. Destroy the red boxes to reach a chest containing an EX Gem Lv3. In the room where Volt's seal lies, head through the west doorway and follow the dark path to the upper level. Eliminate the red boxes on the balcony to obtain Power Greaves for Regal. In the room filled with water, use a Memory Gem to unlock the sealed Memory Circle. Return to Volt's seal and destroy the red box. Raise the lightning rod to summon Volt.

The fallen bridge allows you to reach the final Sorcerer's Ring device.

Destroy the red boxes on the balcony to obtain a powerful new weapon for Regal.

Eliminate the final box at Volt's seal and raise the lightning rod to summon the spirit.

Pilot the EC through the tight waters and dock at this small island just a few miles southwest of the snowy continent.

Two of the Pass Codes

In the circular room, head east. Contact with a laser beam damages the party. Pull the blue box south and then push it east to block the beam. Continue east and enter the tiny room at the end. Defeat the enemy in the room to obtain the first portion of today's pass code. The full pass code eventually creates one of three sentences, based on the order in which certain enemies in the base are defeated.

Return to the corridor and reposition the blue block to bypass the lasers so that you may head north. Open the chest in the room to obtain a Silver Circlet, then move the blue box to bypass the lasers and reach the western exit. In the corridor, reposition the blue box so that you may travel west into a large room.

A New Renegade Hideout

Exit the Temple of Lightning and pilot the EC east into the snowy islands. Find a docking point on a small island west of the Temple of Ice (see Tethe'alla map.) Enter the Tethe'alla Base. Orochi guides the party to the control room. Speak to Orochi to receive complete healing for free at any time. Change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring to electrostatic charge emitter, use the Memory Circle to save, and purchase items at the refresher machine to the left.

Defeat the purple enemy to obtain another portion of today's pass code. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to charge the column, then examine the panel to the right and raise the lift bearing a blue block to the upper level. Return to the command center and speak to Orochi for healing, then explore the west side of the base.

Move the box in front of the laser beams to create a gap through which you can move.

An enemy in a small chamber bears one of the required pass codes.

Defeat the purple enemy in the large chamber to obtain another pass code.

The West Portion of the Base

In the corridor west of Orochi's position, search the two rooms to the left of the security beams to obtain an EX Gem Lv2 and a Card of Ice. Return to the corridor and push the blue box north to block the top beam. Head north. Go left in the corridor and enter the first door. Defeat the blue enemy in this room to obtain the third part of today's pass code. Obtain the EX Gem Lv3 from the chest and return to the corridor. Head north into the upper portion of the large room. Defeat the Raybit enemy to obtain a Memory Gem. Pull the blue box off the lift, and push it left and off the platform to smash the security laser device below. Return through the passages to the east side of the base. Return to the large room and open the two chests to the left of the smashed security beam device to obtain the Lightning Sword and Dragon Tooth weapons.

Push the box off the high platform to smash the laser beam device far below.

Defeat the blue enemy in the plush office to obtain yet another pass code.

Travel through the eastern corridors of the base back to the large room, and obtain the powerful weapons in the chests.

Working In the Cargo Room

Exit to the corridor and head north. Use a Memory Gem to unseal the Memory Circle on the ground. The shot-by-shot puzzle solution below details how to reach all the items in this room and reach the hangar where the Rheards are stashed. Save your game before proceeding to the highest level.

Puzzle Solution: Tethe'alla Base Cargo Room

1. Ascend the stairs across from the entrance and open the chest to obtain a Silver Mail.

2. Push the two blue boxes west and into the niches to form a bridge to the chest containing Lavender. Shoot the Sorcerer's Ring from an angle to charge the column and power the lift.

3. Push two blocks next to the stairs, climb the stairs halfway and move north on top of the blocks. Go west to grab the Aqua Cape from the chest.

4. Move one of the blue boxes onto the upper-right corner of the lift. While standing on the lift, examine the panel to raise the box to the mid-level. Push the box 1 space north onto the ledge.

5. Ride the lift back down and cross the upper level to the east side of the room. Pull the box east and drop it into the niche. Stand on the box and fire a charge at the column to power the southeast lift platform.

6. Use the central lift to return to the lowest level. Drag the remaining box onto the southeast lift and ride to the platforms high above.

7. Drag the blue box off the lift and push it north. Drop the box into the niche to create a connecting path to the chest that contains a Tomahawk Lance.

8. Head west and north to a chest containing a Beam Shield. Then return and use the Sorcerer's Ring to power the lift.

9. Descend to the lower level and pull the blue block off the lift. Push the block off the platform to bridge the gap to a suspended chest containing an EX Gem Lv3.

10. Exit the room and reenter to reset the boxes. Pull one of the boxes onto the east lift and rise to the high platform.

11. Move the box north and drop it in the niche to create a path to the north end of the platform.

12. Ride the lift to the uppermost level, enter the three pass codes obtained from the three enemies in the base, and enter the door to fight the Renegade leaders.

The best magic for Genis to employ is fire or water magic, such as his Eruption or Spread Techs. After commanding him to proceed this way, change everyone's strategy to "Attack Same" and go after Botta. Yuan naturally attempts to interfere, but try to ignore him and keep attacking Botta until he crumbles. Maintain the same strategy as the previous encounter, by attacking Botta and then anticipating and defending against his next blow.

The same strategy works against Yuan, except that Defense Techs such as Guardian are required to lessen damage done while defending against his myriad slashing attacks. Once Yuan sees Raine or Zelos heal, he has a tendency to go after them. If your healer is in trouble, break off fighting with Botta and go after Yuan until he focuses on your character and the healer escapes. Be sure to stand clear when Yuan twirls his dual blade overhead. Remember to recover TP as needed, since Techs are required to do sufficient damage to Yuan every round. When his HP drops below 50%, he begins performing Thunder Explosion more regularly. Keep your healer alive and healing, while preventing Yuan from slashing your party apart.

Free as a Bird

With the Rheards, you may now fly anywhere in Tethe'alla. Locate field treasure chests and skit points on the world map, as well as the remaining Guide Post Monuments. Remember to fly to Mizuho to rest and restock on essential items. Stop by Altessa's House and speak to Tabatha to learn the recipe for Curry. She gives you the ingredients, Rice, Onion, and Red Satay. Speak to her again to receive an EX Gem Lv3, a Metal Sphere, an Onion and an Exsphere Shard (if Dirk has not given these to you already). In Ozette, examine the wooden bear in the bedroom of Presea's house to locate the Wonder Chef. He teaches the recipe for Gratin, and hands over the ingredients Cheese, Pasta and Milk.

As most adventurers know, flying is better than hoofing it any day.

Before Entering the Temple...

After falling from the Dragon's Nest, the party lands just outside the Temple of Earth. We recommend a quick trip back to Mizuho to restock items and rest before entering the Temple. A few new sub events and side quests become available in Sybak and Meltokio. Check the Appendices for details.

Though you stand on the threshold of the Temple of Earth, do not be too hasty to dive in.

Trembling in the Earth

Inside the Temple of Earth, change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring. Pressing the X Button causes the ground to shake. Use this to destroy the obstacles further into the cave. If you failed to give a potion to Gnomelette 1 at the Toize Valley Mine, then Gnomelette 5 refuses to let you enter. Return to the mine if needed to settle matters there first.

Follow the path near the end of the bridge, which leads down to a cave to the east. Cross the bridge in the cave and open the lone treasure chest to obtain a Mythril Circlet. Cross the bridge and follow the north path a few feet until you spot debris on the character's right. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to shake the earth and create a path to the lower area.

Stand at the edge near a stack of rocks. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to topple the column and drop a chest containing a Mythril Guard.

Use the Sorcerer's Ring at this spot to create a path.

Be sure to open this chest containing a Mythril Circlet before proceeding with other tasks, or you may miss the opportunity to get the item!

Platform Destruction

Head north from the bridge and through the cave into the next chamber. Cross the wooden bridge and speak to Gnomelette 4 on the other side. Agree to cook it some Curry, and choose one of your better cooks to make it, i.e., anyone except Raine or Zelos. After speaking to Gnomelette 3, stand on one of the three crumbling wooden platforms and use the Sorcerer's Ring to destroy it, dropping the party to the level below. The platform destroyed determines the items available from the chests on the various cliffs. Use the secret passage to return to the cave entrance, then return and choose another path down the cliffs. Use the diagram to navigate and grab all the items.

Choose a good cook to make Curry for Gnomelette, or he might just charge you Gald to get by!

GALD. BATTLE THE DRAGON REPEATEDLY TO MAKE LARGE AMOUNTS OF MONEY!

Creating a Path to Gnome

Gnomelette 1 stands near the secret door at the bottom of the cliffs. Go through the secret passage back to the temple entrance. Speak to Gnomelette 3 near the entrance. Gnomelette 3 begins slowly walking toward the cave at the bottom of the slope. Run ahead of Gnomelette and defeat all of the monsters along the path. If any monsters touch Gnomelette, he charges several thousand Gald in penalties! Allow Gnomelette 3 to lead you into the next cave, then follow. He instructs you to help him break the bridge. Press the X Button the instant Gnomelette jumps in order to synchronize your attempts. Repeat this three times in a row to drop the bridge to the lower level. Use the Memory Circle to save your progress, then head toward the seal of Gnome.

Watch Gnomelette carefully on the bridge, and press the X Button the instant he jumps.

Try to summon the Sylphs at least once during the battle. Command Genis to use Wind magic. Perform a Unison Attack early in the battle, and then use Taunt EX Skills to refill the meter more quickly. Gnome's shovel attacks are frequent, swift and extremely damaging. Wait until just after the second he strikes, then try to make him stagger with a combo followed by one or two Techs, if you can manage. Gnome is an extremely tough opponent, in spite of his appearance.

One Last Gnomelette

Exit the Temple of Earth. In spite of the party's recommendations, return to Altessa's House and speak to the Gnomelette inside. Return to the Temple of Earth and head through the secret passage. Defeat the Dragon and speak to the Gnomelettes. All of them leave the Temple. Continue beyond their position to find a locked blue chest. This is the location of another Devil's Arms.

One last Gnomelette is hiding out at Altessa's House.

Winter Wonderland

The building to the left just inside town is the Olive Village inn. The cost is 500 Gald per night. Make Colette the onscreen character and speak to the dog roaming the first area. Another dog sits patiently near the food store located in the area beyond the doctor's office. Descend the stairs to the right of the entrance and speak to the man with a backpack in the courtyard regarding Celsius' Tear. Inside the Martel Church, examine the giant nutshell on a green pillow in the corner to find the Wonder Chef. The Chef teaches the Quiche recipe, and gives you the items to make it.

Enter the Snow White accessory shop in the northwest portion of town and speak with the old person sitting by the fireplace. He offers to make Penguinist Gloves if you bring him three Penquinist Quills, which are only dropped by Penguinists at or near the Temple of Ice. The weapons and customization shop is located near the large statues of the Wonder Chef, Bigfoot and some unknown character named Pac-Man. The clerk won't customize at this point, but he does exchange trade items for Grade.

The Power of Freeze

Grab the three items in the exterior zone and enter the temple. Change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring. The ring now freezes drops of water at several locations in the cave. Collect all the items in the cave and then exit via the upper opening.

A Mythril Shield is tucked in this partially obscured chest outside the cave.

Crossing the Snowy Continent

Exit Flanoir and head south to the Temple of Ice. Northwest of the temple is a skit point where Lloyd confronts Kratos. Believe it or not, con-

Don't miss important skit points in the Flanoir region.

Locating Celsius' Tear

At the crevice on the exterior ledge, press the X Button with just the right timing to freeze the drops falling from the icicles overhead. A block forms, fills the gap, and you may cross. Follow the exterior ledge to the lower cave. Celsius' Tear is located on the small cliff inside. Fight Penguinist enemies at the temple until you have collected at least three Penguinist Quills. Then exit the temple and return to Flanoir. Give the Penguinist Quills to the elderly man at the Snow White accessory shop, and he makes the Penguinist Gloves.

Change a drop of water into a block of ice with the Sorcerer's Ring.

More Freezing Opportunities

Return to the Temple of Ice and use the Penguinist Gloves to obtain Celsius' Tear in the upper cave. Go back inside and cross the bridge of ice. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to freeze the dripping water in the northeast corner of the cave. Drag the block of ice south a few feet, then push it west into the crevice and stand on the overlook. Lloyd spots the totem poles in the water below, their heads turned to look in specific directions. Freeze the dripping water in the southeast corner of the cave. Drag the resulting ice block west and drop it into the crevice so that you may cross.

Create a block of ice and drop it into the northern crevice to reach the overlook.

Note the directions the totems are facing. This is the solution to an upcoming puzzle.

Drop another ice block into the south crevice near the lake's edge.

Ice Skating

Examine the area where the water pours into the lake. Lloyd uses Celsius' Tear to freeze the lake. The ice can now be crossed. However, once you start moving in any direction you cannot change course until you contact a wall or obstacle. Use the diagram below to cross the ice and gain the items along the way.

Unlocking the Ice Seal

At the north end of the frozen lake, rotate the ice totem poles so they are facing the same directions as the identical ones submerged in the lake. The door to the seal opens.

Rotate the totem poles to match the screenshot of the stone poles above.

Seal: Fire on the weapons of melee fighters such as Lloyd, Regal, Presea and Zelos. Also command her to summon Efreet at least once in the battle, and protect her from harm while she calls upon the fire spirit. Unless an enemy is focused on eliminating Genis, try to defeat Fenrir first and then command everyone to attack Celsius.

Victims of Rodyle

Change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring, and then ride the elevator to the next level. Run around the exterior of the detention block and switch off all the security locks for the cell doors. Meanwhile, check at each corner to find three items in partially concealed chests.

Treasure chests around the detention level are tucked behind the corner juts.

Laser Line Express

Return to the elevator and ride up to the next level. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to summon a mobile transport chariot. The chariot never stops moving. When it reaches a fork in the path, the chariot turns in the direction indicated by the lights to the character's left and right. If the chariot contacts a sparking point in the path, the party suffers damage and paralysis status. Turn down alternate routes to avoid damage. Orange glowing rings elevate or lower the moving platform depending upon their direction. If the party comes to the end of a purple line, the chariot drops to the level below. Navigate toward the orange rings that point upward.

Use the Sorcerer's Ring on the platform to summon the chariot.

Contact with a sparking section of the beam causes damage and paralysis to the party.

Warp Ring Insanity

In the multi-level room, white warp rings change colors when the Sorcerer's Ring is used to create a sound. The color of the ring indicates destination. 3. Warp back to the first room and change the color of the warp ring to blue.

4. Teleport to the lowest level and change the white warp ring to pink. Move to the end of the room and disengage Lock 2.

5. Warp back one room and change the white ring to blue. This warps you up a level. Change the next white ring to pink, and warp again. Open the chest in this room to find an EX Gem Lv1.

6. Warp back and change the white ring to green. Head left under the stairs to find a Holy Cloak, then ascend the stairs and change the white ring at the top to blue.

7. Head left and open the chest to garner an EX Gem Lv2. Warp back.

Rodyle's blade arm attacks are surprisingly strong, damaging even well protected characters by as much as 400 - 1000 HP per hit. Even if the blow is softened by defending, Rodyle can still inflict over 100 HP damage! When controlling a melee fighting character in this battle, strike with a Tetra Combo and then use Guardian or another defense Tech to reduce damage from the blade as much as possible. Command Colette to perform Judgement if available, and try to perform at least two Unison Attacks during the battle. Refill the gauge faster by using "Taunt" EX Skills. Rodyle's Gravity Well attacks are extremely hard to avoid due to their wide range, but do your best and continue to assault the sinister Desian Grand Cardinal until he falls. It's a good idea to whip up a good recipe after the battle to prepare for what's in store—Baby Dragons.

Rising Tide

Following the battle with Rodyle, the party must fight three Baby Dragons. These are weaker creatures than the bosses previously encountered, with only 8000 HP each. If you can survive Rodyle, these monsters should be a snap. Mithos helps the party escape to Palmacosta. When exiting town, use the Quick Jump option to jump to the Sylvant Base.

Baby Dragons attack the party as they attempt to flee from the Remote Island Ranch.

Racing Between Worlds

Following the conversation with Yuan, space distortions appear above the Sylvarant Base and the Tethe'alla Base. Fly the Rheairs into the distortion to travel between Sylvarant and Tethe'alla at will. If you have not made pacts with Efreer and Sylph yet, return to Sylvarant and do so now. The HP of all Sylvarant's Summon Spirits is much higher than normal, so best of luck.

Travel between worlds by flying the Rheairs into the glowing orbs hovering over the Sylvarant Base and the Tethe'alla Base.

Settling Matters in Altamira

The group drops off Mithos at Altessa's House. After new revelations, Regal demands to go to Altamira. Ride the elemental railway to the Lezareno Company HQ. Following a long series of events, Regal gains the title, "El Presidente". To enjoy the Altamira nightlife, check in at the hotel and tell the clerk that you will go out at night. The fourth and fifth levels of the hotel only become available at night.

At night, the elemental railway only travels to the casino and theater area. Colette should name the dog outside the casino. Speak to the unlucky man on the bridge between the casino and the theater area. He offers to sell the Disaster for 1000 Gald. Buy the item, and take one step closer to collecting the Devil's Arms. Ready for bed? Examine the bed near the window in the penthouse on 5F. The party awakens in daylight.

To switch to night in Altamira, check in at the hotel and choose the option to go out at night.

On level 4F of the hotel, examine the green pumpkin to find the Wonder Chef. Learning how to make Spaghetti is fun, and the Wonder Chef provides the ingredients: Pasta, Onion and Tomato.

Pay the man on the bridge between the casino and the theater 1000 Gald to obtain a Devil's Arm.

The gladiators in the arena should be easy to handle for someone like Lloyd, Regal or Presea.

Penetrating the Dark

Return to the Temple of Darkness. The party can now see for a short distance in all directions. In the second, multi-level area, the party spots a fragment of Shadow, the Summon Spirit of Darkness. All five fragments must be gathered in the bottom area of the room. Shadows become inactive and turn purple if the party runs past light, if the character runs too far ahead, or if a battle is triggered. To "wake up" a shadow, touch it to turn it blue.

Search behind the marker in the entrance area to find an EX Gem Lv2.

Defeat the enemy near the light to obtain a Memory Gem.

Puzzle Solution: Temple of Darkness Shadow Gathering

1. Head east from the block with red "eyes" and go out the door. Descend to the middle of the stairs and examine the opening. Lloyd leaves the party and crawls through the space.

2. Examine the device to change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring. The darkness activates sets of moveable blocks within the temple.

3. Grab the block that Lloyd shot with the ring and pull it out one step. The other block with red lights near the entrance withdraws into the wall.

4. Rejoin the party and return to the upper area. Grab the block with the red eyes and push it all the way back into the wall. The block near the Sorcerer's Ring device slides out to create a path.

5. Head east to the stairs, and this time go all the way to the bottom. A chest containing a Headband is in a niche under the stairs. Go through the bottom door.

6. Follow the stairs and the ramp up to the middle level. Head west past the light and down a wide ramp. Follow the narrow path across the chasm to the east, and touch the shadow positioned above the Sorcerer's Ring device.

7. Lead the shadow back to the center, and use the Sorcerer's Ring to douse the lights along the path. Lead it down the steep ramp and douse the light at the bottom. The shadow waits near the Memory Circle for you to gather the others.

8. Head back up to the mid-level and use the Sorcerer's Ring to activate the block with dark blue "eyes". Push the block all the way into the wall, then head down to the exit at the bottom of the room.

9. Use the stairs outside the main chamber to reach the top of the temple. Cross the light-blue block and open the chest to obtain a Shadow Dancer. Lead the shadow across the block to the other side. Go through the east door.

10. Descend the stairs and go through the space to the platform where the Sorcerer's Ring device lies. Activate the block with red eyes and pull it outward.

11. Head back upstairs and return to the large chamber. Lead the shadow over and collect the other shadow on the way. Douse the lights along the path.

12. Lead the two shadows to the bottom of the double stairs, where yet another shadow waits. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to activate the block with green "eyes", and pull it outward. Lead the three shadows to the Memory Circle at the bottom of the large room.

13. Head back up the steep ramp and return to the area with two blocks and the double stairs. Activate the block with turquoise "eyes" and push it into the wall. A shadow on a cube below is pushed off a ledge.

14. Activate the block with green "eyes" and pull it outward again. Head to the level below.

15. Grab the block and move it into the niche to the right of the ramp. The shadow moves off the cube. Lead the shadow to the bottom of the steep ramp, then lead all the shadows down the other steep ramp into the next chamber below.

Deep in Darkness' Lair

Lead the five shadows down the steps and across the suspended platforms until you reach the lair of Shadow. At the intersection with a square block in the middle, explore the right path and the bottom path to find chests containing an EX Gem Lv2 and an EX Gem Lv4. Use a Memory Gem to unseal the Memory Circle and record your progress before leading the five shadows downstairs to the seal.

At this intersection, items can be found on the lower path and the right hand path. Head upward to reach the seal.

SHADOW

Shadow combines wide-area spells with harsh physical slaps, making him capable of rendering over 1000 HP damage to one or more of your characters. Its blows tend to smash through normal defenses. Employ Defense Techs instead. Keep a sharp eye on HP, and make sure that Raine or Zelos is healing the party through the entire battle. Raine should also cast Barrier to raise the Defense of the party. Once Shadow sees Raine performing such feats, it tends to single her out. Try to keep Raine alive by attacking Shadow from behind. Meanwhile, Colette needs to cast Judgement and her other Light Techs to cause as much damage to Shadow as possible.

Luna is the easier target to eliminate first, but Aska is a powerful creature that must be kept at bay. Therefore, if you are playing as a melee fighter such as Lloyd, target and attack Aska and set the rest of the party to Attack Far. This way, everyone else focuses on eliminating Luna. Aska is extremely hard to corner, however, so keep your melee fighter strong by using items. If KO'd, command one of the other characters to use a Life Bottle and try to resume this strategy as quickly as possible. Use Magic Lenses on both enemies. Pause the battle occasionally by holding the R Button and target the two foes to see how much HP each has left. Forcystus BOSS

Returning to Vindicate the Homeland

Enter the building and change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring. The ring now emits mana light. Each usage consumes TP. Scanning devices such as the one in the corridor inflict damage on the entire party if touched. Lloyd must choose the members of the reactor team. Since the other team does nothing, pick characters that you want to fight Forcystus. Take Raine, either Kratos or Zelos, and then any other character.

Search to the right of the control panel to find a hidden chest containing Lovely Mittens.

Use the blue ring devices at the top of the control room to rest and purchase items.

New Equipment for Everyone!

After choosing the reactor team, head north from the control center and collect the five weapons in the rooms to either side. Return to the control room and use the Sorcerer's Ring to activate the pedestals on either side of the west door. Navigate carefully through all the security scanners in the corridor. Defeat the Desians to save Chocolat and the other prisoners.

At this point, the members of the rescue team leave the party. Exit through the door on the lower level of the prison. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to open the rooms on the lower level to obtain all the items. Restore TP between ring uses with items and cooking. Carve a path through the numerous enemies to the east side of the lower level. Be sure to obtain the items from the south rooms, then use a Memory Gem to unseal the Memory Circle and save your game. Head through the northeast door to fight Forcystus. After the battle, exit the Ranch.

More than a dozen chests in the facility hold new equipment for every character.

Release the prisoners, then descend the stairs and explore the lower level.

Emit mana from the Sorcerer's Ring to activate the twin orbs outside each locked door.

Defeat the enemy near the location of the War Hammer and the elevator to obtain a Memory Gem.

After a long series of events, the ban is lifted and it is no longer necessary to enter Meltokio via the sewers. Colette obtains the title "Spiritua Reborn". After visiting with the king, head downstairs to the east wing of the castle and enter the archives. Upon learning that the cure to Colette's illness may lie in Heimdall, go to the throne room and speak with Hilda. She grants the party the King's Letter.

Afterward, speak to the lady in the easternmost house in the city of Meltokio for another scene regarding Presea's past.

Then, visit the man standing near the gravestone in Altamira. Presea obtains the title of "Mature Kid." (This only happens if you spoke to him before in Ozette.)

Regal's Research

Enter Altamira and speak to George in the President's Office level of the Lezaren Company HQ. Take the elevator to 2F. Kuchinawa appears and challenges Sheena to a duel. Fly to Sybak and enter the Imperial Research Academy. Proceed into the first floor corridor and enter the first door. Open the chest in the room to obtain the Zircon.

After speaking with George, take the elevator to the second level.

Duel at Mizuho

Return to Mizuho. Sheena and Lloyd must speak with the Vice-Chief. When ready to fight Kuchinawa, speak to Orochi near the village entrance. Attempt to defeat Kuchinawa in a one-on-one battle between he and Sheena. He is extremely difficult, and you cannot use items during the battle.

Kuchinawa is nearly impossible to defeat without the use of items. He will not allow you time to cast magic or summon. All you can do is attack and defend!

It's a good idea to be over level 55 at this point. Sheena should either have two Black Onyx's equipped or one Black Onyx and a Holy Symbol. This battle is extremely difficult since Sheena's defense is low. Focusing on HP and regen helps during the battle and having her Guard Plus EX Skill is another bonus (she'll be guarding a lot during this battle). A great tactic is to guard until Kuchinawa jumps into the air to throw shurikens and, while he's up there, run to him (under his shuriken attack) and execute a 3-hit combo with Pyre Seal. If Pyre Seal knocks him down, run over and smack him before assuming your guard once again. Once Sheena reaches Over Limit, you have two choices: Efreet for big damage or Undine for healing. Good luck!

If you lose the fight, the game continues anyway and Kuchinawa returns Corrine's Bell to Sheena. If you somehow manage to win, Sheena obtains the Asura card.

The Submerged Thicket

Fly to the southeastern continent of Tethe'alla, and land near the giant forest region on the northernmost tip of the land. Ymir Forest is due west of Altamira. Head north and change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring. The sound emitted causes colored plants in the forest to react and summon animals. However, some of the plants are missing or need to be grown. Climb onto the stump to the right of the ring device and use the ring. Using the ring near the pink flower causes a Baby Boar to crash into the tree.

Ymir Forest is located on the southeastern continent of Tethe'alla.

Using the Sorcerer's Ring on a tree stump calls a Baby Boar out of the forest. The animal smashes into any nearby tree or rock for various purposes.

A chest hidden behind the tree near the Sorcerer's Ring device contains a Resist Ring.

Items

- Resist Ring
- Solar Guard
- Gladius
- Maid's Hairband
- Blue Seed
- Crystal Shell
- Ymir Fruit
- Metal Sphere
- White Seed

Monsters

- Baby Boar
- Boar
- Dodo
- Killer Bee
- Orcrot
- Storm Claw

A Crusty Old Chest

Head east and then south and examine the chest on the small islet. Climb onto the tree stump to the left and use the ring to make a Baby Boar crash into the chest. The chest can then be opened to obtain a Solar Guard.

Call a Baby Boar to smash the chest in the southeast corner of the first forest area.

The Distressed Child

Move west from the Sorcerer's Ring device and walk up the tree root to the higher walkway. Follow this into the north section of the forest. In the second area, continue moving north and descend the tree root. Head to the right, go north under the tree branch, and continue north to another tree root. Follow the upper path to the south, then head west to a small islet with a Memory Circle and a Maid's Hairband. From there, go north to encounter a youth that refuses to let you pass until you bring him an Ymir Fruit.

The child at the forest's exit needs you to obtain an Ymir Fruit.

A Blue Seed

Backtrack to the first area, and this time follow the east path north. There are two forks to the left. Take the first left to find a boulder and a tree stump with a pink flower. Climb on the tree stump and use the ring to weaken the boulder. Return to the main path, head north and take the second left. Lloyd observes the giant fish in the water. Go back to the previous area. Follow the path east until Lloyd notices a "blue thing" in the tree. Climb the nearby stump and use the Sorcerer's Ring to activate the pink flower. A Baby Boar charges and knocks the Blue Seed out of the tree.

To remove this boulder, Baby Boars must eventually strike it from both sides.

Search behind the tree where Lloyd obtains the Blue Seed to find a hidden Crystal Shell.

Gardening

Go back to the location of the Sorcerer's Ring device. Examine the small garden to the left, and plant the Blue Seed in the ground. Blue flowers grow in the water near several lily pads throughout the forest. Use the west paths to head north to the area where the child waits. Descend the tree root, and then move to the left end of the walkway and jump onto the lily pad. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to call upon a small fish, which pushes a floating treasure chest over to the islet where the Memory Circle is located. Open the chest to obtain the White Seed. Return to the forest entrance and plant the White Seed in the ground near the Sorcerer's Ring device. White flowers grow upon several tree branches throughout the forest.

Calling Upon Feathered Friends

Move east and ascend the tree root to the upper walkway. Jump from the path to the tree branch where the white flowers grew, and use the Sorcerer's Ring. A bird carries the party to a branch in another area. Push the crate into the water below, and then use the Sorcerer's Ring to return. From the entry area, follow the east path to the north section and navigate to the northeast corner of the area. The crate completes the path to a small islet. Climb onto the stump and use the Sorcerer's Ring to drop the Ymir Fruit into the water.

Use the Sorcerer's Ring while standing on this tree branch to summon a hawk, which carries you to a previously unreachable area.

Push this crate off the branch to create a path in the water below.

Navigate through the forest to this islet and use the Sorcerer's Ring to knock the Ymir Fruit out of the tree. Now to make it reachable...

Puzzle Solution: Ymir Forest Fruit Guidance

The next several steps describe how to command fish to carry the Ymir Fruit to a point where the party can obtain it.

1. Navigate to the nearby islet just southwest of the one you stand upon. Climb the stump and use the Sorcerer's Ring to knock a worm out of the tree. A large fish swims up and begins eating it.

2. Navigate southeast to the islet where the Blue Seed was obtained, and then move to the north end of the walkway and jump onto the lily pad. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to summon a small fish, which carries the Ymir Fruit past the distracted large fish.

3. Move to the islet near the point where the fish left the fruit, climb the stump and use the Sorcerer's Ring to knock several worms out of the tree. The waves push the Ymir Fruit south.

4. Head to the center of the area and jump onto the lily pad partially obscured by a tree trunk. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to call a small fish. The fish pushes the Ymir Fruit into the next area.

5. Before following the fruit, navigate to the top of the area and jump to the tree branch where the white flower grows. Use the Sorcerer's Ring to call a bird that carries you to a small islet behind the boulder.

6. Climb the stump and use the Sorcerer's Ring to call a Baby Boar. Attacking the boulder from both sides shatters it, creating a passage through the water.

7. Call a bird to carry you back to the tree branch and head west to the area where Lloyd observed the big fish. Jump on the lily pad and call a small fish to push the Ymir Fruit through the area.

8. Navigate back to the forest entrance. Jump on the lily pad to the left of the Sorcerer's Ring device and call a small fish to push the Ymir Fruit toward a nearby lily pad.

Jump onto the lily pad behind the Sorcerer's Ring device and scoop the Ymir Fruit from the water. The boy rewards your efforts with a Metal Sphere.

Half-Elf Discrimination

Raine and Genis must leave the party each time you enter the village. The weapons, customization and armor shops are in the building to the left, and the building to the right houses the Katz Exploration Team and the item shop. The inn is the building across the small creek. The fee is a very reasonable 200 Gald per night. A dog is playing in the enclosed yard to the left of the inn. For Colette to name the dog, you must find the space under the porch and navigate under the building to the side yard.

Meeting with the Elder

Proceed northwest to the next area of the village and cross the creek to the house at the top of the village. Enter the building and speak to the man inside, the village elder. He directs the party to Latheon Gorge and gives them his Elf Elder's Staff. Enter the back bedroom of the Elder's house and examine the painting of the Wonder Chef to find... none other than the Wonder Chef himself! He teaches the party how to cook Cream Stew, and provides the ingredients Milk, Onion and Carrot.

To reach the dog playing behind the west house, find the space under the Elder's house and cross the small bridge. Return to the entrance and speak with Raine and Genis. Use the quick jump function to skip Ymir Forest and return to the field map.

The Wonder Chef is hiding in the bedroom of the Elder's House.

Light as a Bubble

Change the function of the Sorcerer's Ring. Using the ring creates a bubble around the onscreen character. Stand in front of healthy plants that emit air and use the ring to drift from one ledge to another. Head east and ascend the ledge. Stand in front of the flower and press the X Button with the right timing to get blown across to the west ledge. The plant on the northwest ledge is unhealthy. Head up the trail and pick a Kirima from the fruit tree. Examine the plant and feed it a Kirima to revive it. Float to the south ledge, then head east and cross the bridge to the next area.

Latheon Gorge is located southeast of the Ymir Forest. Enter via this trail etched into the mountain range.

Use the Sorcerer's Ring to encase the character in a bubble. When done in front of active plants, the gusts of wind emitted carry you from one ledge to the next.

The Second Area

In the second area, head east up the slope and take a Kirima from the tree. Feed it to the dead plant on the nearby ledge to revive it. Since the plant is too close to the ledge, move to the south side of the area and stand in front of the plant that is blowing north. The revived plant makes a course correction and blows you to the north ledge. Take some Amangos from the tree at the top. Amangos kill the plants.

The blue chest on the ledge in the southwest corner in this area contains the Devil's Arm Diablos. The Nebilim Key is required to open it.

The plants in this area work together to transport you to the top ledge.

Pick Amangos from trees with purple fruit and take them to the next area, where some plants must be made to stop emitting wind.

Third Region

On the west ledge are two large flowers that blow the character much farther than the normal sized blooms. The northernmost one carries the character to a tiny island near the waterfall. At the waterfall, stand in front of the top flower and use the Sorcerer's Ring to drift under the falls. Open the chest behind the cascade to obtain a Star Cap. Drift back to the islet, and then use the south flower to reach a ledge with a chest containing a Rare Shield. Allow the large flower on this same ledge to blow you back to the second area.

Return to the third area and revive both dead plants. Stand in front of the northeast plant and use the ring. Working in combination, three of the plants in the area should blow you to the upper ledge. Collect the Flare Greaves and Toroid weapons. Be sure to revive the plant at the top of the path, or you will regret it later. Go to the plant near the lower ledge and drift to the southwest hill. Use the large flower on the southwestern hill to drift to the next area.

Three of the plants in the third area must work together to lift you to the top ledge.

The Fun is Just Beginning

Before doing anything else, move onto the southwest slope and use a Kirima to revive the flower facing south. Use the Sorcerer's Ring, and the plant blows you over the edge to a ledge in the first area. Open the chest on this ledge to obtain an EX Gem Lv4. Drop to the lower level, and then navigate back through the gorge to the fourth area. Move onto the southeast hill and drift to the northwest ledge. Feed Amango to the plant that is blowing southeast to kill it. Then drift south and kill the plant on the southeast rise.

Revive the remaining plant on the southwest hill, and drift to the northeast ledge. Ascend the slope and revive the plant that blows upward. Stand before the top plant and use the Sorcerer's Ring. The plants work in combination to raise the party to the ledge high above.

Feed Amango to this plant as well. Now the southwest flower can carry you all the way to the northeast ledge.

Cliff Drifting

Drift westward to the next ledge, then stand in front of the large plant and use the ring to fly in front of the waterfall to the other side. Use the ring to drift to the right. If you revived the plant that blows upward from the second area, then gusts from the two flowers shall raise you to the ledge on the right. Revive the dead flower on the ledge. Drift to the next cliff on the left. Revive the dead flower and enter the cave.

The chest just inside the cave contains a Fake. Defeat the monster to obtain an Elixir. Leave the cavern via the southwest exit. Revive the flower on the ledge and drift to the next ledge. The large flower should blow you to the ledge above the cave on the opposite side of the falls, if you revived the plant below. Drift to the right, and the plants below should carry you up to the highest ledge.

The plant in the area below must be active in order to carry you up to this ledge.

Float from cliff to cliff to reach this cave. Revive the dead flower before entering.

The slug enemy just below the chest containing a Draupnir leaves behind a Memory Gem when defeated.

The Cave Under the Falls

Follow the path to the top of the hill and revive the plants on either side of the bridge. Use the Sorcerer's Ring in front of the east plant to be blown to a rock high overhead. The rock falls into the stream, separating the waterfall. Head southeast from the shack to find a Battle Pick for Presea. Use the Memory Circle, and then enter the shack. Before speaking to the old man, examine the toy bunny in the back doorway to unveil the Wonder Chef. The recipe of the day is Pescatore, and includes the ingredients Pasta, Tomato and any fish. Speak to the Storyteller. He leads the party outside and opens the wooden gate. Descend the slope and use the flower to reach the cave behind the waterfall.

Revive all the plants around the waterfall, then float upward to knock a rock loose.

The toy bunny at the back of the Storyteller's home is yet another hiding spot of the confounding Wonder Chef.

After losing roughly half its HP, the Plantix starts emitting swarms of insects that seek out and damage the characters. Strangely, characters at extremely close range to the boss have a strong chance of being unaffected. For this reason, the battle goes much more smoothly if you employ all melee-type characters, such as Lloyd, Zelos, Regal and Presea. Be careful to take this battle slowly. You can't execute a successful Unison Attack on Plantix until it loses half of its HP. Once its flower head opens (revealing a skull inside), begin blasting it with Unison Attacks!

Storyteller's Tale

The party obtains the Mana Leaf Herb after the boss fight. After a mandatory skit, the party returns automatically to the Storyteller's hut. Go inside and speak with him again to learn the whole inside story.

The Storyteller has a few more words to say. Quite a few more!

If you missed your chance at Toize Valley, keep battling enemies until you encounter one of these. Use the opportunity wisely, since the Bacura disappears after only a few minutes! Enter the SE Abbey and enter the room between the Cardinal Knights. Speak to Seles in the upstairs room to obtain Zelos' Cruxis Crystal. A large quantity of new Side Quests and Sub Events are now available. Turn to the Appendices for further information.

In addition to his familiar Techs, Kratos now employs myriad Light spells, such as the devastating Judgement. He employs the same devastating S. Lightning Blade attack as before, so use Guardian and other Defense Techs to lessen the damage. Once again the game continues even if you cannot defeat Kratos.

City of Angels

Push the crates off of the warp ring. Warp back to the prison to rejoin the party. Colette uses her wings to appear to be an angel, eliminating encounters in Welgaia. Speak to all the angels in Welgaia to learn plenty of information regarding Cruxis. Enter the door to the right of the moving walkway. In the corridor, go left and enter the door. Use Nebilim's Key to unlock the dark chest and obtain Apocalypse. Though there is an elevator in the building there is nothing of interest on any other floor. Exit the building and go through the east door in the patio area. Speak to the angel to obtain a Mana Fragment.

Rearrange the blocks to clear the warp ring out of the prison area.

A Devil's Arm is locked in the north building of the patio area.

Escape from Welgaia

Follow the moving walkway to the teleport pad. The angel refuses to let the party on the pad, so continue heading east. On the back wall of the hangar are three refresher machines. Use the elevators to reach them. The first two restore the party like a full night's rest. The third is a vending machine where you may purchase items. Examine the machine behind the third lift to activate the emergency escape warp point. The machine behind the fourth lift provides information on all of Derris-Kharlan's and Cruxis' inner workings. Descend the stairs and ride the platform to the emergency exit. The party escapes back into the Tower of Salvation.

Use the refresher and vending machines to restock the party.

Use the second machine from the right to activate the escape route.

Opening the Blue Doors

Return to the anti-gravity room and float to the western doorway. Head south in the corridor to obtain a Rare Guard. Head up the stairs to the central corridor. Go north and downstairs to find two chests containing a Laser Blade and a Nagazuki. Continue upward in the same corridor to find the control panel that opens all blue doors in the tower.

Return to the stairs, and go straight through the next room. Continue down the corridor until you reach a chest that contains a Holy Robe, and then continue downward to the doorway nearby. Move toward the left side of your screen, then head north through the open blue door to obtain Regal's Dragon Fang weapon from a chest. Exit the room, go left to an EX Gem Lv3, and head upstairs.

Multiple Levels in the Anti-Gravity Chamber

Return to the anti-gravity room. This time, work your way to the lift on the west side of the room. Ride it up to the next level. Maneuver to the top of this new weightless room and go through the doorway. Head east in the corridor until you find a chest containing Energy Tablets. Then navigate south in the corridor. Return to the anti-gravity chamber, and this time float to the south lift in the room. This lift takes you to the first weightless room. Glide directly west to the next lift, and take it down to an all-new anti-gravity room.

Glide across the room to the east doorway, and enter the octagonal room. Grab the Holy Circlet, then examine the glowing blue light to obtain the Elevator Key. Ride the lift up to the first anti-gravity room. Float to the west door and return to the corridor. Head upstairs and go northeast to the room where the elevator lies. Examine the panel with the blue light to use the Elevator Key and activate the lift.

Use the Elevator Key to unlock the elevator door in the corridor near the starting point.

Trapped Inside Salvation

Use the Memory Circle and descend the stairs. Grab the EX Gem Lv3 from the chest and continue in the same direction around the corner. Go downstairs. Navigate down the hall and enter the first door on the character's left. Lloyd steps into a room without gravity. This area is just like the frozen lake in the Temple of Ice. Once you begin to move in any direction, you will not stop until you touch a wall or an obstacle. Float across the room to the doorway in the east wall. Snatch the EX Gem Lv4 in the tiny control room, and then examine the control panel with the red light. All of the red gates within the facility open.

Zero gravity is just like ice-skating. Use the obstacles in the room to navigate toward the east doorway.

Use this path to reach the north doorway in the upper anti-gravity chamber.

Follow the path outlined for the lowest anti-gravity chamber to reach the control room where the Elevator Key is located.

While waiting for the party to return, agree to go for a walk with Colette to view an extra scene. Colette gives Lloyd the Snow Hare. The Hailstorm weapon shop in Flanoir now sells much better equipment. The clerk also performs customizations. Another large quantity of side quests and sub events are now available. Two Angel Swordians bearing 8000 HP each flank the Gatekeeper. Defeat the minions so that the entire party concentrates on the boss. The Gatekeeper reduces the damage from all physical attacks by half, so make sure that Genis pours on the magic Techs. If the Gatekeeper goes into Over Limit, it tends to go a little wacky with the sword attacks. Use Defense Techs to defend yourself until the effect subsides, and then continue. This battle should be over before you blink!

All-Access to Cruxis

Attempt to reenter the tower. Yuan leads the party to a secret entrance with two refresher machines. Both offer the same items for sale. Use the warp ring to return to the platform where Yggdrasill was previously encountered. Now there is a lesser enemy to fight.

Use the refreshers in the secret passage to stock up before proceeding.

HOW HAVE YOU BEEN TREATING PEOPLE?

IF YOU HAVE A POOR RELATIONSHIP WITH A PARTICULAR MEMBER OF YOUR PARTY, YOU MAY FIND YOURSELF IN A LIFE OR DEATH STRUGGLE WITH HIM OR HER MOMENTARILY. RELATIONSHIPS ARE DETERMINED BY THE RESPONSES YOU'VE GIVEN AT CERTAIN POINTS IN THE GAME, AND AT THE SKIT POINTS SCATTERED ACROSS THE SYLVARANT AND TETHE'ALLA FIELD MAPS. AS IN MOST BOSS FIGHTS AGAINST OTHER PARTY MEMBERS, DEFEND AND ATTACK TO ALLOW SPELL CASTERS TIME TO ATTACK THE ENEMY FROM ALL SIDES, AND YOU SHOULD MAKE IT THROUGH FINE.

Unbalanced Bridge

Use the Memory Circle near the entry point, then head through the nearby intersection and use the Sorcerer's Ring to blast away the debris blocking the corridor. Jump to the middle platform. The destroyed central bridge acts like a teeter-totter, dropping the party to the lower level. Use the stairs near the back wall to return to the middle level, and jump on the teeter-totter again. Run to the east side of the room, and jump off on the lower level.

The bridge requires a balance, so that the party may reach the exit.

As you run across the bridge east, the platform tilts toward the lower level.

Navigating to the Upper Level

Head southeast in the corridor. When you reach a wide passage, burn away the plant roots with the Sorcerer's Ring. Open the three treasure chests to obtain new weapons, and then continue southwest to the next corridor. Ascend the stairs and burn away another tree root with the Sorcerer's Ring. Emerging into a room, head south to find a treasure chest containing a Heavenly Robe.

Head northeast in the same area and burn away a tree root to reach a chest containing Energy Tablets. Continue southeast down a wide passage. Turn north and burn away a tree root to access a room containing an EX Gem Lv4 and a Star Mail. Navigate southwest to the end of the corridor.

Burn away these tree roots to reach two items.

A Suitable Counterbalance

Stand at the edge of the balcony near the boulder tangled in the tree roots. Shoot the Sorcerer's Ring three times to burn away the roots and drop the boulder onto the teetering bridge below. Head back through the long corridor to the stairs. Move to the bottom of the room below and use the switch to open the door. Descend the stairs at the back of the room with the giant tree trunk and jump onto the bridge. As you run across the bridge to the right, the boulder balances your weight so that you may reach the middle level on the east side of the room. Head upstairs and use the warp ring on the top level to proceed.

Use the Sorcerer's Ring to free the gigantic boulder from the tree roots, dropping it onto the bridge below.

An Administrative Sacrifice

Use the Memory Circle. Before stepping onto the nearby warp ring, head southwest and northeast to obtain items from treasure chests. There is also a refresher that sells items in the south portion of the area.

Obtain items from the upper and lower portions of the room before warping to the next area.

Heroic Acts and Diamond-like Rooms

Navigate through the diamond-shaped area until you find a Star Helm and a Memory Circle. Then follow the path as it spirals inward to a warp ring. After a few events, navigate around the outside of the diamond-shaped room until you spot an opening, then move inward to find a partially hidden chest containing a Star Shield. Continue moving around the outside of the diamond-shaped room, and follow the next opening to a Memory Circle. Save your game, then return to the outer path and follow it to a warp ring.

Treasure chests throughout this stage are tucked behind debris that almost obscures your view of the chest.

Return to the Great Seal

In the next diamond-shaped area after Presea's event, explore to find three items and a Memory Circle, then find a route to the eastern corner and the warp ring to continue. At the intersection of the next room, be sure to head left and then right to obtain items before heading down the north passage, or traumatic events cause you to miss out! In the final diamond-shaped area, head southeast and work your way inward to a chest containing an EX Gem Lv4. Then head to the north corner of the area to find a Memory Circle. From there, go southwest and then inward to find a Spirit Bottle partially obscured by debris. Find the warp ring at the east corner of the area. After Lloyd crosses a long bridge, use the Memory Circle and then examine the blade stuck in the wall to find a hidden door.

Pronyma's weakness to Light magic makes her a prime target for spells cast by Raine. Unfortunately, her sidekicks take great pleasure at interrupting spell casters. Destroy the two Iduns as fast as possible, while trying to keep everyone alive with items at the same time. Once the side kicks are gone, keep Pronyma occupied by striking her with physical blows, and command Raine to cast her most powerful Light spells. When rearranging your party before the battle, be sure to include Sheena and command her to summon Luna.

This Tech alone should finish off Cruxis' dark mistress quickly.

Now comes the battle you have either been waiting for—or dreading. This time, Yggdrasil must be defeated! When you have a chance to rearrange the party, be sure to include Lloyd, Genis, Raine and Sheena. Command Sheena to summon Shadow. Yggdrasil makes magic casting difficult by warping suddenly to any position in the room and striking with powerful wide area Light spells. Command Sheena to cast T. Seal: Darkness on her own weapons as well as Lloyd's, and smack this evil jerk with everything you've got. If the going gets rough, don't hesitate to stand back and pop Energy Tablets, a Spirit Bottle, or even an Elixir to help the party keep going strong to outlast the lord of Cruxis.

Pensive Hours

Return to Ymir Forest and quick jump to Heimdall. Speak to the other party members hanging out in various places around the elf village. When finished, speak to Colette near the inn and agree to go to bed. Head north and speak to the Elder. Then speak with the watchman to enter Torent Forest.

Speak to Colette outside the inn when you are prepared to proceed.

Furry Guide

Upon entering the forest, a merry little critter is seen hopping into a stump. First search the area fully, without leaving, to find the first two items. Then move to the tree trunk and fire the Sorcerer's Ring into the hole to drive the animal out. Follow it into the next area. If you try to leave the area through an exit other than the one used by the tree stump animal, you will reenter the exact same area from the other side.

Proceed to the next area and fire the Sorcerer's Ring into the tree stump to drive out the furry animal. Grab two items in this area and then follow it east into the next area.

Gold Dragon of Torent

In the third area, head east past the shallow pond and then move north-east. The Gold Dragon hangs out in this area. Defeat the monster for a nice EXP boost. Continue heading east from the Gold Dragon's position to find a tree stump. Fire into the stump to drive out the animal, then follow it up the middle path of the area.

Defeat the enemy just north of the pond to obtain a Memory Gem.

Save Before Proceeding

Keep going east in the next area, and use a Memory Gem to unseal the memory circle. Search this same area for six items, including the two hidden behind the waterfall. Follow the south-east path to a tree stump. Fire into the stump to drive out the little guy, and chase it into the next area. Head north through the next section and go right at the top path. Fire into the stump to send the animal scurrying into the next area.

Two items are tucked behind the waterfall in the fourth area.

The only way Lloyd can win against Kratos in this insane one-on-one duel is to attack conservatively. Use normal combos, adding one or two Techs at the end only if Kratos starts to stagger. Give Kratos his turn, and reduce damage by defending. If Kratos attempts to use Grave, use Lloyd's Guardian Defense Tech to nullify damage. Use Lemon Gels to heal Lloyd, and try not to let him drop below 1000 HP. After half his HP is gone, Kratos combines Grave Techs with combos and Thunder Blade spells that seem to take no time to cast.

Have Sheena cast any form of T.Seal or S.Seal on the weapons of melee fighters in the group such as Lloyd or Presea, and also try to give her room to summon any Summon Spirit. When Origin begins a "Thunder Arrow" attack, drop everything you are doing and run away. This attack affects a wide area around the target, and damages each afflicted person by more than 1500 HP. With four arms and four weapons he has an extremely high offense, so make Raine cast Barrier or Field Barrier on the party to compensate. Strike a Unison Attack early on in the battle, and use a few Taunts to help refill the gauge. You should be able to refill it just in time to finish off Origin.

The Toppling Tower

The party races back to Heimdall. The villagers remaining must be saved in order to continue. Head north past the windmill and help the person stuck under the rock. Head to the shopping area. After Lloyd saves two more elves, return to the Elder's house and convince the village chief to leave. Now head for the entrance of Heimdall.

Save the villagers remaining in Heimdall before leaving.

Forging the Material Blade

Fly the Rheairds to Sylvarant, and land at Dirk's House. Lloyd acquires the Material Blade and the Eternal Ring.

Return to Dirk's House in Sylvarant to forge the Material Blade.

Warping Back to Tethe'alla

Numerous side quests and sub events throughout both worlds are now available for the first time. The function of the castle's entry warp ring can be changed so that the party may warp back to the Tower of Salvation without having to retread Derris-Kharlan. Go through the east doorway in the castle and defeat the stationary angel enemy on the ground floor. A black treasure chest appears on the balcony high overhead.

To reach the chest, ascend the stairs and cross the catwalk high above the central room. In the western stairwell room, ascend to the highest level. Cross back through the Dark Dragon's chamber to the upper level of the east chamber. Open the chest to obtain the Future Stone. Return to the lower level of the Dark Dragon's room. The Future Stone automatically activates the red square in the central hall, and four boxes appear. Unfortunately, none of these boxes are useful until the Past Stone is acquired.

Cross through the Dark Dragon's room and go through the upper doorway on the west side of the room. Ascend the spiraling ramp and enter the fourth doorway. Defeat the stationary angel in the room to trigger the appearance of a black chest. Open the chest to obtain the Past Stone. Return to the Dark Dragon's room. The Past Stone reacts to the blue floor panel to create another warp point and four more colored boxes.

Push the black, dark blue, red and purple boxes onto the left warp ring, in that exact order. Each time you reach the suspended platform, push the boxes into the space between the rails to form a bridge. Finally, push the purple box across the bridge and drop it into the floor niche. Push the yellow, green, light blue and white boxes onto the east warp ring, in that order. Each time you reach the suspended platform, push the boxes into the space between the rails to form a bridge. Finally, push the white box across the bridge and drop it into the floor niche.

The center barrier on the suspended platform dissipates. Open the black chest to collect the Sacred Stone. Warp back to the entrance hall and examine the lower warp ring. The party can now warp back to the Tower of Salvation without backtracking through Derris-Kharlan.

Defeat the stationary angel in the lower east wing to make the black chest containing the Future Stone appear.

Defeat the stationary angel in the square sitting room high up in the northwest tower to obtain the Past Stone.

Push the boxes into the gap between the rails to form a bridge to the center.

Drop the white and purple boxes into the depressions to remove the center barriers. The Sacred Stone enables warping directly back to the Tower of Salvation.

Colette will not be as effective as other characters in this battle, so leave her out of the party. Be sure to include Raine, but make sure that her Strategy is set to Heal. Employment of Genis and Sheena is highly recommended as well. Several times throughout the battle, raise everyone's defense by casting Field Barrier, then assault Mithos constantly so that he will not interfere with magic casting. Attempt to summon any Summon Spirit except Luna, and use Sheena's T.Seal and S.Seal Techs to improve the damage of melee attacks. While we would like to say hold nothing back, the second battle is more intense. Try not to consume all of your items in the first battle, but use all the Panacea Bottles needed to cure status effects. Mithos' Judgement attacks are bound to KO a few characters. Raise them quickly with Life Bottles rather than letting Raine cast Resurrection, and use Lemon Gels occasionally in an effort to keep HP above 2000 on each character at all times.

REPLAY GAME BONUSES

REFERENCE ITEMS THAT DO NOT FIT EASILY INTO OTHER CHAPTERS ARE CONTAINED IN THIS SECTION.

Completing the game unlocks special bonuses that become available when starting a new game. After finishing a game, an option to save is presented. Save the game to a Memory Card. Game clear data is highlighted with a green “*.” To start a new game with benefits, select the “Continue” option at the title screen and load the save created.

When starting a new game with benefits, the player has the opportunity to spend Grade points accumulated in the previous game to purchase upgrades that take effect in the new game. Some upgrades actually allow you to carry over items and skills acquired in the previous game. These bonuses make replaying the game much easier or much harder, depending on the upgrades chosen. Completion of the game awards an additional 1000 Grade points for use in the shop. Even when completing a game as quickly as possible without extraneous leveling up, you should be able to accumulate another 300 – 500 Grade points. Be sure to purchase the option to increase Grade points earned in battle so even more options can be purchased after your next game!

SIDE QUESTS AND SUB-EVENTS

Throughout the game there are opportunities to trigger additional events. Many of these events can be beneficial in some way, such as obtaining new titles for certain characters or stocking up on a few items. In some cases, following a certain series of sub-events eventually takes on the scope of a full side quest. In this section, both types of bonus events are lumped together. Most sub-events are available in a first run-through of the game.

Some sub-events and side quests are only available when eight characters are in the party. For instance, every time Colette is kidnapped many side quests cannot be triggered. Additionally, sub-events and side quests occur in “seasons” during the game. This means that side quests and sub-events that are available early in the game may not be available once certain events transpire. Also, major events near the end of the game trigger new waves of side quests and sub-events to become available. While following the normal course of the game, be sure to refer to this section often to see what kinds of sub-events and side quests are available to participate in.

Colette's "Dog Lover" Title

Available: Whenever Colette is in the party and can speak

Whenever a dog is seen wandering near a town or a house of salvation, change the onscreen character to Colette and "speak" to the dog. Colette names the animal. However, during times when Colette loses her voice or her soul, she cannot name the dogs. When all dogs have been named, Colette receives the "Dog Lover" title. While the walkthrough touches on most dog locations, here is a complete list of the number of dogs in each area:

Iselia region House of Salvation: 1 dog

Sword Dancer

Available: From Ossa Trail

The Sword Dancer is an especially powerful boss looking for a worthy challenger. By defeating Sword Dancer in three locations during the game, some really cool accessories and Lloyd's most powerful weapon can be obtained. The Sword Dancer must be defeated in each place it appears. If too many events progress, the monster disappears and will not appear at the next location. The Sword Dancer appears as a stationary skull enemy, extremely dark in color. Speak to the skull and choose the "Fight" option to engage the monster. In all cases, the monster inflicts intense damage with its sword attacks. Use Defense Techs such as Guardian to lower damage, use items frequently to recover, and try to dodge its area-affecting spells. The Sword Dancer is weak against Light magics; keep this in mind when looking for tactics to defeat it.

The Sword Dancer first appears in the rear cave of the mine at Ossa Trail. It has 8888 HP, and your characters need to be levels 15 and higher to even think of taking it on. The monster leaves behind the Yata Mirror when defeated. The Sword Dancer disappears after Lloyd speaks with Colette at the mountaintop of Hima right before the party rides the dragons to the Tower of Salvation. (It's possible to leave Hima right before getting on the dragons.)

The Sword Dancer next appears in Gaoracchia Forest, just a few areas in from the entrance close to the Mizuho/Ozette part of the woodlands. His HP rises to 33,333, so avoid taking him on until the characters have attained quite a few more levels. Raine and Collete must be in the party for the boss to appear in the woods. The Sword Dancer disappears from Gaoracchia Forest after the party visits the Tower of Mana to defeat Luna and Aska. Following this confrontation, the creature drops the Yasakani Jewel.

The final appearance of the creature is in Iselia Forest after the party returns from the Tower of Salvation and Colette's illness is cured. The creature bears a maximum HP of 99,999, so take it on only after your characters have basically done everything outside of fighting the final boss. This time the monster bids you farewell and drops Lloyd's most powerful weapon, the Kusanagi Blade.

EB Mini-Game

Available: Izoold, whenever Genis is in the party.

Speak to the Katz near the docks to play Emotion Balloon. Memorize or jot down the emotion balloons associated with each direction on the +Control Pad. For each emotion balloon displayed by the Katz, respond by displaying the same one. If the Katz jumps for joy, push the L Button. If the Katz makes a crying motion, press the R Button. The prizes for each difficulty are:

Easy	10	5 Apple Gels
Normal	15	5 Life Bottles
Hard	30	5 Lemon Gels

Waitress Mini-Game

Available: From Palmacosta until Forcystus is defeated at the Iselia Human Ranch, any time Colette can speak.

Speak to the cook behind the counter in the cafeteria of Palmacosta Academy to engage in the waitress mini-game. Colette must serve lunch to several waves of customers. The customers approach the counter, order a dish, and then move to a seat. This mini-game challenges whether you can remember who ordered what dish, and in what quantities. Tell the orders to the cook, and deliver the food to the customers by speaking with them. Each wave of customers is harder than the last, as more customers begin ordering simultaneously. There are a few tricks to use to master this mini-game without straining your brain. As customers are ordering, quickly jot down their hair color and what they ordered. Another method is to record what the customers order, then quickly play back the segment to review. Several prizes are awarded for this mini-game.

If the party had spoken to Cacao with less than 1000 Gald, the cook then gives the party a free Palma Potion to give to the Impostor Chosen group. For the effort, Colette receives the title "Turbo Waitress." Also, 100 – 500 Gald is awarded based on how well the orders were served to the customers.

Practicing with Kratos

Available: From Palmacosta until Tower of Salvation in Sylvarant.

At an extremely late point in the game, the relationship between Lloyd and Kratos and Lloyd and Zelos is ranked based on answers given during dialog, the number of skit points viewed involving both characters, and whether or not Lloyd participated in four training events with Kratos. If Kratos is your highest relationship character, then you'll get extra scenes and skits near the end of the game if he's in your party. (Kratos can always join the party late in the game. Just reject the first three characters who knock on the door in Flanoir.) His rare figurine also becomes available for crafting. Here are the training events, and how to trigger them:

- At Palmacosta, speak to one of the guards in front of the Governor-General's building and agree to train.
- At Asgard, defeat the Windmaster and then stay an extra night in the Cool Breeze inn. The next morning, Kratos invites Lloyd to train.
- After the first quick trip to the Asgard Human Ranch, return to Luin. Following the camping scene, speak to the swordsman standing near the former weapon shop. Kratos reminds Lloyd to train.
- At Hima, speak to the dragon wrangler at the mountain summit. When the party splits up and the characters are standing around Hima, speak to Kratos twice to train.

Lousy Impostors!

Available: Palmacosta and afterward

The Impostor Chosen group can be encountered several times after the Palma Potion events in Palmacosta. Visit the following places in the following order to encounter the fakes several more times.

- After defeating Kvar at the Asgard Human Ranch, return to the stone altar at Asgard.
- Balacruf Mausoleum, to the left of the temple entrance.
- Luin, in front of the item shop during stage 10 of reconstruction, after the weapon shop reopens.
- Asgard, after clearing the Iselia Human Ranch stage.

Rebuilding Luin

Available: After curing Pietro in Hima

After obtaining Boltzman's Book and the Unicorn Horn, return to Hima and enter the second floor room at the inn. When Pietro is cured, he vows to return to Luin and help rebuild the town. The next time Luin is visited, Pietro stands near the east entrance. He asks for donations to help rebuild the town.

The town can be rebuilt in stages by contributing Gald until a certain amount is reached. Donating too much money is a waste, since only one stage can be reached at a time. For instance, if you donate 20,000 Gald right away, only 5000 is put toward the reconstruction and the rest just disappears, perhaps into some victim's relief fund that is never to be paid out.

After donating each amount, leave the town and return to view the changes. Donate according to the amounts specified in the following table, and eventually Luin returns to its former glory. Continue contributing even after that, and Luin can become the best town in the game, with a weapon shop that sells extremely powerful equipment!

Orienteering

Available: In Palmacosta after defeating Kilia.

After defeating Kilia in the government building of Palmacosta, a Palmacosta soldier takes a position near the canal in the public square outside the Governor-General's building. Speak to him to engage in Orienteering, which functions like classic "Scavenger Hunt." There are no prizes for this fun mini-game, except for the joy of a good challenge. Speak to the soldier a second time for a clue regarding the NPC or environmental object that represents the "checkpoint." Once you determine who the NPC is, find the person and speak to them. After finding all the people involved, the last person may ask a series of challenging questions to which you may not know the answers unless the game is already completed. The following NPCs may act as checkpoints:

The dog in the square
 The boy in the square or near the steamship
 The elderly woman standing in the garden near the square, who cannot hear very well
 The two guards in front of the Governor-General's building
 The rudder of the docked steamship
 The elderly man standing on the empty dock near the shops
 The man near the lighthouse (stand next to him for 10 seconds)
 The box of fish next to the food shop
 The man near the food shop claiming to be the "Wonder Chef"
 The flower pot on the windowsill on the exterior of the inn
 The person sleeping in the Martel Church
 The table inside the Palma Potion store
 The sandwich board outside the Palmacosta Academy cafeteria
 The blackboard in the first classroom on the second floor of the academy
 The hidden shop at the pier (Move between the boxes across from the weapon shop and continue inward until you reach a counter where a man claims his store will soon open—but it never does.)

Red Light/Green Light

Available: Grand Tethe'alla Bridge, whenever Genis is in the party.

Speak to Sea Katz in the second area of the Tethe'alla Bridge, when entering from the Meltokio side. Sea Katz challenges Genis to a game of Red Light/Green Light. Several other children participate as well. Whenever Sea Katz back is turned, move forward as quickly as possible. When Sea Katz finishes saying "Red Light" and turns around, stop moving. If Sea Katz spots movement, she sends the offending player to the line. While you are attempting to move forward, other children may attempt to cut you off. If two children touch, the second one in line is knocked a few steps backward. There are three levels of challenge. Complete all three levels and Genis is awarded the title "Strategist." Win all three levels of Red Light/Green Light again after using the Vinheim Key at Vinheim and Genis receives the One World kendama.

The trick to winning Red Light/Green Light is to press the A Button as rapidly as possible. Whenever Sea Katz starts to move, press the START/PAUSE button. The option to quit appears, but instead cancel back to the game. Even if Genis was moving forward, the movement is canceled. Avoiding contact with other children is easy if Genis starts from an outside lane position. If Genis starts the game in a central lane, navigate to the outer edge of the bridge and move upward.

The Mature Child

After reaching Ozette, move toward the item shop until Wells insults the party and flees. After defeating Rodyle at the Remote Island Human Ranch, return to Altamira and approach the gravestone in the first area to encounter Wells again. Presea obtains the title, "Mature Child."

The Devil's Arms

Available: In Flanoir, after finding Evil Eye at Toize Valley Mine. Party must have eight members to obtain all Devil's Arms.

In the Toize Valley Mine, the party discovers the cursed weapon Evil Eye among the debris of the Bacura that is crushed in the boulder trap. Following this discovery, head to the city of Flanoir on the snowy continent. Speak to Abyssion, the man sitting on the porch of the closed building across from the town entrance. He gives Lloyd the Nebilim twin blade and the Nebilim Key, and asks that you collect the other Devil's Arms and bring them to Flanoir. Find the rest at the following locations and then report back to Abyssion in Flanoir:

- Reenter Gaoracchia Forest from Mizuho or Ozette. Use the light beam function of the Sorcerer's Ring to burn away the vines covering the sealed chest. It contains the Fafnir.

- Use the secret passage at the Temple of Earth to return to the secret chamber where the Dragon roams. The Gnomelettes block the rear portion of the passage. The last Gnomelette is at Altessa's House. After convincing him to return to the Temple of Earth, the Gnomelettes leave the area. Unseal the dark blue chest in this area to obtain the Gates of Hell.

- Check into the hotel at Altamira and go to the casino/theater area at night. A man on the bridge is selling the Disaster for 1000 Gald.

- Once the party becomes able to fly the Rheairds between Tethe'alla and Sylvarant using the Renegade Bases in either world, return to Triet. Speak to the person near the shops and to the man standing near the oasis to learn about a scholar who lost a dark weapon in the desert. Head north from Triet toward a lone mountain. A special skit point appears on the west side of the mountain. When this is touched, the party must battle the Sand Worm. Defeat the monster to obtain the Soul Eater.

- While exploring Latheon Gorge, procure the Diablos from a treasure chest.

- In the angel city of Welgaia, obtain the Apocalypse from the room inside the tower.

- When the first eight weapons are located, speak to Abyssion in Flanoir. He leaves for the Temple of Darkness. Head to Hakonesia Peak and speak to Koton to obtain the Heart of Chaos.

After obtaining all nine, reenter the Temple of Darkness and meet Abyssion in the chamber where Sheena made a pact with Shadow. Abyssion transforms into an evil creature with 120,000 HP!

Defeating him is extremely tough. The battle is more manageable if an All-Divide is used to halve damage for both sides. At least this way, you will survive long enough to have a shot. Have Raine chain-cast heals, and bring 20 Life Bottles and Miracle Gels. Presea gains the title "Empty Soul."

Defeating Abyssion unlocks the true potential of the Devil's Arms. Although they start off as the weakest weapons, they can become the strongest. Every time a Devil's Arm is used to defeat a monster, it gains attack power even though the statistics do not change. The potential of these weapons is virtually unlimited, if you have the patience to improve them.

Treasure of the Dragon

Available: During and after Temple of Earth stage.

The Dragon roams the area near the location of the Gates of Hell weapon in the Temple of Earth, just inside what the Gnomelettes refer to as the secret passage. Though the amount of EXP gained for defeating the Dragon decreases as the party level increases, the amount of Gald received remains a staggering 10,000 Gald. The Dragon always gives 10,000 Gald plus any modifiers from Sephira, Blue Sephira, or Sheena's Money Bag. Defeat the Dragon as many times as you like to make this amount of money by exiting and reentering through the secret tunnel.

Presea's Childhood Friends

Available: After rescuing Colette from Rodyle.

These sub-events revolve around a few extra scenes involving Presea's past. Return to Meltokio and converse with Janet, the woman in the pink dress standing near the window in the house east of Zelos' house in Meltokio. Outside the house, continue the conversation when given the option.

Head to Sybak and speak to the researcher standing with his dog near the water's edge. When leaving the area, prod Presea into discussing the situation more. Return to Meltokio and speak to Janet again to conclude this series of events.

Joshua and Rosa

Available: After rescuing Colette from Rodyle.

Return to Sybak. A young man dressed in blue stands near the junk merchant in the bazaar area. Joshua gives Sheena the Pink Pearl Ring. Some time later, after clearing the Iselia Human Ranch stage, return to Altamira. While walking over the bridge toward the Elemental Railway, a young woman named Rosa stops the party and gives them 5,000 Gald to give to Joshua in Sybak. Return to Sybak as soon as possible and approach Joshua in the bazaar. He refuses to accept the money. Head to Meltokio and move a few feet down the street east of Zelos' house to encounter Rosa again. After learning a few facts concerning her situation, return to Sybak and tell Joshua the truth.

To conclude this little melodrama, return to Meltokio after the doctor event in Flanoir, and visit the slums. Joshua and Rosa greet the party, and the Pink Pearl Ring is returned to them.

Clara's Restoration

Available: After clearing the Remote Island Human Ranch.

Return to Izoold and visit the beach area. The party finally has a chance and the proper equipment to return Clara to human form.

The Uncle Game

Available: After clearing the Remote Island Human Ranch.

Speak to the man standing in the courtyard in front of Trier's inn to beta test a new mini-game being developed in the desert oasis town. Middle-aged men walk down the street. During the event, several of them are highlighted. When the men stop in a line, speak to the men that were specified, in the order they were shown. As the game progresses, the number of men highlighted increases. Again, you can use a VCR to record the sequence, then play it back before speaking to the men. Or, you can make notes regarding the hairstyle or hat worn by each man. After identifying 100 men, Lloyd receives the title "Midlife Crisis." Clear the game completely to receive 1980 Gald.

Raine's Mother

Available: After the party clears the Iselia Human Ranch.

Use the Rheards to locate the floating city of Exire, which can be found floating in the sky in one of three locations over the oceans of Tethe'alla. Proceed through the town and enter the first available building, a small stone structure on a raised area. Speak to the Elder inside the house. Then head all the way through the city until you find a lonely little hut on the next-to-last platform of the town. The woman across from the hut tells you not to enter. Inside is Raine's and Genis' mother, suffering from mental illness. After the scene, speak to the Elder outside and then return to the Elder's hut and receive Virginia's Diary. If you return to Virginia's Hut, she is gone.

Raine Collapses

Available: After Mithos returns to Altessa's House from the Sybak library.

Visit Altessa's House, where Raine collapses. Choose the option to follow them. Mithos takes Genis to Fooji Mountains, where Lloyd overhears the conversation. During the events, Genis obtains the title "Friend."

Rescue the Princess!

Available: After clearing Latheon Gorge.

Return to Meltokio and speak to Sebastian at Zelos' house. A soldier summons Zelos to the castle, where the King informs everyone that Princess Hilda has been kidnapped. After further events at the Grand Tethe'alla Bridge, confront the Pope at Gaoracchia Forest. Defeat the Papal Knights to rescue the Princess. Zelos obtains the title "Princess Guard."

Furthermore, after the doctor event at Flanoir, return to Meltokio and speak with Sebastian at Zelos' House. Enter the castle and Lloyd obtains the title "Nobleman." When this title is equipped, Lloyd changes into a formal attire costume!

The action shifts to the Meltokio ballroom. When the receptionist claims that Lloyd's companion is waiting, choose another member of the party to receive their formal dress title and attire. In the ballroom, the other party members should be dressed in formal wear. Speak to three of them, and each obtains their formal attire title.

The Masked Swordsman

Available: After Zelos speaks to Seles at SE Abbey.

Return to Meltokio and approach Zelos' house. Zelos hides his beautiful face behind a mask and obtains the title, "Masked Swordsman."

Klonoa Costume

Available: After clearing Latheon Gorge.

Enter the Lezareno Company HQ at Altamira and speak to George in the president's office. The company needs a new mascot, and Presea fits the costume. Presea obtains the "Dream Traveler" title. When this title is equipped, Presea dresses like Klonoa from the videogame of the same name.

Meltokio Coliseum

Available: After Zelos speaks to Seles at SE Abbey.

Enter the coliseum matches at Meltokio. Survive the Beginner's Class as any character, and a second person appears behind the counter in the lobby. Speak to this person to enter party matches, where three characters can participate simultaneously. Conquering Beginner's Class in the single tournament opens Intermediate, and winning Intermediate opens Advanced Class. Win Advanced Class as any individual character to obtain a title for that character. A set of gels is received after winning Beginner's Class (Defeating Intermediate Class gets you a set of stat-boosting herbs.) A Krona Symbol is obtained for winning Advanced Class.

After using the Vinheim Key in the final stage, return to the Coliseum and win Advanced Class with each individual character to obtain powerful weapons. Win Advanced Class twice as Zelos to fight Seles, and defeat her to win the Last Fencer sword and the Elemental Circlet.

Win Advanced Class with the party to obtain an Extreme Symbol. Afterward, a boss fight occurs against Tales series characters Garr, Farah Oersted and Meredy. Defeat this dangerous trio to obtain the Mumbane armor, the Star Cloak and a Krona Symbol.

Another Side Job for Colette

Genis Joins the Katz

Available: After the doctor event at Flanoir.

Enter the slum area of Meltokio. Follow the Katz to the rooftop to learn that a dying man wishes to speak to a Katz. Enter the item shop in Meltokio and speak to the Katz standing near the shelves to learn the sad truth.

Travel to Katz' Village, which is located on the island in the northwestern portion of Sylvarant. Speak to the Elder Katz on the highest platform in the village. Speak to Orochi outside the Chief's house in Mizuho to learn some startling news. After speaking to Orochi, speak to Tiga to get some additional news. Travel to the Temple of Lightning and return to the seal where Volt was summoned. After the scene, return to Mizuho to learn the Chief has awoken. Sheena obtains the title "Successor." Later in the game, use the Vinheim Key to enter the double doors in Vinheim to trigger the scene showing the party preparing for the final battle with Mithos. Then, go back to Mizuho and speak with the Chief to obtain the Kannazuki robe.

Beach Time!

Available: After the doctor event at Flanoir.

Enter Altamira and speak to the woman standing in front of the inn. Gather her four children who are "lost" in various areas of Altamira. Jo is standing at the far end of the beach, and Mary is at the concession stand, but will not go back until the other three daughters return. Beth is standing near the Elemental Railway docking point in the amusement park area. After speaking to her, return to the hotel and speak with the mother again. You have to go back to the amusement park and get after Beth to make her go back. Diana is standing near the signboard on level 2F of the hotel, but she will only respond if Zelos is the onscreen character. Once Jo, Beth and Diana have returned, go back to the beach and get Mary.

After gathering all the children, talk to the mother and enter the hotel and speak to either the manager at the smaller desk in the back of the lobby or the woman at the main desk. Lloyd obtains a swimsuit costume and the title "Beach Boy." When the manager says a friend is waiting, choose another character to receive their bathing suit costume and title. Two other characters also receive bathing suits and titles, determined by with whom Lloyd has the best relationships.

Hot Spring

Available: After the doctor event at Flanoir, Zelos is in the party.

Travel to the Hot Spring, which is located on the small island just north of the Temple of Earth in Tethe'alla. After the first scene, speak to the pastor again and choose the option, "Females." Colette, Sheena and Lloyd all obtain humorous titles.

The Shrine Maiden's Return

Available: After the doctor event at Flanoir, Zelos is in the party.

Return to Asgard and go to the stone stage area. After a series of events, Raine obtains the "Maiden" title, which gives her a new costume.

Darn that Aifread!

Available: After the doctor event at Flanoir, and Luin reaches the 11th stage of reconstruction.

After donating enough funds to restore Luin and continue its improvement to the next stage, head to the boat dock and speak to the man standing on the boat. This is the pirate Aifread, famous throughout Sylvarant. He bilks Lloyd out of 3000 Gald, then disappears. Now, leave town and re-enter.

Aifread reappears at the boat dock. Agree to Aifread's new contract, and Lloyd obtains the "Arggh, Me Hearties" title and a new costume. Aifread assigns Lloyd to look for a relic related to Spiritua.

Speak to the priests inside the House of Salvation near Asgard and Iselia, then visit the House of Salvation near Palmacosta's former location. Finally, head to the Thoda Island Sightseeing Boat Dock and speak to Auguste, who is standing on the dock. He gives Colette Spiritua's Ring.

Travel to Hima and speak to Aifread near the graveyard. If you accepted Lyla's Letter at Izoold, Aifread gives you Aifread's Letter. Take this to Lyla in Izoold to complete this series of events. Finally, speak to Max near his boat in the harbor to obtain Aifread's Hat, a strong armor for the head.

Secret of Noishe

Available: After obtaining the Elf Elder's Staff. (Until Heimdall is ruined - after the pact with Origin.)

Return to Heimdall and speak to the children to the right just inside the entrance to learn the truth about Noishe.

Meteor Storm Tech

Return to Heimdall and approach the two men arguing in the park in the east section of the first area. Genis obtains the devastating Meteor Storm tech and the "Mana Master" title.

Maxwell

Available: After obtaining the Derris Emblem.

Enter the floating city Exire. Move around the porch of the Elder's house and slip behind the building. Follow this secret passage around the back of the house to the left, descend the stairs and follow the over-extended path to a small graveyard. Equip each of the four members of the combat party with the Opal, Garnet, Aquamarine and the Ruby, then examine the lone grave marker in this area. The final summon spirit Maxwell appears. Defeat Maxwell to obtain the Turquoise, the ability to summon Birth, and the "Master Summoner" title for Sheena.

Corrine Returns

Available: After obtaining the Derris Emblem, dueled against Kuchinawa regardless of outcome.

Return to Iselia Village and view the skit titled, "Corrine is Calling Me." Continue to Martel Temple and revisit the chamber of the seal. Corrine reappears in a new form.

Regal's Master

Available: After obtaining the Derris Emblem.

Enter the castle at Meltokio and descend to the prison. Move down the left row of cells until Regal encounters an old convict. Regal is directed to the Hot Spring. At the Hot Spring area, move past the pastor near the gate and speak to old man Levin. Speak with Levin again when Regal reaches Lv 80 or masters all Techs. Levin awards Regal's growth with the most powerful greaves, Dynast.

Friend of Presea's Father

Available: After obtaining the Derris Emblem.

Enter Ozette and speak to Ralph, the man standing near the grave outside Presea's house. Speak to Ralph again when Presea has exceeded level 80 or learned all her Techs, and Ralph gives her the Gaia Cleaver.

Regal Bryant, Ultimate Chef

Available: After following Kratos to Heimdall after beating Pronyma and Yggdrasill.

Head to Meltokio and approach the two chefs to the left of the castle entrance. Regal learns the Beef Stew recipe from the Dark Chef, and earns the "God of the Kitchen" title and alternate costume. After Heimdall is destroyed, change the onscreen character to Regal and speak to the cooks at the Houses of Guidance in Tethe'alla and the cook near the windmill in Asgard to learn additional recipes.

Niflheim, The Underworld

Available: Procure the Sacred Stone from Vinheim.

174

Enter Sybak and examine the rear bookshelf of the library to find a mysterious book with a jewel on the cover. After speaking with the researcher, exit Sybak and head to Heimdall.

Speak with a green-haired elf near the destroyed windmill to learn how to destroy the Book of the Underworld. Head back to Sybak. Be sure to save your game at the inn before examining the book again.

After an urgent warning from Origin, the party enters Niflheim. There are three stages in Niflheim, each consisting of five levels with randomly generated floor plans. The party must clear level 15 and defeat the Living Armor boss to survive. Other unique monsters such as Medusa, Arch Demon and Hell Knight are also encountered in Niflheim.

Time is short in Niflheim. The amount of Soulfire displayed in the upper left corner of the screen constantly diminishes. When Soulfire reaches zero, the party is lost and the game ends. Soulfire increases whenever enemies are defeated or when the Sorcerer's Ring is used to light a brazier. However, using the Sorcerer's Ring lowers the Soulfire count by 10 points, so do not use it. Examine the braziers to receive various benefits, but keep in mind that Soulfire diminishes more rapidly after doing so. Also, a benefit or handicap becomes effective with each new floor the party reaches.

Shoot Sorcerer's Ring devices with the Sorcerer's Ring to create bridges to cover gaps. Navigate around levels until you find the warp ring to the next floor. On red levels, you must defeat all the enemies before the warp ring appears. Move quickly through the floors and defeat the final boss to destroy the Book of the Underworld.

Yuan's Ring

Available: After defeating Rodyle at the Remote Island Human Ranch.

The party is taken to Palmacosta and then on to the Sylvant Base. From there, fly to Hima and enter the town. The scene seems to show that Yuan is looking for something, but he eschews them. Go to the summit of the Mountains where you discover that Yuan is looking for a ring. Head to the Palmacosta Human Ranch after completing Lathion Gorge and speak with the Elven Storyteller. Lloyd finds Yuan there and gives him the ring.

FIGURINE BOOK

After defeating Kvar at the Asgard Human Ranch, speak to Harley in his workshop below Lina's House. Harley grants the Figurine Book to the party. Take this to Lloyd's dad Dirk at Dirk's House to begin the creation of figurines.

Figurines are made of pellets found in treasure chests and won by defeating certain enemies. There are four types of pellets: Pellets, Fine Pellets, Super Pellets and Rare Pellets. Rare Pellets are the hardest to obtain. Considering this, it may be impossible to create all figurines in a single game. Be sure to purchase the Figurines option in the Grade Shop when starting a replay game, so that your collection can grow from one game to the next.

Examine the stove in Dirk's House and choose the "Process Pellets" option to create figurines. Choose from the types of pellets in your possession, and enumerate the quantity of pellets to process for each type. If Rare Pellets are in your possession, list the quantity of Rare Pellets to process in addition. Rare Pellets cannot be processed alone. They can only be processed in combination with Pellets, Fine Pellets or Super Pellets.

Certain figures can only be processed using Rare Pellets, while others require one or two types of pellets processed simultaneously. In addition, some figurines do not become available until a certain part of the game. Like side quests detailed in the previous section, these portions of the game are called "Seasons." All 288 Figurines can be obtained in "Season 9," so, unless you want to, there's really no need to process pellets before that time.

Check the Figurine Book by using it in the Key Items screen of the menu after each processing session, to determine which figurines are available and how to create them. When all figurines are collected, speak to Harley in Asgard and Genis receives the title, "Figurine Collector."

Acknowledgements

The author wishes to greatly acknowledge the contributions of the following individuals, without whom completion of this guide would have been impossible: Thanks to Leigh Davis, for being open and willing to let me try new things in my writing whenever the idea strikes me. Very special thanks to Michael Owen, for capturing all the screenshots for the walkthrough, arranging them, and taking care of that major aspect of the book this time. Special thanks to Christian Sumner and Mike Degler for taking a sincere interest and fighting to make this book everything it could possibly be. Thanks especially to Tim Johns and Tara Samuels at Namco for answering so many of my ultra-specific questions, and a big thanks to Nao Higo at Namco for lending me his book. And last but hardly least, a very big thanks to my wife Laura for giving me the pep talks I needed to get through this project healthy and sane on what little sleep I took.
